The Begetting of the Holy Spirit--- The Anniversary of Pentecost

PASTOR C. T. RUSSELL'S DISCOURSE AT CHATTANOOGA CONVENTION

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., June 4.—The Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society's Convention here opened yesterday by an address of welcome from the old veteran, General A. P. Stewart. It will continue for two days more. Pastor C. T. Russell, president of the society, spoke yesterday, giving his evening discourse as follows:—

"And when the day of Pentecost was fully come, they (the disciples) were all with one accord in one place. . . . And they were all filled with the Holy Spirit."—Acts 2: 1, 4.

Today is approximately the anniversary of Pentecost. The word "Pentecost" signifies the fiftieth day. The fifty days began to count from the Jewish Passover sabbath, the fifteenth day of Nisan; seven times seven weeks (7x7=49) brought Pentecost, which the Jews celebrated year by year during their dispensation, but understood not the deep significance of the type.

I need scarcely remind you of the great transactions of that Pentecost day which followed our Lord's death and resurrection, and as you will remember the account of which our text is a portion. You recall that before leaving His followers our Lord informed them that a new dispensation was opening, and that although He had previously forbidden them to go to the Gentiles or Samaritans, they should understand that henceforth their message would be unrestricted to "him that hath an ear to hear," that their mission, their work, was to begin at Jerusalem, their work further that our Lord admonished the disciples that they were not yet equipped for the work of the new dispensation, and instructed them, saying, "Tarry ye at Jerusalem until ye be endued with power from on high." (Luke 24: 49.)

They were not waiting as sinners for power, for repentance, for they were already believers in the Lord Jesus accepted of him, and more than that they were already waiting for the doing of the Father's will. But, although every proper step on their part had been taken, they had not yet been acknowledged as members of the family of God, and they had not yet received the spirit of adoption into His family. They had left the house of Moses, the house of servants, and had attached themselves to Jesus, the Son of God, upon the whole members of the house of sons, this liberty or privilege having been accorded them (John 1: 12); but now they waited for the matter to become bona fide, actual.

"DIVERSE MANIFESTATIONS OF THE SAME SPIRIT."

The descent of the Holy Spirit upon our Lord Jesus at the time of His baptism, might have been no more than a manifestation that there is in the Lord's people today, when, becoming united to the Lord, they become partakers of His spirit and are adopted into His family. His baptism, however, was not only in the interest of the early church but in our interest also that our Lord marked this great and important transaction with wonderful outward manifestations—the cleaving tongues and flames of fire resting upon the heads of the disciples and possibly upon others, the rushing mighty wind filling the place where they were and causing some fainting, and the after miracles of the tongues and other gifts of the Spirit. All these attestations to the momentous significance of Pentecost were many well rejoice in. They impress upon us the importance of the great events which on that day had their beginning.

"What great events? We answer, in harmony with Peter's words, that the Father's evidences of His favor, and had made a portion of the merit of the same applicable to His people—to the household of faith—to all who would believe in and accept Him as their Saviour. These things were shown back in the Mosaic types; the High Priest, having slain the bullock, took its blood into the Most Holy and sprinkled it upon the mercy seat, to make atonement for His body (the under priests) and for His household (the household of Levi, which typifies the household of faith—all believers). As soon as the blood of the bullock was sprinkled upon the Mercy Seat, justice pronounced absolution of sins for the particular class for whom the blood was applied, and therefore, were in fellowship with God and in harmony with the blessings He had to dispense. Justice relinquished its claim and divine mercy accepted the consecrated ones as prospective members of the body of Christ—as sons of God. (2) The sending forth of the Holy Spirit marked the adoption of these into the family of God into spirit-relationship with the Lord Jesus Christ.

The Apostle Peter, explaining this matter, says that it typified that Christ was exalted to the right hand of God—that He had been received into the heavenly courts with glory and distinction as an overcomer, as one who had performed the Father's will, and to whom the high reward was given of being seated with the Father on His throne—the throne of the universe. The sending of the Holy Spirit upon His faithful followers was to be shown an attestation of all this and of their acceptance with the Father of it all that was performed by our Redeemer himself, which he finished at Calvary. In consequence of that sacrifice, we, His consecrated followers, are "accepted in the beloved," and privileged to die with Him as members of His body. It is to this end that the Pentecostal blessing of the Holy Spirit has been poured upon the church, and handmaidens of the Lord throughout this gospel age—to enable them to walk in the footsteps of their Lord, to present their bodies living sacrifices, holy, acceptable to God, and, inasmuch as members of the body of Christ and suffering in this present time, to be glorified as soon as the number is complete and the sufferings and testings accomplished.

According to the type on the completion of the church—the last member of the elect having made his calling and election sure, having finished his course with joy, having had fellowship with Christ in his death upon the cross, and second sacrifice of the atonement will be offered to justice. It is all Christ's offering, since we are nothing of ourselves, but have our entire standing before the Father reckoned as His, and as members of the body of Christ—a royal priesthood under the royal high priest. As the Father accepted first of all the atonement sacrifice and blessed our Lord and every man his brother, and the church, so, when the second sacrifice shall have been offered, we may be confident that the remaining portion of Joel's prophecy will have ample fulfillment—the Holy Spirit will be poured out upon all flesh.

DOES NOT IMPLY UNIVERSALISM.

