

foot, but was always bright - She was a wonderfully fine
 character, and without thought of self, and she had learnt submission
 to her father's will.
 We all saw such a change in her during her visit to England and a great sorrow in place, and doubtless I had completed her work in her, and like the Lord Jesus she learned obedience by the things which she suffered.
 Dear Lady for her we may indeed give thanks & try to learn of her - though we mourn her.

My dear Lady Tupper
 I do not like
 being the cause of
 sad tidings, but for
 were such a friend
 of dear Late Almira
 that I think you
 ought to know of the sad news cabled
 from Halifax - She passed away peacefully
 on Monday Morn'g. So
 the brief message
