THE ACADIAN

WOLFFVILLE, N. S., FEB. 12, 1892.

Local and Provincial.

Election to-morrow.

Put your ballot where it will do the most good.

The hockey match in the rink last Thursday evening, between Windsor and Wolfville, resulted in a victory for the former. The score stood, 4 to 2.

The regular meeting of the Acadia Missionary Society takes place on Sunday evening, 14th inst, at 7 o'clock. An interesting programme has been prepared for the occasion.

There is to be a hockey match this evening in the rink between the "Profron" and the H. C. A's. A good game will no doubt be had. An opportunity for skating will be given before and after the game.

The Rev. J. M. Fisher, of Digby, who lately lectured before the Atholmont Methodist church last Sunday evening. He will hold services in Horton in the morning, and Greenwich in the afternoon.

One of the modern improvements in Wolfville is the snow-plow, by which our sidewalks are cleared and made passable after every snow storm. It has not been many years since our sidewalks were impassable during the winter and pedestrians were compelled to use the roadway. Now the snow is cleared off after every storm, and one does not have to run the risk of being run down by teams as of yore.

Mrs. Currie, daughter of Mrs. Henry Brown, met with quite a serious accident on Friday afternoon last. Some boys were skating on the hill by the schoolhouse, and as she was crossing the sidewalk, going into the school grounds, she was struck by a sled, and rendered unable to move. Her condition remained for some time after being taken home. She is yet suffering from the result of the accident. Boys should be more careful in skating, and at least should not be permitted to use the sidewalk.

We understand that we are to have an organization of the Women's Christian Temperance Union on Thursday, Feb. 18, at 3 o'clock, when the sisters of all the denominations will (D. V.) meet in the Temperance Hall. Mrs. T. W. C. will be present, also Mrs. Chittick, representative of Franchise. A public meeting will be held on the evening of the same day, at 8 o'clock, in the Baptist Church, where addresses will be given by some of the W. C. T. U. clergyman, and other things will be furnished by a table drawn from the different churches.

The following statement of the returns of the last election may be of interest to our readers at this time:

Table with 3 columns: Name, Votes, Percentage. Lists candidates like Sheild's Mills, Kinross, Scott's Bay, etc.

Borden's majority 161 161. A free sample package of the wonder-working E. D. C. mailed to any address.

CORRESPONDENCE.

To the Editor of the ACADIAN: Mr. Editor, - A writer in the last ACADIAN seems to have touched upon the right sentiment when he advises the electors of King's County to elect a representative in sympathy with the Government. We have heard it on all sides from the Opposition, that sentiment is all a farce; what we need is trade with the United States and a high tariff with the rest of the world will be best for us, let us have it by all means; if political union or even annexation will benefit us, let us have that, even if we sever every tie of patriotism or industry with the Mother Country. Now, Mr. Editor, I cannot agree with these sentiments. I can never be willing that discrimination be made against our own motherland in favor of another nation. I cannot support a policy which tends, as in my mind unrestricted reciprocity tends, to the sacrifice of our future as a nation in annexation to the United States. In an election campaign, when the policy of a Government or a party was at stake, I would support that policy - and honor one who did likewise - which I considered would be for the best interests of my country. But, Mr. Editor, such is not the case in the present political campaign. The issue is not the policy of a Government, but the person of a man. Dr. Borden is re-elected for this county. Under such circumstances I would dispose to follow the course defended by the Liberal party and vote for the man - whatever my political sentiment might be - who would do the most for my personal interests. Who this man is, is plain. It may be asked, is it just that a county should not receive as great a share of patronage because its representative is in the Opposition? Whether it is just or not, we know it is the case with every Government. It is the case with the Dominion Government. I am not attempting to justify it. No honest man would presume to hint - in the face of the practices of the party in Provincial politics - that the present Opposition would not differently were they in power. Such is the case and we have no means of remedying it. Moreover if it were not the case - if an Opposition member had the same influence as a Government member - it is evident from Dr. Borden's past career that his influence in the Government would be extremely meagre. It is well known to honest readers that the concessions which his eloquence secures in the Commons are extremely rare; the occasions on which he says anything, rarer. His voice is not heard so often as he would have us imagine, nor does he speak to the printing press. When his lips do open it is in slender and malignancy toward the Premier and his ministry. Could such a man reasonably expect any favor for himself or his constituency while pursuing such a course? It is evident that the Liberal party can lose nothing by the defeat of Dr. Borden. There would result a satisfaction to them in his reelection - the satisfaction of the man who becomes indignant at the flour dealer and refuses to purchase from him. "One thing," said he, "I'll have the satisfaction of starving to death." I need not add that it is very unsatisfactory satisfaction. Now, Mr. Editor, the question is, are the people of King's County going to elect a representative who will bring some benefit to them or are they going to have the satisfaction of being liberally represented at all in the Dominion Government? Are they going to be wise in their generation or elect Dr. Borden? I think any intelligent man will at once agree with me that, if we study our own interests outside of this false sentiment of party politics, we will send the man to represent us in Parliament who may be able to obtain for our county some consideration. PRAT & COLLINS, Wolfville, February 12th, 1892.

