face of dlamond-hard mineral fragments. Look for the crow-Ing rooster on the Brantford Roofin

Its base—the 'body' of it—is long-fibred pure wool. This wool we saturate with 99% Pure Asphalt—the fluid mineral that has defied the ravages of centuries. Fire cannot touch this roofing harmfully. Water won't worry it. It needs paint never. Ordinary labor puts it in place. It surpasses wood shingles ten to one; it excels metal roofings three to one; it costs, for all that, little more than the flimsiest paper-base roofings. Learn about it. Write to us (use a postcard) for samples and instructive book. There are three kinds to suit any requirement—and seven weights, to meet any purpose.

trated on another page in this issue, be sides being a horse of high-class type and quality, is exceedingly well-bred, being a son of Sir Everard, the sire of Baron Pride. Sir Everard was sired by Top Gallant, by Darnley (222), while Signature Simon's dam was by Mains of Airies, by Prince of Wales (673). The grandam of Sir Simon was by Parnley, and the dans of Mains of Airies was also by Darnley. while the dam of Sir Everard, the sirof Sir Simon, was by London Prince, by Prince of Wales (673). With such breed ing, combined with such individuality, and with an excellent record as a sire in Scot land, he should prove a valuable acquisition to the horse stock of the district in which he is owned.

CLYDESDALES AT GLASGOW.

At the 54th Annual Summer Show at Glasgow the last week in April, Clydesdale stallions were judged by John Holmes, Bardrainey, who, in his awards, did not follow precedent, and his work was not without criticism in some classes. In the section for three-year-old stallions, he placed first. Mr. Marshall's Macaroon second, Mr. Dunlop's Dunure Footprint third, Alex. McRobbie's Leonardo, and went to Alex. Rennie's Border Duke, by Iron Duke; second, to James Fleming's Cairnie King, by Everlasting; third, to Wm. Brown's Dunure Gayman, by Baron of Buchlyvie, and fifth to J. P. Stewart's Hugo's Pride, by Sir Hugo. In yearling colts, not without protest, the judge placed seventh Jas. Fleming's Gallant Stewart, by Revelanta, which was first at Aberdeen, "and." says the Scottish Farmer reporter, "we suspect at least three or four, like some of those in front of him, would be given by most men for a colt like Gallant Stewart." Mr. Pollock's gay colt, by Montrave Viceroy, was placed first; the same exhibitor's, The Dunure, second, and Mr. John Shaw's colt, by Warlaby, third. The championship for the best male went to Marshall's Macaroon, and the family-group prize to Baron of Buchlyvie. The female champion was Stephen Mitchell's Boquhan Lady Peggy, Mr. Kerr's Cicely being re-
