REFORM CONVENTION.
A Large and Enthusiastic Gathering at Delta.

On Thursday last the Reformers of South Leeds met in convention at Delta, to select a candidate to represent the party in the next Dominion election. The meeting, which was held in the town hall, was a large and representative one, delegates being present from all parts of the riding. At 2 p. m., the President of the Association, Mr. O. D. Cowan, of Gananogue, took the chair, while W. P. Daily, Esq., of Rockport, occupied his position as Secretary of the Association.

A list of delegates appointed in the different municipalities was called, when the following number of delegates answered to their names:— Dastard & Burgess 44, North Crosby 9, Gananogue 5, South Crosby 15, Rear Leeds & Lansdowne 11, Front of Yonge 21, Front of Leeds & Lansdowne 20, Rear Yonge & Escott 25, Front of Escott 16.

The chairman said that he had called the meeting to decide upon who should be their candidate at the next general election. Had he known, when he instructed the secretary to call the convention, that the Quebec elections would come off so soon, he would have postponed the convention until a later date, for he believed that on the result of the Quebec elections would depend when the elections in this Province would be held. He hoped that if the convention decided to select a candidate then, they would select the strongest man and that they would all go to work with a determination to secure his election.

W. H. Fredenburgh, Esq., said it was not for him to question the wisdom of the chairman in calling the convention at this time. If we were certain that the elections would come off soon he was in favor of selecting a candidate at once. Speaking generally, he was not in favor of selecting a candidate at the present time.

M. J. Connolly said that Reformers were not afraid to express their opinions, and as great minds were constantly differing, it was no wonder that he and Mr. Fredenburgh should differ in opinion in this matter. The bulk of the electors of South Leeds were asking "Who is our candidate?" A great many of the electors on both sides of politics were undecided as to who they would support, and he thought it best to put a candidate in the field at once, as he could be at work strengthening his cause with the electors. He would, therefore, move "That it is expedient in the interests of the Reform party to select a candidate to-day."

Before putting this motion the chairman called upon several gentlemen present to express their opinions on the question.

Chas. E. Britton said if the convention was called for the purpose of selecting a candidate, it would be well to do so, as they did not wish to give their opponents a chance to say that the Reformers of South Leeds were afraid to put a candidate in the field.

Mr. Daily said that an erroneous impression had gone abroad about the object of this convention. He had noticed the vice-presidents and sent notices to the papers that the convention was called to select a candidate.

E. C. Slicer was not in favor of selecting a candidate at present. A short time ago John A. had an organ, now he had none, and it was impossible to tell when the Government would bring on the elections. If the elections did not come off until next spring the candidate put forward now would simply be up as a target for the attacks of the opposite party.

J. B. Saunders differed from Mr.
Slicer. He believed that a candidate should be brought out at once as the Conservatives were busily canvassing, and thought that our candidate should be placed on an equal footing.
J. Featon was strongly in favor of bringing out a candidate. He urged the claims of Mr. Fredenburgh, as he thought him the strongest man.

Geo. Tennent, Esq., was in favor of a candidate being selected, as the sooner the candidate was in the field the better. His advice would be to put a man in the field at once or not at all.

The chairman then put Mr. Connolly's motion and it was carried unanimously.

The following nominations were then made—W. H. Fredenburgh, Chas. Britton, M. J. Connolly, O. D.
Cowan, Geo. Tennent, R. E. Phillips, W. P. Daily, J. C. Judd, J. B. Saunders.

Mr. Fredenburgh, being the first nominee, briefly addressed the convention. He said that if his private affairs would allow he would be pleased to accept a nomination from his old friends of South Leeds; but having decided to make a number of very important changes in his business that would require his undivided attention, he would have to decline the honor for the present, at least. If at some future time his services were required he would cheerfully accept a nomination at the hands of his party.

At the present time he thought that Mr. Britton was entitled to the nomination. At the last election he had made a gallant fight against tremendous odds, and made a good record. Another reason was that Mr.
Britton had assisted very materially in fighting the infamous Franchise Act in South Leeds, and should be given the advantage of his labors on behalf of his party. He was satisfied that there would be quite a change in the votes at next election, and was of the opinion that the Reform candidate would poll a much stronger vote than at any previous election held for many years. After showing up the policy of the N. P., and that despite all the promises of its promoters, the laboring classes were not reaping the promised benefits, the farmers were heavy losers by it, and manufacturers languished, the speaker sat down amid applause.

George Tennent, Esq., said he was not aware that he was a candidate untill his name was called, as he was out of the hall when the nominations were made; but the nomination was a very respectable one, as he had Messrs Saunders and Judd as his mover and seconder. He agreed with Mr. Fredenburgh that Mr. Britton should be the candidate of the convention. At the last election, he did what he could for Mr. Britton, and under similar circumstances, he was prepared to do so again. Some people had got the impression that he was not a Reformer, but he wished to say that he was not made of the kind of material that could be anything else than Reform.