To the Electors of King's County: To-morrow you will be asked to step up and deposit your ballots for or against the Liberal-Conservative Government at Ottawa. You should bear in mind first of all that it matters very little to the Government whether you support it or not as a matter of fact. The majority has been fully sustained without you and even the most sanguine Liberal if he has any sense at all will not claim any hope of upsetting the Government for the present. The question then is almost entirely a personal one, and if King's wants to get her fair share of patronage it certainly seems the most fitting that she should send as her representative a man who is not only backed by the voice of the county he represents but is personally popular and in sympathy with the Government.

What is the use of a kicker up there when the kicker can't kick. Dr. Borden no doubt is a good man in private life and in that sense he sets the county a good example by looking out strictly for himself and his own interests first and others afterwards, but he is no more use to King's Co. at Ottawa than last year's snow is for sleighing on this winter. And just a word about trade policy. The Liberal policy is wholly based on a reciprocity treaty with the U.S. They have never attempted to formulate any policy which did not depend for its first principle upon the action of a foreign and a considerable extent a hostile government. I ask you then, gentlemen, what count will they take when the United States refuse their treaty (provided they ever get a chance to propose a treaty which God forbid). Why they must in the nature of things fall back upon the National Policy, the only policy capable of standing on its own merits in Canada and the only policy having the elements of self-preservation in its composition. Now I ask you again would you be willing to trust any man to run your farm who told you yesterday that the ground was so good, would not be a waste of money. A man would starve to death who attempted to live on it, it was useless to attempt to improve it and putting any expense on it would only be a waste of money. If not how can you consistently countenance a party who has done nothing in 20 years but to ruin their country and cry it down, who has predicted disaster and misfortune to every enterprise we have attempted, who has hurried ruin upon the wealth of the country, who steadily advanced from 93 to 107. A party which has never in all its weary years of opposition had a single good word to say for the country to which it owes its living.

Dr. Borden tells you that the duty of 75 cents per barrel on flour makes you pay 75 cents on every barrel of flour you buy. Just set down and figure out how much a duty on potatoes of $1.00 per barrel would raise the price of potatoes to King's Co., and then see where the flour duty comes in, for the cases are parallel.

But, you say, we can send our potatoes to Boston by rail, and if there was no duty we could get back by the same rail, and save money. Exactly, and so you can now and pay no duty, for Belgium & Hanan will buy your potatoes and pay you in Canadian flour which they are buying in bond and on which you will not and do not pay one cent of duty.

The fact is the worthy Doctor lies about the flour duty and he knows it perfectly well.

Now, gentlemen, don't you see the point. The Liberal policy is really no policy, and means simply when directed of its mean tricks, "let into power" and let do just what is best for the now, except that they never had been enough to formulate such a policy it is safe to assume they have not brains enough to carry it out.

The Liberal party is dead and its death is solely due to the stupid reality of a few men, and the senseless notions foolishness is the sponsor will a new party with a sensible, workable policy rise up and assist in making this country the magnificent success it is capable of being and which it is your duty to see it made.
