

WHOLE MEANS IS COLORED IN GERMAN

German newspapers have already wiped out British Army twice - League of Remembrance being formed in Belgium.

New York, Oct. 10.—That "deeking out the news" is much of a favorite indoor sport among German journalists at home as abroad is indicated by a despatch from Geneva published in La Metropole, of Antwerp, on September 21, copies of which reached New York yesterday.

"A reader of La Suisse has calculated that the Wolff Bureau in its news telegrams has already given the French less as $80,000 killed, wounded and captured. The Germans proudest to have captured 177 generals, 1,212 standards and 11,882 guns. According to this same agency the British army has already been twice destroyed.

"As to the Russians, the Germans say they have made eight hundred thousand prisoners, who have been taken to Berlin."

La Metropole then quotes the Hamburgische Correspondenz, which in its issue of September 12, it says, announced that the German army had taken a grand total of 250,000 prisoners of the allied armies. Of this number 85,000 were Frenchmen, 1,830 being officers; the Russian prisoners totalled 91,400, of whom 1,430 were officers; the Belgians totalled 30,200, 440 of whom were officers; the British prisoners were 7,350, with 160 of them officers. Outside of this the German account stated that two generals, two general-commandants and thirteen others were taken.

"One might ask," continues La Metropole, "by whom the German army are being fought; the Germans are true, however, have no sense of humor."

German Newspaper in Liege

In the city of Liege the Germans have established a newspaper, called in both German and French, Le Ami du Peuple, which translated means The Friend of the People. Against this sheet La Metropole minutes in most approved Belgian newspaper style. Some extracts from La Metropole's articles are worth translating.

"Fighting it impossible," says La Metropole, "to make any of the newspapers of Liege resume publication despite the shameful pressure placed upon them, the Prussians who dis-honor by their presence have hit upon a new combination. With the aid of the Volksfreund, of Aix-la-Chapelle, its managing editor, Herr Max Hoeder, to call this reptile by his right name—they have printed a bilingual edition of which we have received the first issue, dated September 16. The entire paper, four small pages, is composed of but eight badly printed articles.

"Herr Hoeder, who serves as affable interpreter for the barbarians, grossly insults our country in a related to the German people.

Calls Kaiser "Attila II."

"He touches the depths of his degradation by terming as noble emperor the savage beast whose real name is Attila II."

"The Enemy of the People reproduces" an article upon the commerce between Belgium and Germany before the war, in which the only point left untouched is that this commerce served above all to support in our midst a horde of traitors and spies.

"When we add," La Metropole closes, "that it is published in language which will make a sixty-year-old Belgian schoolboy blush with shame, we have said enough to make it understood that not a single Liege reads this ignominious sheet."

How the German military authorities collected a number of Albatians recruits for the French army is related in a despatch from Macon published in La Metropole. According to this article, when the Germans decided to call out the recruits of 1915 and 1916, the young Albatians liable to duty were gathered at Thann, in upper Alsace. There were nearly 8,000 of them there when the place was attacked by a French column.

After a short resistance the German troops began to retreat. The recruits were followed them, but many of the town the young men scattered in all directions, the greater part of them succeeded in reaching their homes. Most of them decided to enlist in the French army, and about 3,000 of them passed through Macon to two long trains, the youths being decorated by the women with garlands of flowers as they passed through the various towns on their way to France.

Million Dollar Mystery and two part Keystone Comedy afford pleasure to holiday crowds.

Ideal in every respect was the programme selected for "Thanksgiving Day" at the Unique Theatre. From half-past ten o'clock a steady stream of people sought entrance to the popular picture house and judging from the hearty manner in which such a merry enjoyable one.

Followers of The Million Dollar Mystery found much food for thought in the twelfth chapter of the serial. In "The Elusive Treasure Box," this deal in a direct manner with the possibilities for the solution of the mystery. The finding of the treasure at the bottom of the sea, its mysterious disappearance from the conspirators' den, and its more mysterious hiding by an unknown hand with the appearance of a new character in the story who bears a most remarkable likeness to the butler, and who also moves shrouded in a cloak of mystery add considerable interest to the story, and has a tendency to make one wonder what will happen next.

The laughing qualities the two-part Keystone farce, "The Alarm," too much cannot be said. It is without a doubt one of the best of this brand that has found its way to the screen of the Unique for many months. The funny contest between the firemen and police, the turn out of the fire department, with Patsy at the head, and the pillow fight that closes the picture are some things worth while, providing one goes into the theatre to laugh. The lumber trade of North America is a beautifully colored subject and lends variety to an excellent programme.

FALLING HAIR MEANS DANDRUFF IS ACTIVE

Save your hair! Get a 25 cent bottle of Danderine right now.

Thin, brittle, colorless and crazy hair is the outcome of a neglected scalp; of dandruff—that awful scurf. There is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff. It robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life; eventually producing a feverishness and itching which causes the hair roots to shrink, loosen and die—then the hair falls out fast. A little Danderine applied every time will surely tonify and save your hair.

