Evelyn Starr's Recital.

A delightful young violinist, Evelyn Starr, came down to New York Iron Canada (Nowa Scola) last week and gave a recital on her chosen in strument at Acollan Hall, on the evening of Tuesday, November 24th She was not entirely unheralded, for a good sized anticipative audience greeted her, bestowed flowers upon her and listened to an interesting program composed of classic and modern nambers. These were the Vitali 'Cha conne,' Corelli's 'I a Polla,' Bruch's Coctok Pantaise,' Fibich's 'Poem,' Ceser Cui's 'Oriental' and 'Perpetuum Mobile,' Schubert-Aner's 'Moment Musical' and the Wieniawski. 'Souvenir de Moscow.'

The quiet spirit which denotes more than polite a trend in the spirit which signifies intent interest and enjoyment, pervaded the atmosphere of Acollan Hall during her playing and this, with the numerous apontaneous recalls, gave satisfactory eighted the trish hills, or floated through yelliers, the Leinster Regiment, while, indeed, probably in every other loyal regiment in the service of Acollan Hall during her playing and this, with the numerous apontaneous recalls, gave satisfactory eight enters. Canada in her history is indebted to one of the soons of Tipperary. The late General Sir William Brancis Butler, as Captain Butler, offered his services to Colonel Woiseley is 1870, at the outbreak of the Riel rebellion His services were accepted and were most valuable. Later he made, at the request of the Canadian government, a trip by dog sled to the Rockies, embodying his experience in a book, 'The Great Loue Land.' It was in this book that Captain Butler sug.
