THURSDAY, SEP

Ancient Bel

We know from to of St. Patrick, am preachers of Christ that they constant their ministrations sometimes made of

The ancient cons generally quadrat small in size, and a athough there was small pear shaped except a small ope for the escape of the y a small metalli-ers, who flourished

ers, who flourished of the sixth century de artificer; he fail crosses, shrines an among the rest, and some ornament ver and precious si The bells that be seitive seints were

The bells that be mitte seints were successors with the neration: and in or preserve them, they nished with covers, times made of gold other metals, clabed with interlaced.

cious stones. They swearing on; and i to bring them into parties who were compact to render compact to render and binding.

St. Patrick had a which plays an immany of the Patriboth legendary and called "Finn-faidher sounding, and it wother saints called on page, in same name, in great predecessor. Many of these great predecessor.

Many of these quare now preserved it the Irish Acadenty is in other collectithem one, in partition good reason to the melodious Fin

In the neighborho

In the neighborho our ecclesiastical ru have beautiful legs church-bells: that i tant time, when des natives—came to plu tery, the bells, whi

tery, the Deris, will say were of silver, en down and throw the nearest river or remain to this day vals some say ev they are heard to the remain to the say every are heard to the remain to the remainder the rema

ffled, melancholy

The bell that hun

The bell that hun, of Rattoo, in Kerry bottom of the river has often been thear have never been able though they have o The bells of the pruncliff, near Emm

Drumclitt, near Edmi beneath the waters the townland, whice naglug, the pool of thieves who stole ti-killodenmell Abbey, ton. in Donegal, we crossing Lough Swill their prize: but the

their prize; but the the bottom of the lo

the bottom of the lo to ring every seven It would appear tare not always wit There existed for go dition that the bowho founded the m wherry, on the brim Prosno near Ferba wherry, on the bring Brosna, near Ferba County, was, in tim thrown for safety in pool of the Brosma, drainage works in : the river was alter was found in the v. out by tradition.

out by tradition.

in a shrine which v and sold; but the b preserved—Irish Wor

Recent Miracu

'Rome' briefly su of the miraculous cogated by the medical gated by the medical at the grotto of Lo pilgrimages of 1908: The first remarkat jubilee took place of Veronika Sperling of Baden, was suddenly the procession of the ment of lateral amis six the next day of the state of the st sir, the next day a. I ginia Laudebourg nier, was instantly i cal and renal tubercu On the evening of girl of London, Neo fifteen years of age deaf eleven years and deen given up as both the sir, the sir of th been given up as hot specialists, recovere while reciting the ros to; the same day a the Abbe Flamma, the Paris pilgrimage

ancient cons

w from t

HOUSE NO HOME

CONDUCTED BY HELENE.

True Witness

Beauty Patterns

DAINTU UNDERW WEAR FOV YOUNG

762. Ladies' and Misses" Jumper Corset Cover. Cut in sizes 30 to 40 inches bust measure. Size 36 will require one yard of 36 inch material. A simple, dainty corset cover that is most easily made. The plain front affords an excellent place for a bit of hand embroidery or a simple design in lace. The fulness at the lower edge is adjusted by tape at the lower edge is adjusted by tape run in a casing. Linen, mainsook, cambric and longcloth are all avail-able for the making. 188. Misses' Five Gore Petticoat. Cut in sizes 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17 years. The 15 year size will re-quire 4.1-8 yards of 36 inch ma-terial. The deen flumes that finishes The deep flounce that finishes the lower edge is arranged over a dust ruffle and aids greatly in giving a becoming flare, so necessary to present styles. Muslin, longcloth, cambric and nainsook are all suitable for reproduction.

The accompanying illustration calls for two separate patterns, a waist and a skirt, which will be mailed to any address on the receipt of 10 cents in silver or stamps for each.

PATTERN COUPON Please send the above-mentioned pattern as per directions given

The habit of giving invitations that are meaningless cannot be strongly criticized. A young too man meets an old acquaintance when man meets an old acquaintance when she is away for her vacation, and after a five minute that says goodby, adding, "I hope you'll improve the first opportunity to make me a visit." As a matter of fact, if she should receive word a little later that her friend had accepted the invitation, and was coming she would vitation and was coming she would be surprised, and the chances are un-pleasantly so. Come and take din-ner with us sometime. Do not wait for a special invitation. Just drop d the chances are, uncomes and take dinmetime. Do not wait reach of a creamery, speak for buttermilk. Frequent applications of twill be soothing, healing and wittening. If buttermilk cannot be a cordial, pleasant at poople are wise same effect.