As the Holy Spirit was poured upon the waiting believers by the Lord, so the Lord and those believers glorified with Him in His resurrection, and the Father's blessing or restitution, of knowledge of God and spiritual assistance, upon all mankind; and in full harmony with this is the statement of the prophet, respecting that great millennial period. "The knowledge of the Lord shall fill the whole earth as the waters cover the great deep, and they shall no more teach every man his neighbor, and every man his brother, saying, know the Lord, because all shall know Him from the least of them to the greatest of them, saith the Lord." This does not mean universal salvation, but a universal opportunity to receive "the gift of God, everlasting life," on condition of obedience. As the alternative of willful sin now incurred by the servants and handmaidens is a second death, so the alternative of disobedience to the Lord is a second death, and without it none of us could surely hope to fight a good fight against the devil, the world, and the adversary. Without it, we should be unable to comprehend the spiritual things, and consequently unable to grasp the blessings that are freely given unto us by the Father.

The servants and handmaidens of the Lord have needed the refreshment and guidance of the Holy Spirit throughout this gospel age, and without it none of us could surely hope to fight a good fight against the devil, the world, and the adversary. Without it, we should be unable to comprehend the spiritual things, and consequently unable to grasp the blessings that are freely given unto us by the Father.

"YE HAVE AN UNCTION FROM THE HOLY ONE, AND YE ALL KNOW IT."

Today, dear friends, as we call to mind the beginning of the age, and how its favor has extended down from that time to the present, let us rejoice before the Lord, giving thanks in Jesus' name, for the blessing of the Holy Spirit, which relationship which was there established between God and those who accepted Jesus as their Saviour, and who made consecration to Him as their service. Let us ever keep in mind that the benefits of this Pentecostal fellowship with God and anointing of His spirit are found in the sacrifice which was offered at Calvary, and in the Pentecostal blessings and favors which do not come until He had died and ascended on high, there to appear in the presence of God on our behalf, and to sprinkle the blood of atonement by which our sins are cancelled.

Correct thoughts respecting this subject will not only keep us very anxious to maintain our relationship with the Father and with the son, and in fellowship one with another as members of the anointed body of Christ, but will ever keep us humble and reverent before the Father, and will remind us that we are by nature children of wrath even as others, and require, even as the world, the forgiveness of sins through the merit of the sacrifice which was offered at Calvary, and that we receive the anointing of the spirit which will be gradually, more and more, transformed thereby in thought, word and deed. Meekness, patience, gentleness, and long suffering, will be gradually, more and more, apparent, however "crooked" the natural disposition may have been. And it is our blessed consolation that the Lord accepts our heart-desires in these regards, in lieu of actual perfection, which will not be possible until we gain our perfect resurrection bodies.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 22, 12.59 a. m.—The public, which has no idea that negotiations for an armistice are on foot, believes that a great battle in Manchuria is now beginning and official despatches from both sides bear out the idea that the Japanese have commenced their main advance, though as yet there have been no heavy collisions.

EDGEHILL SCHOOL.

Bishop Worrell Makes an Address.

Speeches Also by Dr. Courtney and Judge Longley—Presentations to Miss Lefroy.

WINDSOR, N. S., June 21.—After the presentation of prizes yesterday at Edgehill, President Hannah, in a felicitous address, complimented the students upon their excellent work, and regretted the departure of Miss Lefroy, who had done so much to bring the school up to its present high state of efficiency.

His Lordship Bishop Worrell spoke of the great pleasure it gave him to be present and warmly welcomed his predecessor, Rev. Dr. Courtney. It was a very pleasant surprise to be present on this happy occasion, and he hoped in the years to come he would be able to enjoy many such gatherings at Edgehill. There was always a cloud in our pleasures, and on this occasion he felt sure there was an unmistakable blot of cloud in losing Miss Lefroy, a loss not only to Windsor, but to the whole diocese. He spoke of her untiring efforts which have been blessed with success. His Lordship spoke also of the work done in moulding the girls in the true and right spirit, fitting them for every walk in life.

His Lordship spoke of the pure and unalloyed pleasure he had in being present and deeply regretted Miss Lefroy's departure. The motto for the school, "Fidelity," was a splendid one, and it is one quality more necessary than another to a successor, to God, faithfulness to one's conscience, faithfulness to those placed over us. It was not enough to begin by being faithful in that which is least, but to be faithful in that which is greater. Miss Lefroy's regret in saying goodbye would be more than offset by the joy she must experience at the end of her eight years' faithful charge. Dr. Courtney also spoke of his successor and of the golden opinions he is winning from those over whom he is leading. God bless his going out and his coming in. He also spoke in the highest terms of Miss Lefroy's successor, and also of the lady principal's beautiful and satisfactory report, which has just been read. Dr. Courtney also complimented Dr. Hannah upon the splendid work he is doing for King's College.

Hon. Mr. Justice Longley was also one of the speakers. He referred to the good work being done at Edgehill, and gave great thanks to Dr. Hind, the executive secretary, for his untiring efforts to make the school great, and also to Miss Lefroy, who had shown so much ability in the discharge of her duties, and so well supported by her staff of competent teachers. The hour being late, other friends who would have been listened to with great pleasure, were not called upon to speak. Never in the history of Edgehill has there been a larger and more representative as well as appreciative audience. The large assembly hall was crowded to the doors, and the concert in the subject of most favorable comment.

Before the breaking up of the school Miss Lefroy was presented with a gold band bracelet engraved with the motto, "Fidelity," and with the date, accompanied by an address, to which she responded. From the former pupils she received a silver cream pitcher and sugar bowl, and the staff remembered her with a leather travelling bag.

The pupils left for their homes this morning.
