

A decorative horizontal line with stylized moose antlers at both ends. The antlers are rendered in a woodcut or engraved style, showing the texture of the velvet and the branching structure. The line itself is simple and elegant.

MOOSE JAW

Moose Jaw is not a City bare, open and treeless as so many have been led to believe the cities of our prairie west to be. Moose Jaw has its parks and open spaces—and almost at its door are spots of rare entrancing beauty, with nature at her best and beyond the open prairie—with its waving fields of grain, its happy smiling homes—a mighty land—a mighty background for a great City.

Moose Jaw—proud, rich and prosperous—mighty today but still mightier tomorrow—for the world lies at the door of Moose Jaw, and the smile of confidence is on her face.
