Out of the Question.

There are many simple souls in the British Empire who are animated with mistaken ideas of sympathy for the German people. Doubtless some of the class dwell within our own borders, for it has often been expressed that we are not fighting the German people but German militarism and autocracy. Nothing can be farther from the truth. We are fighting the whole Teutonic powers, as they are fighting the Allied countries. Governments, peoples and the whole weight of every influence thrown into the welter of war, and the German people support with all their might the Kaiser, the Army and the Navy, so that it is idle to say or believe that the German people are opposed to the present war. There is an evil too in this promulgation of erroneous sentiment, an evil which is a very present one, and that is that so much of this nauseating expression is allowed to go unchallenged, that already pleas for generosity toward the Hun, when the time comes for the making of peace terms, are being heard. No body who has studied and closely examined the characteristics of the German, would be silly enough to put forward a recommendation that he be treated with generosity. He does not understand the meaning of the word. There is no generosity in the German nature and they look upon it in the British as a national weakness and as an evidence that we are a nation stricken with fear. No impudent plea for sympathy must be allowed to interfere with the clipping of the talons of the German Eagle. The last four years has offered convincing proof that generosity and humanity are non-existent in the German mind and nature. Belgium, the murder of Poland, the ravaging of Northern France, we dare not close our eyes to the horrors inflicted upon defenseless women, children and old men by the brutal soldiery of Germany and treat with that nation on the assumption that it is an honorable one. To do so would be an open invitation for them to repeat their heinous performances of the past four years, so soon as they were in a position to again do so. What nation was more generously treated by the English people than Germany, the markets of the United Kingdom were thrown open to her manufacturers and while German goods were piling into English markets on the favored nation principle, the "generous" German built a huge tariff barrier against British goods. Other instances could be quoted and multiplied, and there is no reason now to believe that generosity will produce any different results in the future. The leopard cannot change his spots, neither the German his nature, and there is but the one way to treat the Teutons in the final making up. Could pardon be instantaneously granted for all the hideous crimes of those peoples? Or do we would but be encouragement for these uncivilizable barbarians to plan future attacks on peaceful peoples, and the utter desecration of human liberty. There can be no generosity shown toward the Hun.

Notes and Comments

Recent reports from Germany via travellers state that Von Hindenburg is not dead, but very ill, and newspapers are not permitted to mention it. Old Von must have as many lives as a cat.

The German people cannot understand why their submarines are unable to prevent the landing of a million American in France. The Swiss paper LeDemocrate sarcastically remarks "It is prudent and safer for German U boats to sing unarmored hospital ships, than to attack a protected American transport." Even the smallest nation now appreciates at its worth Prussian bluster.

A Scottish schoolboy of ten years, according to the Glasgow Herald, contributed the following sentence to his composition on the war, last month: "The courage of the Turks is explained by the fact that a man with a lot of wives is more willing to die than if he had only one." The wisdom of Solomon could go no farther.

The "Baltimore Sun" says: - It takes a lot of nerve to stand behind a counter and charge a man two dollars for a necktie out of the same stock you were selling off for twenty-five cents four weeks ago, and explain to him that the advance in price is due to the scarcity of material." The commentator wonders how many similar cases have happened in St. John since 1914.

King George having placed the seal of his approval on buckwheat cake and maple syrup, it is to be hoped that local vendors of these articles will not raise the price thereof.

Kilbride Garden Party

The garden party held at Kilbride yesterday was a great success and was very largely attended. Among those present were many of the city and outport clergy, Christian Brothers and prominent men from the city. The ladies committee were kept busy with their tables, etc. A most enjoyable programme of events and side shows under the charge of Mr. J. Doyle added much to the pleasure of the visitors. The T. A. Band discoursed some very fine selections, etc. The Rev. Father Coady, the ladies, Mr. E. Conolly, chairman, and his energetic committee are to be congratulated on the success of the day's entertainment, the best yet held in the parish. An old time country dance in the Club Hall closed up a most enjoyable and successful day's entertainment.

THIS EVENING'S GAME.
The second game in the Mount

St. Bon's Re-Union. Arrested for Contempt of Court.

What was unanimously voted as the most sociable and successful reunion of the "Old Boys" of St. Bonaventura's College, took place this morning in the old school. A large and representative gathering greeted His Grace the Archbishop when he appeared at 8 o'clock to officiate. His Grace celebrated Solemn Requiem Mass for the repose of the souls of all those who died the first and on the Florizel disaster, but more especially for the members of the Association. His Grace also gave the Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament. It was edifying to see the veterans in khaki again serving in the sanctuary as they did in the days of their boyhood. A special feature of the celebration was the music of the choir, it was impressive and soul-stirring, placed the credit on Rev. Bro. Fennesse, the choir-leader, and Mr. E. Devereaux, the organist. After the ceremonies the guests sat in a bountiful breakfast supplied by another veteran of the great war, Serg. J. Robinson. At each place was an artistic souvenir of the event, giving all details of the ceremonies, especially to the memorials for the boys who made all for the Association. Rev. F. Cullane, Vice-President, after reading a message of congratulation from the founder of the Association, Rev. F. Cullane, a message that was received with the greatest enthusiasm, for all the "boys" love Mr. Cullane, and he is the creator of the day, W. R. Howley, Esq., K.C., and was universally agreed that Mr. Howley rose easily to the standard set by previous orators, if he did not excel them, and in an eloquent and impressive speech, with "his phrase well-chosen, and his words of force," he ranked himself amongst the "First of the first."