If badly burned by the sun, mix magnesia and water to form a paste, and the continuous strain tells on the nerves, and this high tension is what makes even the strongspecial invitation. Just drop it will be special invitation. Just drop it will be special invitation. This whitening, procured, procured, special invitation. sound, but most people are wise enough not to accept it. If they happen to drop in on the day when the yesterday's roast is being used cold and the dessert is a little short, their hostess is likely to be embarrassed and to show it. Indefinite invitations as a rule mean little. The people who say "Come and see us sometime," or "Come to dinner when you feel like it," seldom expect to be taken at their word. If you really wish a visit from an acquaintance or a friend, the better way is to give a definite invitation for a definite time. If you enjoy having a friend for dinner, ask her for a special day. She is not likely to accept the general invitation for the reason that she has no means of knowing whether you really mean it, or have simply fallen into the way of giving meaningless invitations. "If Kitty's friends all took her at her word," said the mother of a sixteen-year-old girl, "it would be necessary for us to move into a house double the size of this, and have at least three times as many servants." But when our riends realize that an invitation or the fall to the word for the proposed to the vortice of the proposed to the size of this, and have at least three times as many servants." But when our riends realize that an invitation or the continue of the continue of benzoin and very little of the proposed to the poxide of zinc ointment over the skipn. The word of the proposed to the notice of the proposed to the poxide of zinc ointment over the skipn. The word of the proposed to the notice of the proposed to the notice of the proposed to the poxide of zinc ointment over the skipn. The proposed to t sound, but most people are sound, but most people are wise enough not to accept it. If they happen to drop in on the day when the yesterday's roast is being used cold and the dessert is a little short, their hostess is likely to be embarrassed and to show it. Indefinite invitations as a rule mean little. The people who say "Come and see us." of this, and have at least three times as many servants." But when our friends realize that an invitation is just a habit we have fallen into, and does not mean anything particular, our cheap hospitality seems rather foolish. When you give an invitation be sure that it means something. very-much-diluted acetic acid is good for tan, freekles and moth patches at a habit we have fallen into, and so not mean anything particular, ir cheap hospitality seems rather oilsh. When you give an invitation be sure that it means someting.

A WOMAN'S WEAPON.

A WOMAN'S WEAPON.

Very-much-diluted acetic acid is good for tan, freekles and moth patches. Use this at night and after the cluding soups, sodas, lemonades, etc., until all the taste is out of them. It is well worth while. Pure water for quenching thirst has no taste and may be swellowed immediately.

A less costly soap will answer for a calm mood will bring for a calm mood will bring soup, sodas, lemonades, etc., until all the taste is out of them. It is well worth while. Pure water for quenching thirst has no taste and may be swellowed immediately.

A woman's strongest weapon is the soap has destroyed by rubbling in gentleness, and the wise woman knows it. The average man can be led; but not driven. Woman has her own domain, and it is quite right that she should be the queen of it; but when she also wants to be known prime minister, and entire can ing, prime minister, and entire cashe is overstepping bounds. "bossy" woman may be an ex-

The bossy woman may be an excellent person in her way, but as a household goddess she is of no use.

The woman who holds the love of all those in the household is she who rules by love, gentleness and expensive. sympathy.

Thank goodness, she is not a rarity; but a dear, every-day woman.

GROWING OLD.

A little more tired at the end of the an day,
A little less anxious to have our four day,

A little less ready to scold and A little

And so we are nearing our journey's

Where time and eternity meet and

A little less care for bonds more zest in the days of old, A broader view and a saner mind, And a little more love for all mankind.

And so we are faring a-down the That leads to the gates of a better DON'T MAKE WRINKLES DEEPER

A little more love for the friends of youth, little less zeal for established truth A little more charity in our views A little less thirst for the And so we are folding our tents away And passing in silence at close of

A little more leisure to sit and little more real the things unseen A little more nearer to those ahead, With visions of those long loved and dead must go, the place the living may never know

A little more laughter, a few more tears,
And we shall have told our increasing years;

The book is closed, and the prayers are said,
And we are a part of the countless dead;

Thrice happy, then, if some can say;

"I live because he has passed away."

