without opposition, Sir J. Shel-Lo.d A. Lennox, a Protectionist, has been plectey, the Whig candidate, having prudently retired de Titow's remarks, was sent to Fuad Effendi with instructions to that Diplomatist to endeavor from a hopeless contest. Two great Protectionist meetings were hell last week. The first, at Reigate, consisted of the men Surrey and Kent, with Earl Stanhope as the iple speaker; the other, at Newport Pagnell, while Mr. D'Israeli shone with his usual brilliney. These leaders represent the two great divisions of the party, and although the ends they s rk are identical, the modes by which they p opose to arrive at are different. Lord Stanhopes s cing the rapidity with which ruin is overtaking the agriculturists and others dependant on the land, is for restoring Protection at once; Mr. D'Israeli proposes, first, to re-impose moderate import duties, and with the proceeds to form a sinking fund to pay off the National Debt. He also contends for the equalization of the Land Tax, and the transfer of local taxation to the Consolidated Fund. The Times calls the Protectionist activity a "furore," or "unaccountable phenomena." The Counties are represented as having lost their senses. They ought to be considered rather, as having come to their senses Alison, the historian, is assailed for his Philipic of " Free Trade at its Zenith," in the last number ai Blackwood-which puts the Times out of breath.

It may be doubted the crowded stalls of the Bazaar show very distinctly that the spirit of emulation is rife as ever with the graziers and the tillers of the soil. The privations of the laboring classes continue to be brought to light by the three "Commissioners" of the Morning Chronicle, and a disposition to amelorate the condition of the sufferers has been manifested in influential quarters. Lord Ashley and Mr. Sidney Herbert have taken up the cause of the poor needle-women, and have put forth a plan for assisting the thousands, whose labors are badly requited, because their services are not required, to emigrate to our distant Colonies, where the r services are required, and will be fairly remunerated. The benevolent scheme will, perhaps, be taken up by Government, and in the meantime subscriptions to a considerable amount, from private individuals, have already been re-

To Colonel Guer:

Sir,— A publication has appeared in the Monfreal Gazette of this morning, purporting to be a Report of the Proceedings of a Meeting of the League, held at Mack's Hotel on Saturday evening last. Your friends complaining of it, as being unfair and unjust to you, it is because I think I know, and can assign, the reason of that injustice that I now address you.

I am, as you know, the Plaintiff in a suit against Mr. Ferres, one of the Proprietors and Editor of the Montreal Gazette, which suit you conduct as my Attorney. You did not undertake to do so, however, until you had made every attempt in your power to bring about an amicable settlement. Yet Mr. Ferres has conceived against you great personal animosity; and I affirm that, about the period of the commencement of the suit, he threatened to be revenged on you, and he said that he would ruin you by means of the paper.

Conductors of newspapers have so much power, and it is so difficult to contend against them, that I feel it to be my duty to give you my testimony for publication.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Your obedient servant, giving the quantity as well as the value of the ex-pers. Some idea of the prices obtained by our exports, either in money or in goods, would then be aff.rded. As the matter stands, we learn that the money value of experted goods has increased exceeds this ratio, and, as it is, the price obtained for commodities, as well as the quantity sold, that indicates the gain resulting from the business