After the oration His Grace in his usually masterly manner, addressed the Association and his remarks were punctuated by frequent applause. His Lordship, Bishop, P. J. Power, also made a short and witty speech, and brought the function to a close with the feeling that each and all had just experienced the happiest and pleasantest re-union of the series. A photo of the company was taken by Mr. J. C. Parsons.

Only a few More Days.

There are only a few more days left in which to take advantage of one of the most attractive investments ever placed upon the local market—the NEWFOUNDLAND VICTORY LOAN.

It is very gratifying to know that the original figure, namely, $2,000,000 has been reached and overpaid. But we must not rest on our oars. We must keep continually on the job. If our soldiers were to consider their work done after they had made an advance and gained their objective, they would not get very far, and the war might last for ever. We must not consider we have done all our duty by oversubscribing this VICTORY LOAN. There must be very many more yet who for one reason or another have not as yet availed of this exceptional opportunity to deposit their money in an absolutely safe loan, paying such a high rate of interest as 4 1/2 per cent. These folks should consider the two aspects of the matter—their duty to our soldiers, and their duty to themselves—either one of which view points must conclusively convince them as to where their obligation lies. Newfoundland expects that in this, her hour of trial, every one of her sons will do his duty. The question for you to answer is: "Have you done yours?" If not, do it before the 27th instant by subscribing to the VICTORY LOAN.

League Football.

B. I. S. and Collegians Draw.
The league football game last evening between the B. I. S. and Collegians resulted in a draw, both teams scoring one goal.

In the first round Stimmis, of the B. I. S. scored the first, and it was not till the second that Quick placed the leather for the Collegians. Everybody remarked the difference in the standard of playing of last year and this season, the combination work being much better.

Mr. J. J. St. John was referee, and the line-up was:

Collegians—Heath, goal; Chancy, Barrett, backs; Elton, Foster, Bartlett, halves; Smith, Quick, Joffe, Goble, Luther, forwards.

B. I. S.—Phelan, goal; Duggan, Power, backs; Thompson, Burke, Fox, halves; Devine, Kavanagh, Stimmis, Brien, Muir, forwards.

Western Notes.

The weather about Channel has been very parch-dry of late and fishermen are seriously handicapped. To add to the situation bait is exceedingly scarce. Since the resumption of the daily express service considerable numbers of tourists and anglers are coming to the country via Port aux Basques. Men boats on the river are filled with freight every trip and the company's employees are kept busy unloading and re-shipping. Rev. Mr. Williams, succeeding Rev. G. L. Mercer, of the Methodist Church, recently arrived at Channel, and will assume his religious duties at once. Mrs. and Miss James will shortly be leaving for St. John's, where they will reside in future, Mr. James being already there.

Obituary.

ELIZABETH MACKAY.
Last evening, after a long illness, Elizabeth Mackay, widow of the late A. M. Mackay, Superintendent of the Anglo-American Telegraph Co. in Newfoundland, entered into rest. Deceased was eighty years of age, having been born in Pictou, Nova Scotia, in 1838, and came to Newfoundland with her husband shortly after the laying of the first Atlantic Cable. Mrs. Mackay was deeply interested in the social welfare of her adopted home, and accomplished much good in the community. Unostentatiously were her charities directed from the quiet of her home, but they were none the less far reaching. Left to mourn are three daughters; Mrs. (Capt.) Melville, Mrs. C. W. Marshall and Mrs. T. McNeil; three sons: L. Gower Mackay, of Sidney, C. R. W. A., of St. John's and Eric working with the Westinghouse Electrical Company, in Kansas City, U. S. A. A daughter (Mrs. R. G. Rendell) preceded her mother about two years ago. The Telegram extends the sympathy of its readers to the bereaved relatives.

THOMAS J. McGRATH.
At 46 Water Street East, yesterday, Mr. Thomas J. McGrath, blacksmith, was called away. Deceased was one of our most widely known citizens and as a tradesman stood in high repute. He conducted an extensive business in the East End for a number of years. One son, P. W. McGrath, M. M. of Ours, made the supreme sacrifice in France. Rev. Dr. McGrath, Ferryland, is another son. To the mourners sincere sympathies are extended.

Help to Win the War by Using Less Flour

Oaten Bread Recipe:

TAKE
1 sifter full of Ogilvie's "STANDARD" Flour and 1 sifter full of Ogilvie's ROLLED OATS
THEN
Scald the Rolled Oats with 2 cupsful of boiling water. Make sponge with 1/2 yeast cake and one cup of Ogilvie's "Standard" Flour; then add the Rolled Oats—after allowing sufficient time for them to cool.
ADD
1 tablespoonful of Butter,
2 teaspoonfuls of Salt,
1 1/2 tablespoonfuls of Sugar.
Knead well, adding Ogilvie's "STANDARD" as required to give it the proper texture before proceeding to bake.

The above recipe will make a Wholesome and Delicious Bread.