-Rollin J. Wells.

* * * * * CHANCE.

The boy in the family is usually the one who suffers most from parents' short-sightedness. He can earn money, so he is taken from school and put to work. He doesn't object, as a rule. He cannot be expected to understand the value of the education he is neglecting. He object, as a ... and the value of the education he is neglecting. He regards it as manly to earn his living and is anxious to associate with men, and work with them. But parents should look a little beyond the present. There is no regret in after present. opportunities neglected in youth that would have made life more liv able. The regret of a grown man that he has not had an education is keen when he realizes that it was within his reach at one time.—True

A THOUGHT FOR TO-DAY.

Would you live with ease? what you ought, and not what you please!

Benjamin Franklin.

SUNBURN AND TAN

requires mental as well as muscular ability, and the continuous strain tells on the nerves, and this high tension is what makes even the strongest women victims of nervousness.

What women must need to learn is pply for tan.

Very-much-diluted acetic acid is itself.

Do not be too economical in powder A box of talcum powder is necessity in summer and is a comfort after the daily bath—if a tub bath cannot be had, a sponge bath is always possible—but a finer, less irritating powder should be chosen for the face. Rice powder is good and ordinary corn starch is not bad for this use.

A liquid powder is useful in sum-A liquid powder is useful in summer because it will adhere despite perspiration. Rub one ounce of oxide of zinc with one teaspoonful glycerine Add to this two ounces of cologne and pour in gradually three pints of boiling water. Bottle this and use instead of powder, shaking well before applying. Put on with a soft cloth and rub off the moisture intracdiately. An old linen handscribid is diately. An old linen handkerchief is good for this purpose.

HOW TO BECOME A PASSABLE sho any

Paderewski has confided to world the secret of how to become a good piabist. He gives the six following directions You must have the gift.

You must choose a good master obey him blindly.
You must practice exercise

You must practice exercise hours daily and give one hour to digital agility You must remember that agility alone does not suffice; you must also possess rhythm, precision and practice the pedals.

5. You must exercise the five fingers equally. Study especially the passing of the thumb under the hand and the passing of the hand ever the and the passing of the hand over the 6. You must strike the notes with

5. You must strike the notes with assurance and deeply, and make use of the pedal in the central octaves to give color, Follow these precepts diligently, says the celebrated Pole, and in ten years you will be a passable pianist.

Is father's eyesight growing dim,
His form a little lower?
Is mother's hair a little gray,
Her step a little slower?
Is life's hill growing hard to climb?
Make not their pathway steeper:

To MRS.

make

O, do not make them deeper

There's nothing makes a face so young

make
Thy mother be a weeper:
Stamp peace upon a father's brow,
Don't make the wrinkles deeper.

In doubtful pathways do not go,

Be tempted not to wander; Grieve not the hearts that love you

But make their love grow fonder.

Much have thyparents borne for thee,
Be now their tender keeper;

and let them lean upon thy love. Don't make the wrinkles deeper

Be patient, true, and tender,
And make the path that ageward leads Aglow with earthly splendor.
Some day, the dear ones, stricken

Must yield to Death, the reaper,

* * *

A HEALTHFUL OCCUPATION

And you will then be glad to know You made no wrinkles deeper.

how to relax.

Money is the root

Be lavish with the kindly deeds

This coupon cut out and mailed to The Blue Ribbon Tea Co., P. O. Box 2554, Momente to a free package of our 40c. Blue Ribbon Tea. Fill in blank white the you wish Black, Mixed or Green Tea (

Smooth out the furrows on their frying basket and served unbroken

TOWN

LEMON JUICE A VALUABLE TONIC.

It is not generally known that le-mon juice taken in proper quantities is a most excellent tonic. The juice as a most excellent tonic. The juice of half a lemon taken in a tumbler of cold water half an hour before breakfast every day will stimulate the liver and digestive organs, causing a increase in the appetite, and making the skin fresh and clear. If the majority of women could be made to realize that their dull colories comrealize that their dull, colorless com realize that their dull, coloriess com-plexions generally are the results of the inactivity of their digestive or-gans, there would be less use for the objectionable cosmetics, which never in the slightest degree resemble na-

HOUSEHOLD HINTS.

