HANG HEAD WITH SHAME

The Daily Montreal Witness, Liberal, says: - Enough evidence has come out in the Belleville bogus ballot box case to make every Canadian, and particularly every Canadian Liberal, hang his head with shame. These exposures came at an ill moment for the Liberal party in Ontario. We are not prepared to assume that that party, as a party, is guilty of this worst of crimes against human liberty. Just as the election law holds the candidate guilty of criminal conduct by an agent so it is impossible not to hold the party more or less so for crime done in its ranks. What is horrible about this exposure is the fact that such was the belief of the operators in the utter rottenness of public morals that they did not shun to enter upon a proceeding that involved making criminal propositions to a large number of persons.

UNCLE EBEN'S PHILOSOPHY.

Washington Star.
"Human nature," said Uncle Eben, "is found to be mo' or less concealed. When a man wins a horse race he takes all de credit on hissef, an' when he loses he put de intire blame on de boss."

ESSENCE OF THE CHARGE.

Presbyterian.
It cannot be said that general or serious fault is found with the administration of the Liberal government. The government is on trial because, being convinced of the excellence of their administration, they or their friends seem to have thought it necessary for the well-being of the province and of themselves that they should be retained in power at any cost and by any means.

RESPONSIBLE FOR THE MACHINE.

Farmers' Sun, Toronto.
Capt. Hunter declared, during the discussion on political purity at last week's Liberal convention, that all the rascality connected with recent election scandals, in which Liberals were concerned, is directly traceable to the introduction of outside workers into ridings in which contests were in progress. The statement is true. It is also true that the trail can be easily followed still further. These outsiders were sent into the ridings on which they brought disgrace by what is known as the Liberal machine. To maintain that organization, and the agents it employs, costs money—a great deal of money. Who furnishes the funds? The answer is found on inquiring as to the purpose of the machine. That purpose is to aid in the election of men who will support the government, or someone acting on its behalf, provides the means to keep the machine running. The government must, therefore, assume direct responsibility for everything of which that piece of mechanism has been proven guilty in West Elgin, the Sault, and elsewhere.

FRANK CONFESION.

Stouffville Herald (Liberal).
The Liberal press of to-day is partly to blame for this corrupt state of affairs in our provincial politics. Had we been sincere and true to our great and noble traditional principles and condemned with no uncertain sound such practices, and have shown a sincere desire to have the guilty punished and stood up manfully for the right every time an attempt was made to do any crooked work, provincial politics would not have had the odium that is attached to it to-day. Those in high places would not have dared to have outraged all common decency in their dealing with the public by which the party was put to shame. The mighty power of the press would have been too strong and potent a factor in the affairs of the province to have made it at all possible to perpetrate such contemptible frauds. Instead of being true to the great principles of right and honest dealings we have condoned the work by our silence, and, in a great measure, have shielded the culprits, and made them to feel it was all right. True, The Globe and a few other Liberal papers have spasmodically cried aloud for the punishment of the dupes who have been caught red-handed in these scandals; but never a word as to the exposure and punishment of the real culprits and originators and those for whom the poor dupes were acting.

Unless there is a great change and a complete cleansing of party politics, with a multitude of other Liberals, it is impossible to support a Government whose career has shown such glaring deteriorations and departure from the honest principles of true Liberalism that has been so dearly bought by our forefathers and exemplified in such noble characters as the late Hon. Alex. Mackenzie and England's G. O. M., the late Hon. W. E. Gladstone. Fancy these grand old men stooping to the despicable methods that have been laid to the charge of our Provincial Government to defeat the will of the people! Or the reverend Sir Oliver Mowat to sanction or allow his cabinet to override him in doing any shady work and he to reap the benefit from such questionable doings! Sooner or later such methods must bring their own reward, and it looks as though the time was at hand.

SATCHEL OF THE SATELLITE

A Cabinet Minister, don't forget.
A vote for James Clancy means a vote for a Cabinet Minister.

O, ye Grits, though in the States you're Lott be cast, the ballot box scandal will always last.

I wonder if Mac Gardiner and his pals are showing the souvenir spoons they brought back from Toronto.

Perhaps Roll of Bills Piggott and Long Green George Gordon Martin, the Maple City aldermanic millionaires, will build that market for me. They've got the coin. I saw it.

I saw some girls very busy making Christmas presents for their best young men. I looked up the calendar and found that Christmas was only three weeks from Sunday.

"Dr. Charteris' sarcasm, Edwin Bell's acumen, Arch. McCoig's candor, Ald. Piggott's conciseness and James Richards' oratory"—the Nickel Novel's report of a young Liberal meeting. Sorry I missed that conciseness.

"Then are you in justice going to condemn the government because in instances their followers have, in a misconstrued spirit of zeal, done that which the Liberals deplore, and of complicity in which the Conservatives even free Mr. Ross and his Cabinet?"—Banner.
Great Scott, here I was thinking all the time that Stratton was a member of the Ross Cabinet. How could I have made such a mistake?

