Further Loans.

Discussing right and wrong methods of borrowing on Saturday, the Daily News believes that a new loan is inevitable, its contemplated sum being between five and six million dollars. After the revelations of the past few days, only one conclusion can be arrived at, the Government will have to float a new loan very shortly to meet certain demands on the Treasury, which will be neither small nor insignificant. There is apparently going to be a shake-up in railway affairs. There is much talk that the Government is seriously considering the taking over of the whole system from the Reid Company, and operating the trunk and branch lines under Commission. There is also reports current that the Reid Company is preparing, in anticipation of Government transfer, large claims against the Colony, for rolling stock and work done, said claims, it is alleged, running into millions of dollars. These will be filed in due course. Such claims are undoubtedly large, and no person can gainsay that in the event of purely Government control of the railway service, the Reids have to be reimbursed, according to the contracts entered into. But the text of these agreements provided for payment only on the surrender of the railway at the end of the contractual period, 20 or more years of which have yet to run. If it is correct, however, that the Government intends to take hold of the railway and operate it as a public ownership utility, something must have transpired to bring this about. The recent resignation of the Chairman of the Railway Management Committee, and his retention by the Government in an advisory capacity is a straw which shows in which direction the wind is blowing. The Government scarcely needs an advisor if they are not contemplating a transfer of the system. The guarantee of one million and a half dollars to meet operating losses up to that sum, can be checked by accountants. Of course being saddled with this huge sum in addition to that which the Colony had to pay during the year 1920-21, the original Railway Commission must be held responsible. If the contractors did at any time express their inability to run the railway, then was the time for the Government to have offered an ultimatum. "Operate or give it up" should have been the alternative. But instead of that the Government started in to wet nurse the system, Newfoundland supplying the milk, the bill for which came to a million and a quarter of dollars. Next, of course, came the larger annual guarantee, to pay which it is possible as well as probable that a portion of the contemplated loan is intended. Newfoundland is surely paying tribute toward her desire for changes of Government and building of railways. With another six million loan tacked on to the public debt, the Colony will soon begin to preen up and take part in international affairs. Yet the legacy of the blunders and extravagances of our present rulers will be as a chain around the necks of future generations for all time.

Wedding of Princess Mary.

SET FOR TO-MORROW.
The wedding of Her Royal Highness, the Princess Mary, has been fixed for Tuesday, 28th February inst. No instructions have been issued by His Majesty the King regarding special observance of the day, except with regard to the flying of flags. The Government have directed that flags shall be flown from all public buildings on that day. It is thought that a good many citizens in this loyal town of St. John's will desire to honour the occasion in like manner.

Swimming Pool Re-Opens.

The Swimming Pool at the Sea-side Institute will reopen on March 1st. During the past few weeks it has been thoroughly renovated and four new shower baths have been installed. Under the capable management of Mr. A. E. Holmes, the pool is common with the other parts of the Institute will always be in perfect condition.

New Weekly.

The latest weekly newspaper to make its debut, is Saturday Night, a very well edited and printed journal issued by Messrs E. A. Smith and T. J. Foran, both experienced knights of the pencil. Saturday Night is a four page issue with seven columns to the page. It claims to be independent of all political, denominational or social ties, and according to its motto is "a weekly newspaper devoted to the interests of the whole community." A prospectus printed on the front page explains the reason for the birth of Saturday Night. The editorial, news and feature columns are replete with interesting local and foreign news and articles topical of the times. Altogether the ensemble of Saturday Night is attractive, and there is every prospect of its enduring for so long as it stands by the doctrines promulgated in the first issue. Congratulations to the publishers, Saturday Night is printed off the Plaisance press.

R. C. Church Notes.

It was announced in the Roman Catholic Church of the city yesterday that the collection to create a Palace Re-building Fund, would be taken up at the Church doors at the Masses next Sunday.
His Grace, the Archbishop, occupied the pulpit at St. Patrick's Church at last Mass yesterday. In the course of his remarks he referred at length to the destruction of the Palace last year, and the movement that was now being inaugurated for its restoration, which he said was a matter of diocesan import, and should be shared in not only by the Cathedral, but by every Parish in the Archdiocese. The Archbishop felt that as a result of united, a new Palace would soon arise on the ruins of the old.

At the K. of C. Memorial Building, Cathedral Square, an important meeting of the heads of all the Catholic Societies and Organizations were held, and was addressed at length by His Grace the Archbishop. There were representatives of eighteen different organizations present, who will discuss during the week with their members the manner in which they can most effectively assist in the work of restoring the Episcopal Palace.

At the conclusion of the Archbishop's address, Mr. W. J. Higgins, President of the B.J.S., the oldest institution on behalf of those present, pledged their unanimous support, and felt that he was voicing the sentiments of all when he assured His Grace that he could rely on the co-operation of all the Catholic organizations in the City in the important diocesan work he was undertaking.

Destitution at Avondale.

STORE BROKEN INTO—MESSAGE FROM DR. JONES.

Special to Evening Telegram.
AVONDALE, To-day.
Condition of unemployed becoming desperate. One store broken into and provisions taken. Outside some timber cutting on shore, there is no relief work in the district. Early in winter asked Government to have timber to repair wharves and break water cut locally. No response. Later, asked to have the roads shovelled by people in need. Nothing was done. Notified Premier that destitution threatened, and asked for passes for Bell Island. There was no reply. In January a body of men contemplated visiting the city to demand work, as the example of the city unemployed showed this to be the only argument the Government understood. Expectations of the opening of mines held back. No pass coming. Meeting held but blockade prevented action. Every request of mine to Government ignored, while other Opposition representatives were consulted about their districts. I know this is part of a campaign against me, personally, but why penalize the needy who are paying their share of the public monies spent elsewhere. Tuesday's Advocate says, five thousand dollars supplementary supply has been passed for work of Bell Island besides opening of mines to assist unemployed; $15,000 a week spent in St. John's. Why this discrimination? With starvation imminent and no work, how long does the Government expect the people to stand it?

The Government and the Railway.

MR. MORGAN IS ADVISOR.
It is now definitely known that Mr. R. O. Morgan is acting in an advisory capacity to the Government on Railway matters. His leave of absence from the C.P.R. expires shortly but may be extended. That the Prime Minister has no intention of permitting the Railway to be controlled by the Reid's without Government supervision, is commonly reported, and if necessary, the Railway will be taken over. The Reid's claim that under contract, they own a certain portion of the Railway outfit, including rolling stock and stations, and in the event of the Government taking over control, they will enter claims to the value of this stock.

Has Nothing to Say.

PREMIER DECLINES TO BE INTERVIEWED ON LOAN.
A reporter of the Telegram called upon the Prime Minister this morning and brought to his attention an article, which stated that it was an interview between the News and the Minister of Finance with respect to a proposed loan. The Prime Minister declined to give an interview in connection with any loan matters. Our reporter then handed him copy of the interview and the Prime Minister read it through, and said that he was not prepared to either confirm or deny any of the statements therein contained. On being pressed to make some statement he declined to be interviewed.

The outfit consists of two complete airships, a gas plant and all necessary accessories. This outfit was presented to the Government by the British Air Ministry, and was a part of the huge stores left after the war, and which had been distributed amongst all the colonies.