Probably more false economy is shown in methods of frying than in any other form of cookery. Cooking in a little fat is not frying and among cooks is called sauteing, a word adapted from the French saute word adapted from the French saute, meaning to cook in a little fat. This method, which to the amateur seems the easiest and is most generally practiced, is what has brought the frying-pan and fried foods into just disrepute. It is almost impossible to heat the fat without scorching it and to cook in this way often means. and to cook in this way often mea and to cook in this way often means merely to partially burn the food. If cooking one side of a slice of fish, for instance, is accomplished suc-cessfully when it is turned over the cooked side, now the upper side, cools rapidly. The surplus fat on its surface must soak in and cannot be drained off after ward; the the slidce also are not seared immediately and soak more or less fat. It takes more fat to saute than to fry in deep fat, for whatever is not absorbed by the food is wasted, as it is soroched more or less and mingled with bits of food. It is usually scraped into the kitchen waste. The fact has been proven often by carefully weighing fat used and amount left over, after both frying and sauteing, that the least is wasted in frying in a large amount that gives complete immersion. Slices of fish, either egged and crumbled, or rolled in flour or meal, are fit for an epicure when cooked in deep fat in a sympathized with the sorrowful.

She never forgot that kind words and a smile cost nothing, but are priceless treasures to the discourag-

She did unto others as she would be done by, and now that old age has come to her and there is a halo of white hair about her head, she is loved and considered. That is secret of long life and a happy one.

Funny. Sayings.

"Is there anything I can do," cried an exasperated mother, "to induce you to go to bed?"
"Yep," responded the small boy, promptly.

Well, for goodness' sake, what is

"Lemme stay up an hour longer."
You never hear a married man You never hear a married ma boast that he has never made a mis take in his life.

Because love is blind is no reason why a lover should make a spectacle of himself. * * *

Most of us find it easier to boast of what we are going to do than to brag about what we have done.

FOR JONES' CAT.

A cat belonging to Mrs. Jones had A cat belonging to Mrs. Jones had caused great annoyance to the small boys of the neighborhood by killing some of their pots, so they decided to set a trap for it. Dwight, a little boy of seven, with a very tender heart, was much afraid some innocent cat would suffer, so he printed the following notice and pinned in on the tran: the trap:

"This is for Jones' cat only."—August Delineator.

* * * A LIFE-SAVING STATION.

A train was just starting to leave a suburban station says the Ne York Tribune, when an elderly me says the Nev rushed across the platform and jumped on one of the slowly moving cars.

The rearend brakeman, who was standing by reached up just as the man got aboard, grabbed his coat tails and pulled him off. "There," he said stown."

The long train, meanwhile, had been slowly gliding by, slowly gathering speed. Finally the last car ap-

* * *

A pleasant medicine for children is fother Graves' Worm Exterminator

But there is a difference between

"There's where you're wrong. All my friends know that I considered this purely and simply as a financial stroke.

* * *

She—Will, she traveled across the continent three times without mailing a single souvenir post card.

Requisite on the Farm.-Every far mer and stock raiser should as mer and stock raiser should keep a ed supply of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil a on hand, not only as a ready remedy to for ills in the family, but because it he is a horse are cettle reddistraction. on hand, not only as a ready remedy cupthe is a horse and cattle medicine of great potency. As a substitute for in a for feeted by colic it far surpasses anything that can be administered.

THE YONSONIAN CALENDAR.

History in Papal Coins,

(From the New York Sun.)

Not the least interesting of the Pope's jubilee glifts was the unique gold coin of Pope Innocent IX, which, recently extrumed at Acqui, was contended for by coin collectors, King Victor Emmanuel being an unsuccessful competitor.

This coin, the only one in existence of the reign of Innocent IX, was needed to make the Vatican collection of Papal coins complete.

The Papar coins exhibited the portraits of many of the Popes and furnish metallic history of the coinage of the Church from the first issues in the latter part of the eighth century down to 1870, when the Papal States were amnexed to Italy and the Papal mint ceased operations.

The Papal series of coins is one of the very longest, covering 1138 years. The first Pope to issue coins

Papal mint ceased operations.

The Papal series of coins is one of the very longest, covering 136 years. The first Pope to issue coins was Adrian I. The coins of Europe were then largely in imitation of those of the Byzantine Empire, whose gold byzants were generally used throughout the continent, and the coin of Pope Adrian was a fair example of the coinage of the times. It showed a full face portrait, presumably of St. Poter, on the obverse, surrounded by the inscription "Hadriamus P.P." and the cross on reverse, very much after the style of the Byzantine pieces.

