Outing Was Enjoyable

Hamilton Press Club Fraternalize in Brantford Yesterday.

Reader, hold your breath! Get ready, fortify yourself, make your will and get your worldly affairs in order! Sometimes distressing news wrecks many lives and leaves its trail of dire misfortune. The scribes of Brantford have a woe-tale tale to impart, and it must be done gently.

Measured by runs, the score was 10-18, with the Hamilton scribes on the long end. It was a soft ball game, which was the headline for the first annual visit of the Hamilton Press Club to this city. Hamilton scribes almost any old time can dig up a murder. In fact these scribes are willing to commit murder for a good story. They started out yesterday. They came 17 strong. They brought umpires, bats, balls, everything except their lunch. They came thirty for battle and their thirst was quenched, and their appetite was appeased.

The murderous attempt was of nine innings duration, during which time there were as many umpires in the fray. Walter McMullen, formerly Herald sport editor, had his reputation as a fair-minded person speedily relieved. Then Bobby Robinson, of Spectator fame, displayed a fine sense of probity by proceeding to rob everybody.

The pitching of Teddy Holmes for the visitors was truly remarkable. His sweeping curves, blinding speed and his talk had the Brantford batters bewildered until the closing stages. Then a conspiracy was evolved whereby Holmes was not to be allowed to return to Hamilton, demanding a hat several sizes larger than he ordinarily carries. With the bases populated, and two men out, a halt was called. Manager Kirkpatrick of the Exposition, ordered the batter to strike out. Only one run was needed to tie the score, the whistles were blowing 6 o'clock, and it had been a long, dry afternoon. One other remarkable feature requires mention, Cliff Todd's wonderful slide into the home plate and the ruined summer suit of linen which arose from the dirt.

The line-up—Hamilton—Holmes, p.; Gordon, 3; Jones, 2; Moore, c.; Downey, c.f.; Robinson, s.s.; Berrie, 1; Smith, r.f.; Patterson, l.

Brantford—Walsh, p.; Shuert, 3; Preston, s.s.; Todd, c.; Reeves, 2; Moore, c.f.; Mullins, r.f.; Twyman, c.f.; Hazleton, l.

The visitors were entertained at the Tea Pot Inn to a dainty supper, when the suggestion was made and accepted that hostilities be resumed at a later date in Hamilton. A move is also under way for the Brantford scribes to become affiliated with the Hamilton Press Club, the members of which are all-round good fellows. The visitors expressed themselves as delighted with the relaxation afforded by the outing.

A PRESENTATION

On Tuesday afternoon members and ex-members of the local staff of kindergartners called upon Miss Jean D. Reid at the cosy flat which she is leaving on Nelson street for her new home in Lethbridge, to present her with a handsome suit-case umbrella and the following address:

Dear Fellow Worker—We could not let you go from among us without putting into tangible form our deep appreciation of your sterling character both as kindergartner and friend.

"Not chance of birth or place hath made us friends."

Being often times of different tongues and nations, But the endeavors of the self-same ends.

With the same hopes and fears and aspirations. Lethbridge's gain will be our loss but we wish for you the utmost success and happiness. May you be shielded from the buffeting winds of life even as this umbrella shields you from the rain.

Signed on behalf of the Kindergartners and ex-kindergartners of Brantford—J. Wilson, E. Pickles, L. Simpson.

FOR BUFFALO

The Massey-Harris employees excursion Buffalo train of eight coaches will leave Market street station at 7:35 a.m. next Saturday morning.

Mr. Herbert P. Cara, a former well known Brantfordite, writes The Courier from London, Ontario, Mr. Cara is representing in Europe a well-known United States manufacturing firm: "I beg to enclose bills for subscription to The Daily Courier. Am sorry I have been unable to remit sooner, but my business takes me as far as Southern Russia and Hungary, hence the delay. Glad to know that Brantford is progressing so generally and also becoming so enthusiastic in sports and trust soon to settle down again there, as I am firmly decided that of all countries and towns visited in my wanderings there is none to beat Brantford, and I follow the local topics with interest, and look forward always with pleasure to my pile of Couriers when I return to London."

Miss Agnes O'Donohue, 99 William St. has returned home after spending a week with Mr. and Mrs. N. Porter at Simcoe.

The presence in Montreal of the commander and officers of the French cruiser Descartes, which was anchored in the harbor, has been the excuse for numerous festivities. Commander Pugliesi-Conti and the officers were the guests of the Back River Polo club at Cartierville for the club match, which was largely attended by the summer colony and several from town, who motored out for the games. Tea was served in the clubhouse.

Very attractive looked the pretty grounds and residence of Mr. T. J. Barton, east Colborne street, last evening with their hangings of many colored Chinese lanterns gaily lighted and welcoming the various members of Alexandra Presbyterian Church choir, who held their annual supper at that charming spot—about sixty being entertained, and much of the success of the evening being due to the Rev Mr. McClintock, Mrs. Cromar and Mrs. Edward Barton, who had the affair in charge, in addition to the courtesies extended by Mr and Mrs Barton sr.. The event proved a memorable one.

A jolly little picnic party of about twenty young people and their chaperones took possession of picturesque, though deserted old Mohawk Park yesterday afternoon—enjoying a paddle in the lake, and later "Tea" underneath the trees, with good healthy appetites. With all the natural beauties of this spot, it seems rather too bad that some enterprising people do not take it in hand and make a success of it. (Dundurn Park in Hamilton is pretty, but not nearly as much so as Mohawk Park). Campers enjoy its privileges—last night we saw a great many tents and booths and places of amusement are all "dead"—the boat house alone being open. One does not object to the quietness, but it does seem too bad to let such a perfect place go to waste.
