While the terrorized and screaming to escape, the dock itself, overbalanced by the weight of the ship, turned on its side and sank in 50 feet of water. A number of the negroes denied being guilty. thought that a number of persons must have perished.

> Until early this morning there were many inquiries at the station of the harbor police for relatives and friends who are supposed to have been on the Northfield, and who had not returned to their homes at a late hour last night. Capt. Johnson, of the Northfield, was arrested a few hours after the comsion, but he refused to make any statement about the collision. He was locked up on the charge of criminal negligence and held without bail. Capt. Frank Griffin, of the Mauch Chunk, went to his home in Jersey City last night. No effort was made to arrest him as officials of the Jersey Central railway promised that he would be produced in court to-day.

The divers stopped work at 6 o'clock and rested until 9 o'clock. At that time they started to go through all the cab-ins, the engine and fire rooms and other ompartments of the ferry boat in order make a thorough search. It is known that all of the crew got ashore in safety. The body of a boy ten years old was found floating in the East river this death to the Northfield collision, and the police recorded it as the first known Capt. Daniel Gully, of the tugboat Mutual, said this morning that many persons must have been drowned.