Mr. O. D. Cowan thanked his mover and seconder, for placing his name before the convention, but he did not think that his time had come to accept a nomination.

W. P. Daily said that it was easily seen that the feeling of the convention was in favor of the two men whose names had first been presented to the convention; but, in might be possible that in the future he would feel like accepting a nomination at the hands of the Reformers of this riding.
Never before was there such a feeling against the Tory party, and he felt that the days of the present Dominion Cabinet were numbered, and was certain that the elections in the Province of Quebec were going in favor of the Liberal party. He denounced the Franchise Act as a cumbersome, expensive, and framed only with the object of giving the Conservative party a further lease of power. He had heard Mr. Taylor affirm that the Franchise would not cost the people a cent. How ridiculous the statement was he left his hearers to decide.

Mr. Fredenburgh, rose as Mr. Britton came to the platform, and said he wished it distinctly understood that he could not consistently accept a nomination.

Mr. Britton on coming to the platform was received with cheers. He said that he understood that the object of the convention was to select a candidate. He was satisfied that Mr.
Fredenburgh was the strongest candidate in the riding, as he had done more for us than any other man. He spoke in flattering terms of the help he had received from Mr.
Tennent at last election, and hoped that he duly appreciated the same.
He felt satisfied that the Reformers could poll a much stronger vote than ever before. He did not feel, however, that he was the strongest man either Mr. Fredenburgh or himself, he should be selected. Regarding his efforts in behalf of the party, he felt that he was only doing his duty on behalf of the Reform party. He owed it to the party to do what he did. The Conservatives claimed to have made a gain of nearly 300 votes in South Leeds by the Franchise Act, but he was in as good a position to know that such was not the case. He wished to say just here that he was an out and out Reformer, not from any other principle than that he believed it was right, and he felt that by thus openly advocating that principle he would offend some of his warmest supporters. He was still of the opinion that Mr. Fredenburgh was the man who should be selected, but that was for the convention to decide.

All the other candidates having retired, it was moved by M. J. Connolly, seconded by B. McNamee, "That Chas. E. Britton be the unanimous choice of this convention."

Carried unanimously by a standing vote.

Glen Buell.

Mr. John Sturgeon sold a very fine six-year-old horse to an American last week, for $155.

Mr. John Davis has built a very fine farm this summer 84x58, 16 foot posts, and steep roof, it is capable of holding as much hay and grain as two ordinary barns. He will probably build a new house next year. The girls are saying this means something.

Mr. Henry Lee has built a very fine house, balloon frame, sheeted inside and out with matched lumber, felted and varnished outside with high ceilings, eastern summer kitchen, and wood shed, fine carriage house and horse barn with all the modern improvements, the buildings will soon all be completed. You may wonder why Mr. Lee is erecting all these buildings down by the lower barn; you may ask his son Willie and he will tell.

Our local horse trader, Mr. Charley Wright swapped his old puffer with a young blood from Spring Valley. He got what we call a top-notch-it. He can probably trade once more.

Messrs Wm. How, Eri Hayes, Norman Moore and their wives have just returned home from Napanee. They

They took in the fair, was a grand affair. To visit and returned home with their trip.

Mr. Brook Davis is getting well again. We are glad to see able to be out again, but not so much as he is himself.

Mr. Joseph Towriss had the misfortune to break one of his horse's legs and will probably lose his horse.

Mr. Munsel Brown has been quite ill for some time, but is now recovering, and was able to be out on Sunday last for a short drive.

Work upon the railroad which recommenced a short time ago, has again nearly come to a standstill, owing to a failure of the company to settle for the right of way, as agreed upon.

Mr. A. Tripp has been engaged by Mr. Easton to take charge of the grist mill, and has moved into the house at the mill. Mr. Easton's brother who recently came from the United States, also occupies a part of the house.

A missionary meeting was held in the school house on Wednesday evening last. Revs. Roney, Sanderson, and Rogers, Messrs D. Fisher, and Chas. Johnson, being the speakers.
The teacher and pupils of the public school, assisted by a few of the ladies, tastefully decorated the school room, which, with the addresses, music, and singing made the evening pleasant for all. The subscriptions exceeded that of the last by a considerable amount.

Newboro.
Your correspondent would like to say a word or two about the labors of Miss Birdsell and Miss Mason, who began evangelistic services here early in August. They commenced under circumstances most discouraging, and many averred that their meetings would result in strife and division and objected because they were "Salva-tionists." But the intense earnestness of the evangelists won them a hearing from the first, and the interest kept on increasing until the hall could not hold all who came. As a result there have been some fifty conversions, and a number seriously affected and benefited, besides the Church being revived. Their last meeting took place on the 1st inst., and was a memorial service not soon to be forgotten. The hall was packed by a most interested audience, and after hearing the last solemn appeal of the evangelists, many rushed to the platform with streaming eyes to take their leave of them. Two ministers were present—the Rev.
Messrs. Tennant and Ross.
