anan had little trouble with the Trent offense.

Also shining for York was Dacbang with the hat trick. The sophomore forward is in his third year at York. Although satisfied with his own play, Dacbang is particularly excited about the squad's progress.

"The team is getting together well," said Dacbang. "We're not a bunch of superstars but when we play together our skill and team effort show through."

Coach Eric Willis was just as content with the team's play. "It was great that we scored in the second half as well as the first. The consistency of applied pressure was what made it count," he remarked.

Tony Oliver, one of the Yeomen's outstanding forwards, was not dressed for the game. When asked to comment, Coach Willis replied, "Let's keep that as a team issue."

Although Trent did not pose a great threat for York, the Yeomen realize that tougher tasks lie ahead.

"U of T have the size and skill that's hard to beat. We'll have to play the ball on the ground in order to succeed with them," Dacbang said.

The Yeomen's season is shaping up nicely. With a record above .500, York's soccer contingent is paving the way for a promising year. The Yeomen will test their record this Saturday when they play host to the Laurentian Voyageurs.

Schedule disadvantage men football team has some very talented players, and with a little maturing at the quarterback position it could be a contender. As Coach Wirkowski observed, "Right now, Brady is down and out, so I've got to encourage him. I can't get on his ass. Right now he's making typical freshman mistakes."

For the Yeomen, facing sixth place Guelph and third place Laurier in their two opening games appears to have been a decided disadvantage. But Wirkowski made no excuses.

"I'm not going to cry about that. Hell, everybody's got to play somebody at one time or another and unfortunately, we've had the tough part of our schedule early," he said.

The Yeomen will be looking for their first win when they travel to Waterloo to face the 0-3 Warriors on October 1.
