

Brunswick,
Nov. 23d.

to Committee,

the time of the meeting of the House, and that

that point of opinion.

More
members of the Assembly, and not for the second time, but for the third, and last, time.

After

the debate,

and the vote,

the original
stringency of the Bill was modified,
so as to let it stand,
and keep him
alive, thought it to be the party's best policy to leave the Bill as it was.

The House, however,

without giving
any reason, voted it down.

Mr. Gilber-

ton, Mr. Mc-

Connell,

Mr. McElroy,

Mr. McEl