FATHER WISSIL, NOTED MISSIONER, DEAD IN STATES

Was Pioneer of Redemptorists in Their Work in St. John—Succumbed to Paralysis

Word received this week, telling of the death of a priest well known in St. John some years ago, Rev. Father Joseph Wissil, C. S. R., caused much regret amongst a large number of Catholic people not only in St. John but throughout the Maritime Provinces and Newfoundland, where he was the first Redemptorist to conduct a mission. His death occurred suddenly in Wilkesboro, Pa., where he was giving a retreat. He succumbed to a stroke of paralysis.

He was the oldest priest in the Order of the Most Holy Redeemer in America, having reached his 82nd year. He was a pioneer in mission work. Had he lived until March of next year he would have been sixty years a priest, which is a record attained by few, particularly in the ranks of the Redemptorists where the duties of office are so exacting.

Father Wissil was a native of Bavaria but came to America when quite a young man. He was ordained by Bishop Neumann in 1853. He soon gave promise of being a valuable acquisition to the list of missionaries in the Redemptorist congregation, being recognized as an able and forceful speaker and having a personality which drew him to all with whom he came in contact. With some other missionaries he came to St. John in 1883 and conducted a most successful mission in the cathedral and later went to Nova Scotia and Newfoundland for the same purpose. During his stay in St. John he had been stationed in many places, having been for a time in all of the principal cities of the United States where there are Redemptorist houses, and for the last ten years had been in St. Peter's church, Philadelphia.

He was of the most prominent clergymen in the order to which he belonged and his advice was regarded with esteem in many matters. While of late years he had not gone out on missions he had been active in church work considering his advanced age. His name is known in almost all parts of the United States where Redemptorist missionaries have carried the Word of God, just as it is fondly recalled and his memory revered by those to whom he preached thirty years ago on his mission to St. John.

MORE EQUIPMENT AT COURTENAY BAY

Last Week Record One in Excavation Work But It Will be Surpassed

Before the work at East St. John is completed it is expected that some new records for excavation will have been established. Last week was the best that the Courtenay Construction Company have had yet on this contract, but they have not reached the high water mark yet. They are bringing in additional equipment including more locomotives, pile drivers, and cars, and this morning placed an order for four more cars of rails.

As the work opens up and gives them the room needed the additional equipment will be set at work and more men employed. From the present outlook when the job is going at full speed there is every indication that the management will set some new records to excavation history on this continent.

Rapid progress is necessary in order to complete the big job within the time limit and with the men in charge and the equipment at their disposal it looks as if there will be no doubt about the results.

A., a former master at Rothesay, is taking his work.

MARRIED IN CATHEDRAL

At the Cathedral of the Immaculate Conception this morning at six o'clock a very pretty wedding was solemnized when Rev. Dr. A. W. Mesban united in marriage Henry George McGillivray, son of John McGillivray, to Helen Marion, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Dowd. The bride, who was given away by her father, was prettily attired in a dress of cream silk with veil and orange blossoms and carried a white prayer book. Miss Gertrude, sister of the bride, acted as bridesmaid and wore a dress of pale blue marquisette with hat to match and also carried a white prayer book. The groom was supported by his brother Joseph. The groom's gift to the bride was a gold cross and chain; to the bridesmaid a set of gold cuff links.

After the ceremony a dainty wedding breakfast was served, after which Mr. and Mrs. McGillivray left by train for a trip to Montreal. The bride's travelling suit was of navy blue with hat to match. The escort in which the young people are held was shown by the many beautiful presents received. On their return Mr. and Mrs. McGillivray will reside at 28 Dolis street.

HEAVY RAIN.

St. John was visited last night by a very heavy rain storm, nearly one inch and a half falling between nine o'clock last night and three o'clock this morning. This morning the temperature took a decided drop, and the probabilities are for fine and somewhat cooler weather now.
