Lord Northcliffe in Interesting Speech Tells of Tremendous Work By Britain

GEN. CADORNA GEN. BORRO

These portraits received from the Italian headquarters show His Excellency General Luigi Cadorna, commander-in-chief of the Italian armies, and General Perotti second in command

New York, July 11.—Lord Northcliffe was the chief speaker yesterday at a luncheon of the Overseas Club at the Hotel Biltmore. The club, which has a membership of 150,000 of both sexes and all ages, was founded by Lord Northcliffe, who is its president. It has actively co-operated in many ways to aid Great Britain's fighting forces during the war. The club has organized an imperial aircraft that has presented more than 100 fighting machines of the most modern type to the Government, has raised and expended more than $1,200,000 to send "smokes" to the armies and the hospitals, and funds for Red Cross and other comforts for the British troops, as well as a "smokes fund" raised in the United States to supply tobacco to the Belgian army. Until, Not Dissension.

Lord Northcliffe said in part: "When I speak of Britain, I refer to the five united British nations—Great Britain, Canada, Australia, New Zealand, South Africa—to Newfoundland, the West Indies and the other units of the Empire, upon which the sun never sets. There is no red spot, however tiny, on the map of the British Empire which has not freely and gladly poured out its blood in the rally to the motherland and world liberty."

"If the British methods of governance ever needed a testimonial, that testimonial lies in this: the raising of the whole far-flung British Empire as one country. The Germans reckoned on dissension. We showed them unity."

"What has Britain done? In the first place we bottled up the German high seas fleet, swept the trade routes clear of German raiders and prevented Great Britain and France being blockaded by sea and strangled."

"The British navy saved democracy in the early days of the war."

"In the second place Britain buttressed the world's credit. Everyone will remember the panic in the early days of August, 1914, when securities of all kinds were tumbling to apparent disaster. Britain stopped that panic, and began from the very start of the war to advance loans to its allies—to the extent, finally, of over $5,000,000,000."

"In the third place Britain provided the other members of the empire with vast quantities of shipping, coal, material and other vital necessities."

"In the fourth place we raised huge popular loans for the war. The last 'Victory Loan' totalled over $6,000,000,000. It was by far the biggest loan ever raised by any nation."

"In the fifth place, the five united British nations recruited under the volunteer system millions of men before they were obliged to resort to conscription. Millions of men offered themselves for the fight. I am no advocate of the volunteer system, because of its manifest injustices and its inefficiency for the waging of the present character. But I think there is cause for pride in realizing that millions of Britons from all over the world offered themselves voluntarily for war. Great Britain alone raising over 4,000,000 men."

"At the present moment we maintain over 2,200,000 men on the French front, apart from our other large armies in Egypt, several other parts of Africa, Mesopotamia, Palestine, and at Saloniki. The word 'maintain' means that we keep that huge mass of men up to fighting strength, constantly replacing the terrific drain of killed, wounded and sick."

ECONOMICAL TRAVEL

Whether you are going west to homestead or only for a trip the most economical method of travel is to take advantage of our low Home-seekers' fares good going on special excursions every Monday. Congress will radically change Senate's war revenue bill, according to Representative Rainey, who says: "The Senate draft certainly is an excellent measure. It would lift income automobile, retroactive income and other taxes from the wealthy and settle the burden on tea, sugar, cocoa and other necessities used in every home."

SEVERE RHEUMATIC PAINS DISAPPEAR

Rheumatism depends on an acid in the blood, which affects the muscles and joints, producing inflammation, stiffness and pain. This acid gets into the blood through some defect in the digestive process.

Hood's Sarsaparilla, the old-time blood tonic, is very successful in the treatment of rheumatism. It acts directly, with purifying effect, on the blood, and improves the digestion. Don't suffer. Get Hood's today.

Winnipeg, Man., July 11.—A bumper wheat crop that may equal or even exceed the slightly record-breaking harvest of 1915 is forecasted by Winnipeg grain traders. There is only one "if"—if weather continues to be favorable, western Canada's 1917 wheat crop may be the biggest in history. Present conditions of the growing grain in western Canada and present weather are the reasons for the optimistic predictions. Conditions this season are almost identical with those that obtained in 1915. Wheat has had even better weather than it has had during the falling-out period. Cold weather has hardened the grain in the ground, and no severe hail or rain storms have damaged young plants.

Several traders predicted that the crop will exceed that of 1915. They base their opinion on the fact that a larger acreage has been sown than the farmers have been moving carefully of the seed and cultivation. The west produced 375,000,000 bushels of wheat two seasons ago. More than 200,000 farmers in western Canada are growing wheat. A large percentage of them increased their acreage last spring.

Deputy Minister Evans, of the Manitoba department of agriculture, thinks the outlook is very satisfactory, and the present precipitation, followed by the present warm weather, is furnishing ideal conditions. The prospects are improving daily in both field and garden.

