the improvements made by the province. In the meantime the judges' room should be papered and re-furnished and ventilated; and the condition of the barristers' room might be improved by a modest expenditure. Better ventilation for the court room was suggested.

The jury noticed with pleasure that with increased jail accommodation female prisoners can be removed from quarters close to those of male offenders.

Thty advised that the upper part of the dead house be converted into an office for jail turnkeys. The platform and railings between the court house and jail buildings are dangerous, they said, and require immediate attention.

The so-called fire escape on the Victoria school building, the jury said, is more intended as a means to permit firemen to enter the upper parts of the building than to enable the pupils of the school to make their escape in case of the boys Danasher and Sullivan, of Douglas avenue, has reached the light, resulting in the practical assurance that both lads are now a considerable distance from St. John.

Last Wednesday night the boys left town on Conductor Joseph Henderson's travelled as far as Fredericton Junction, dismounted and spent the remainder of the night sleeping in a culvert.

Thursday they determined not to go beyond Fredericton Junction, but return and attempted to pass through St. John in the endeavor to reach Halifax, and in this they have presumably succeeded.

They jumped the first return train passing through the Junction, which, when it readhed Westfield, Thursday evening, happened to make a considerable stay, and it was here that the boys were discovered in the mysterious disappear.