Many of the early issues of the Pooes show the name of the reigning Pope and a representation of either St. Peter or St. Paul. Perhaps no series of coins show a greater variety of design or more skilful execution. The Church, always a patron of the arts, employed the foremost artists of the time, and some of the coins are from the hands of such men as Cellin and Francia.

A gold scudo of Julius II., the da from the hands of such men as Cellini and Francia.

A gold scudo of Julius II., the design of which is credited to Francia, shows a finely engraved portrait of the Pope, with the inscription "Julius Pontifex Maximus" A coin of Alexander VII., attributed to Paolo, shows oa the reverse the crossed keys and crown, penhaps one of the first of the Papal coins to bear this device.

The coins of the Popes were The coins of the Popes were struck in many places, including Rome, Bologma, Avignon, Perugia, Terni, San Severino and Gaeta. One of the interesting pieces of the Roman mint was a silver ducat of Clement VII. This piece, irregular in shape, was struck in 1527, when Rome was in a state of seige. On the obverse are shown the arms and title of Pope shown the arms and title of Pone Clement, with the word "Ducate" enclosed by a wreath on the reverse To this same Pope is credited a jubilec five sequin piece in gold struck in 1525. It is not unlikely that the latter piece was considered. latter piece was engraved by C The most remarkable Papal

The most remarkable Papal coin issued at Bologma was the sequin of 1523, which shows the usual Papal emblems and a full length portrait of St. Peter. It was the earliest of the Apostolic coins to be minuted at that city and a specimen brought $26 ae a recent sale. The first Papal silver seudo was struck at Bologma silver scudo was struck at B during the reign of Pope XIII

Included among the regular Papal coins are those of the interregnal pe-iods, known as the "Sede Vacante" eries, or coins struck time the Papal throne was unoc There are many varieties of these pieces, some of them being extreme-scarce.

A very interesting "Sede Vacante" scudo shows that before the accession of Pius IX. in 1846 an interregnal issue of silver of considerable volume was contemplated. This piece was dated 1846 and bore the legend "Sede Vacante," with the arms of the senior Cardinal, Riaro Sforza, who had the sole authority to issue coins. senior Cardinal, Riaro Sforza, who had the sole authority to issue coins had the sole authority to issue coins during the period. The same Cardinal issued a gold piece during the interval between the death of Gregory XVI, and the election of Pius IX. This piece was called a doppia and had an intrinsic value of $3.32. A full length figure of St. Peter was shown on the obverse, and the reverse bore the Cardinals coat-of-arms, with crossed keys and a Cardinal's hat, with the words "Sede Vacante."

dinal, showed the Grand Cross of Legion of Honor suspended from the shield. It would seem that the Cardinal lost no time but a few days. Pope Gregory dying on June 1 and Pope Pius being elec-ted on June 16. These were the last "Sede Vacante" pieces by the Papal mint.

While many of the varieties of the coinage of the States of the Church are still obtainable at prices, certain specimens are of great rarity. Gold, silver and copper pieces were the metals orninarily the pieces struck in gold are the rarest. Very rare pieces are the gold sequins of Pius II., specimens of which have sold for $75. Specimens of the Papal coinage are valued at $100.

Though Papal coins for ge circulation were not struck after 1870, yet a pattern silver piece of the denomination of five lire was struck as late as 1878. This piece is said to have been issued to show that coins could be struck under the authority of the Pope. It hore the authority of the Pope. It hore the portrait of Leo XIII. on the obverse with his arms on the reverse, and was dated 1878. Not many of theses pieces seem to have been coined. An uncirculated specimen recently sold for $3.

Comfort For the Dyspeptic.—There is no ailment so harassing and exhaustime as dyspepsia, which arises from defective action of the stomach and liver, and the victim of it is to first time Bill ever set a date to pay. Did he really say he would pay in January?"

"Vell, I tink so," said the clerk, "He say dat it ban a d—cold day ven you get that money. I tank that ban in January."—Kansas City Star.

and liver, and the victim of it is to pay in January?"

and liver, and the victim of it is to pay in January?"

I tink to pay in January?"