T. A. Greer, president of the Grain Growers' Grain company, is more conservative regarding the outlook. He said the prospects are good for an average crop, and he added the crop will be somewhat late.

The crop in southern Alberta and western Saskatchewan is first class, while an average crop is expected in eastern Saskatchewan and Manitoba.

The Experience of Army Officers and Tommies

They Have Been Finally Landed at Quebec.

By Courier Leased Wire

Quebec, July 11.—To be at the mercy of an angry sea for eight hours in lifeboats, after their ship was torpedoed, was the experience of three Imperial Army officers and about 200 Tommies who arrived at this port yesterday on an ocean liner. The officers who are among the survivors, are Captain Park of Scotland; Lieut. Ingram and Lieutenant Stroud of England. They were passengers on a vessel which was sunk off the north coast of Ireland without warning the latter part of June. Forty-one persons were lost. Reports from many of those who survived the attack of the German pirates, prove the efficiency of the Hun's espionage in the British Isles. The vessel left port on the evening of June 27th. Thirty-six hours later at 8 o'clock in the morning, the U-153's torpedo directed at the ship, struck the first mate, and the vessel, becoming a hulk, and the same day, the submarine shot another torpedo, with no better result to the murderers. "At the dead of night we were shocked by a great crash," says one of the survivors. "I was literally shot out of my bunk. We took to the boats. There was confusion but no panic. Two of the lifeboats turned turtle, and a number of the fellows, 41 in all, met watery graves. It was a horrible experience."

Pay Your Debt To Your Defenders

Turn Your Luxuries Into Comforts For Those Who Have Sacrificed Most.

"Self-sacrifice, self-denial and service lie at the basis of the highest personal and national development."

Is it nothing to you that men from all round you have sacrificed home and salary, safety and life, to defend your home as well as their own?

Is it nothing to you that their wives and families tremblingly scan each casualty list, and pale at the step of the postman or telegraph messenger?

Can you see others giving their dearest, without feeling that you must do something yourself? Do you wonder what to do?

You can at least save—and lend your savings to the nation. Canada needs every dollar her loyal sons and daughters can spare, to meet the growing expenses of the struggle.

Every dollar you invest in Canadian War Savings Certificates helps the nation to deal generously with those who are defending you.

Certificates in denominations of $25, $50 and $100, repayable in three years, may be purchased at any Bank or Money Order Post Office at $21.50, $43 and $86 respectively. This means over 5% interest—making them a profitable as well as a patriotic investment.

Ottawa, July 11.—Clause 31 of the Militia Act, dealing with exemption was passed late last night after all day discussion, but the amendment offered were held out for further consideration by the Government, as were also a number of other suggestions, such as one made by A. K. McLean, Halifax, that "the only son of a widow," be her only support, should be exempted.

Mr. Frank Glass thought that the results would come from a broad application of the act. It was not desirable, he said, that there should be a lot of fixed exemptions.

Need of Production

Mr. Duncan Ross said that in the first call more than 100,000 should be produced. The tribunals should see that not more than one son of any particular family could be called. This, he said, was provided for in the Militia Act. He declared the production of food had become a urgent matter of national importance. A Canadian farm is taken off a Canadian farm is assistance to the Germans to play the German game. When it was recognized that the allies will be largely dependent upon Canada for food, it would be a mistake to leave the selection of agriculture for service overseas to the whim of any tribunal.

Mr. J. H. Rainville, deputy speaker, suggested that it should be made clear in the section that agriculture and industries necessary to the war be maintained and moved an amendment in accordance with his ideas.

Public Tribunals

Hon. Wm. Pugsley moved that the tribunals be public, to which Hon. Arthur Meighen agreed, and also moved the section read as follows:

"In making application for exemption on either of the grounds mentioned in paragraph A and B, the application shall state the willingness by or on behalf of whom the application is made, to continue such work at a wage or salary fixed by the governor-in-council, in the fixing of which regard shall be had to the rate of pay and separation allowances, if any, which would be allowed in respect of such man if he were placed on active service."

Mr. Meighen said this amendment was of a radical and extraordinary character. If adopted, in principle, and much more in detail, it would necessitate radical changes in the whole commercial system of the country.

Not Impair Production

There was a long debate in regard to the exemption of agriculture interests.

Mr. F. P. Pardee agreed that there should be no direct exemption, but production should not be impaired.

Three months ago—when famine and world hunger became a possibility we said to Ontario farmers

YOU MUST PRODUCE MORE FOOD

The farmers have produced more food—and now call upon town and city men to help them to harvest it. Five hundred men are wanted now. More men will be needed later.

But we must have five hundred men at once for from two to six weeks. Good wages paid.

Consequently we urge employers to release men temporarily for this work, and keep their jobs open for them. And we call upon all men, who can, to help gather the harvest.

The food crops must be taken off the ground. You need them as much as our own soldiers and sailors in Europe.

Many men will volunteer to do it instead of taking a vacation this year. If so, offer yourself now. Register in person or by mail at the Local Bureaus—they will give you all particulars.