A WORD TO THE WISE.
Before purchasing Christmas gifts, read the advertisements in this Great Home Journal.

Waiters Who Speak Many Languages.
"When it comes to linguistic ability," said the manager of one of Washington's biggest hosteleries, "the real experts can be found in the dining rooms of this and other similar establishments."

"We have waiters in our employ who can talk in six or seven different tongues, and the ones who know only three, say English, German and French, are away behind. When I say talk, I mean the ability to converse fluently. Your college men can hold a sort of powwow, in a halting style, but Heinrich or Jean who waits on our guests can rattle off the lingo of nearly every patron who comes along, no matter what his nationality. Now and then we get a man who is making his first tour of the United States and whose mind is a howling wilderness so far as the understanding of English goes. He isn't able to 'savour' a word, and then it is that we send forthwith to the dining room and utilize one of the waiters as an interpreter."

It is difficult for most women to tell a funny story without doing their own laughing during the recital.

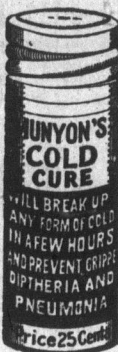

He only employs his passion who can make no use of his reason.

CAPITAL CONCERT

Splendid Scottish Program Contributed to Patrons of Scotland's night at the Grand

St. Andrew's night was very fittingly celebrated last evening by the Sons of Scotland, who gave a grand Scotch concert in the Opera House. The house was well filled with loyal Scotchmen and many others who are interested in good musical entertainments. The concert, which was under the direction of Donald McGregor, concert director, of Toronto, was a splendid one and every number was warmly received by the audience.

The artists were Donald McGregor, Pipe Major Beaton, the Wee Duncan Sisters, dancers, Miss Flora Ivor Craig, soloist, and Owen Smiley, entertainer. Mr. McGregor is well known in this city and is a favorite here. He was in good voice last evening and sang splendidly. The Duncan Sisters were well received. Their dancing could not fail to please any audience. Miss Craig is a singer of some repute and her singing last evening was much enjoyed. Owen Smiley has appeared in Chatham several times and he always scores a success. As an entertainer he classes high among the best. Pipe Major Beaton was thoroughly appreciated, especially by the Scotch element in the audience.

Camp Carlyle, who brought the entertainment to Chatham, deserve to be complimented on their excellent concert. This is a prosperous Maple City Order, and they are especially so under the following officers: J. G. Kerr—Chief. Wm. Anderson—Past Chief. S. A. McCormack—Chieftain. Jos. A. Turner—Secretary. Wm. ## Mistaken Identity.

The wearied hunt hunter pushed long and persistently at the button labeled "Janitor." The house bore a sign stating that there were apartments to rent. The janitor was evidently absent from his post of duty, as there was no response to her repeated ringing.

Disheartened, the seeker for a home was about to turn away when the door was opened from the inside and a bright faced boy of about seven years was disclosed. He looked wonderingly at the visitor, who asked:

"What kind of an apartment is there for rent here?"

A look of mingled disgust and scorn slowly overspread the youngster's face. He surveyed the questioner from head to foot and finally said with an aggrieved air:

"Say, I ain't the janitor."

Temper.

A great source of cruelty is temper. When it is considered what a vast sum of misery temper causes in the world, how many homes are darkened and how many hearts are saddened by it; when we remember that its persecutions have not even the purifying consequences of most other calamities, inasmuch as its effects upon its innocent victims are rather cancerous than medicinal; when we call to mind that a bright face and a bright disposition are like sunshine in a house, and a gloomy, lowering countenance as depressing as an Arctic night, we must acknowledge that temper itself is only another form of cruelty, and a very bad form too.

Gloomy reflections are most likely to come with self-imposed idleness.

Doctors Said That Lumps and External Swellings Would Turn to Running Sores.

Mrs. Jacob Kaehler, Zurich, Ont., says that

Burdock Blood Bitters Saved Her from Many Years of Suffering.

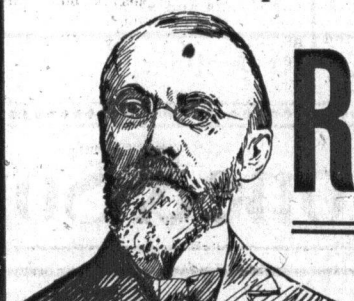

She writes:—"Now imagine how joyous and great was my surprise when a friend of mine told me that Burdock Blood Bitters would cure me, so that the lumps and external swellings, which the doctors told me would turn to running sores, would disappear. I took her advice, and can say that I have no doubt but that Burdock Blood Bitters has saved me from years of suffering. It is with the greatest of pleasure and with a thankful heart that I give this testimonial, knowing that Burdock Blood Bitters has done so much for me, and you are at perfect liberty to use this for the benefit of others similarly afflicted."

Burdock Blood Bitters is the best blood medicine on the market to-day, and is composed entirely of roots, herbs, bark and berries.