I tank that ban in January."—Kansas City Star.

him off. "There," he said, sternly, "I have saved your life! Don't ever try to board a train that way again."
"Thank you," said the old man, calmly. "Thank you for your thoughtful kindness. It is three hours till the next train, isn't it?"
"Three hours and content" raid.

"Three hours and a quarter," said the brakeman," but it is better to wait that length of time than to be peared. This was the brakeman's car, the one for which he had been waiting, and with the easy grace born of long practice, he started to step majestically on it.

But the old gentleman seized him but the old gentleman seized him by the coat, and with a strong jerk pulled him back, and held him until it was too late. "One good turn deserves another," said the old gentleman, with a smile "You saved my life, I have saved yours. Now we are quits."

John and Pat were two friendly workmen who were constantly tilting each one trying to outwit the other. "Are you good at measurement?" asked John.

asked John.
"I am that," said Pat, quickly.
"Then could you tell me how many shirts I could get out of a yard.",
"Sure," said Pat, "that depends on whose yard you go into." + + +

Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator and there is nothing better for dri-ving worms from the system.

"Well," he said dismally, after her refusal, "this is the first time I ever failed in any enterprise I un-

ley. "No one can deny your business acumen, and—"

He-Why do you consider Miss Tra-

* * *

A Chula man tells this as an original story: A Swede who had been sent to do some collecting made this report: "Yim Yonson says he will pay ven he sells his hogs. Yim Oleson he vill pay ven he sell him wheat, and Bill Pack say he vill pay in January."
"Well," said the Boss, "that's the first time Bill ever set a date to pay. Did he really say he would pay in January?"
"Yell, I tink so" said the clerk."

Surpris

RULES FOR EATING.

Dr. Horace Fletcher's four rules or eating:

Do not eat until a plain piece of read or a dry cracker tastes good.

Chew all solid food until it is

The average sauted slice of fish needs a good deal of fixing to make it look well and a robust appetite to enjoy its muss The best fat for frying is a

As joy, youth's fairest token; And nothing makes a face grow old Like hearts that have been broken. Take heed lest deeds of thine should The best fat for frying is a question asked almost as often as what baking powder is the best. If we could habe olive oil cheap enough it would be an ideal fat, but the best available frying medium is acknowledged by a majority of the best cooks to be good lard. If prejudice is strong aranists lard uses the fat of the property of the strong aranists lard uses the fat of the strong aranists lard uses the fat of the strong aranists lard uses the strong areas the strong ar trong against lard, use any of a ubstitutes in the market. Many substitutes in the market. Many of these are composed of vegetable oils and beef suet, and to use them successfully one must follow directions closely as given by the manufacturers, for a vegetable oil will be hot enough to fry before it smokes or shows the blue vapor required in lard. Lard is the medium complete. lard. Lard is the medium on which all American rules for frying are based. Some cooks for economy's sake add one-third beef suet and affirm that it is not noticed in the taste of the article fried, but beef suct is lightly suct is liable to detection wherever used as a substitute for other fats.

APPLE PUDDING.

suct is liable

Take all skin and strings from a half pound of beef suet and put it food chopper. Add a through the food chopper scant teaspoonful of salt and 14 ounces of flour. Make a hole in the center, pour in a half cupful of cold water and gradually, but quickly, mix to a firm paste, adding more mix to a firm paste, adding more water as needed. Roll out half an inch thick on a floured board. Thoroughly butter a quart bowl and line it with the paste. Leave it an inch above the bowl, then trim and use the trimmings for the top crust. Fill with peeled and sliced apples, heaning them in the extremely apples. he root of all evil, and beaping them in the center of t most of us are rooters.

Physical culture never extends carrying other people's burdens.

Many a woman worries more about owing a call than she does about owing the butcher.

RULES FOR EATING.

heaping them in the center of the bowl, add sugar according to the acidity of the apples, with grated nutmeg or other flavoring and a teaspoonful of butter and a half cupful of water. Wet the edges of the paste, fit on the cover and pinch the edges securely together. Flace in a steamer and steam continuously for three hours. Serve with hard sauce.

We occasionally meet whose old age is as beautiful as the bloom of youth. We wonder how it has come about—what her secret is. Here are a few of the reasons: She knew how to forget disagree-able things

She kept her nerves well in hand. She kept her nerves well in hand.