Get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and after the first application your hair will take on that life, lustre and luxuriance which is its right name—it will become wavy and fluffy and have the appearance of abundance; and what will please you most will be after just a few weeks, when you will actually see hair growing all over the scalp.

SHOOTING FATALITIES IN BRITISH COLUMBIA

Vancouver, Oct. 12.—W. R. Arnold, general manager of the Dominion Trust Company, was killed today while putting away a rifle which he had been on shooting expedition. He was shot in the breast, and died instantly.

Mrs. Flora Nellie Merritt, was shot by her husband while both were out shooting yesterday. Jones carried his wife a mile to the home, but she died a few minutes after reaching home.

Man troops began to retreat. The recruits were followed them, but many of the town the young men scattered in all directions, the greater part of them succeeded in reaching their homes. Most of them decided to enlist in the French army, and about 3,000 of them passed through Macon to two long trains, the youths being decorated by the women with garlands of flowers as they passed through the various towns on their way to France.

Patriotic Belgians are organizing throughout their harassed country a "League of Remembrance," to instill in the hearts of all things German into the Belgian people. Evidence of this feeling of implacable anger against the German invaders was brought to this page in a direct appeal to the Belgian people to join this newly organized people to join this newly organized League of Remembrance.

Belgian editors and publishers are collaborating in the publishing of a book containing duly attested photographs and official documents relating to German atrocities in Belgium.

In order to give this publication the grave and definite character it should have," says La Metropole, "and to fasten in all Belgian hearts for the ages and ages to come a hatred for the German name, these photographs must be accompanied by the official text of the commission of inquiry upon the atrocities."

The "League of Remembrance," says La Metropole, will pledge itself to erect public monuments to the memory of those Belgians who died fighting for the defence of their country, and to place plaques on other memorials in all localities where crimes have been committed by the Germans or that have been devastated by them.

Neuralgia Settled in Her Days

No Relief From The Pain Until She Took "Fruit-a-lives"

Campbellville, Ont., May 5th, 1913. "I cannot speak too highly of 'Fruit-a-lives'. For over thirty years I have suffered from chronic Neuralgia and Constipation, experiencing untold agony. The Neuralgia settled in my lungs and I took bottles of medicine without relief. The doctor told me I would not get better until I was proved that the doctor was wrong by giving me quick relief and finally and completely curing me. It was not until I took 'Fruit-a-lives' that I was glad of this opportunity giving me relief from both ailments. A splendid remedy as 'Fruit-a-lives'."

CLEVER VAUDEVILLE AT LYRIC THEATRE

Jimmie Cowper and Ford and Myers please successive large audiences at popular house.

"Laugh and the world laughs with you," is a credo that Jimmie Cowper and Ford and Myers have made their own at all times to their credit. He has not much trouble in doing so, if one is to judge from the manner in which he created the most hilarious and funny picture in the "Lullaby" from Ermline.

Today the Imperial's first programme will be changed to the extent of introducing the remarkable four-reel picture story "One Wonderful Night" with Francis X. Bushman as the winner of the "Ladies' World" motion picture here, contest which he created. The picture here contains a very funny scene which has been prepared a remarkable production in every way.

New Talent with "One Wonderful Night" will make great show-Crowded yesterday.

The Imperial was holiday headquarters for a great many people yesterday and most everybody seemed to enjoy what was offered immensely. No doubt the chief enjoyment was in the playing of the superior little Russian musical act The Solomines. The musicians are children, boy and girl, whose art is enhanced by the added charm of youth and good nature. Few musical acts having played for the month in this city displayed the same splendid talent and good nature. Artistically both the children were splendid. Little Miss Solomina was a most talented violinist and was repeatedly secured for her various offerings, which included a fantasia on the "Protopol," a pretty little ballad entitled "The Violinist's Love" and popular airs. Master Solomino on the grand square piano was also very clever, his solo numbers being unexcelled.

Added interest was given in the Imperial's bill by the first appearance in this city of W. L. Cockburn, a Scotch performer of international repute. Mr. Cockburn, who is a true brow of Loch Auld Scotia, sang two songs, "Loch Auld Scotia" and "Annie Laurie," interspersing his singing numbers with some funny Scotch stories and a recitation of the history of his songs. The offering was unusually entertaining. Miss Miss Marie, who has on her program for her farewell week, sings the "Lullaby" from Ermline.

General service will be held at the house on Wednesday afternoon, Rev. N. Franchette preaching the funeral sermon, and interment will be at Hartland.

Boston, Oct. 12.—In one of the most sensational games ever played in the world's series, the Boston Braves defeated the Philadelphia Athletics.

For three hours and six minutes the two teams alternately led, tied, and forged ahead. In the score, the winning game that began in bright sunlight finally was won in deep twilight, with electric signs flashing outside the park, and the evening star glimmering overhead.

The Braves rushed joyously from the field, determined to clinch their championship title with a fourth victory tomorrow, while the Athletics, taciturn and grave, filed slowly out of the park.
