

LATEST SPORTING NOTES.

Philadelphia has signed Gilliland, the left handed "phenom."

It is said that the Newark are after the ex-Philadelphia pitcher.

Mul Keffe isn't much of a terror to Mul. Mul recently made five hits in six at bat off Tim's delivery.

Beiss was fined $5 at Rochester on Wednesday and Larocque $25 on Thursday for making back to the substitute umpire.

Some of the Blenheim sports are talking of getting up a three days' race meeting in August, at which $1,800 will be offered in purses.

It is reported that the managers of the Cleveland club are negotiating for the sale of McKean, Sprague, Snyder and one of the regular players.

The White Sulphur Springs Base Ball Club, through their captain, A. B. Adair, challenge any hotel team in the city to play a friendly game.

Sullivan having refused Jem Smith's challenge, Smith claims the Police Gazette belt. Smith is ready to fight anybody for the belt and $1,000 a side.

Dunning, of the Tecumsehs, formerly of the Pittsburghs and Flushing, recently pitched three games and won all of them for the Harrisburg, Pa., team.

The Lornes, of Mount Forest, won the lacrosse championship of the North-western District by defeating the Shelburnes on Thursday, by a score of 4 to 2.

Manager Mutrie is very much dissatisfied with the playing of the Giants. Unless there is a vast improvement in some quarters the riot act will be read shortly.

The Boston will have a tough time of it in Philadelphia. Harry Wright counts on two sure, and some of his players expect to duplicate their act with the Giants.

Morris has been examined by the Pittsburgh club's physician, and ordered to lay off for an indefinite length of time. Some of the muscles of Morris' abdomen were found to be ruptured.

The Syracuse Courier says:—"McGuire is a great man for Toronto. He was bounced from the League because he was too fat and heavy. He now has about the right weight, and is playing great ball."

Dooms and Duffy, whose exhibition with the Newark Club created so much talk after the game at Jersey City, have been fined by Manager Trotter. It is alleged that they imbibed too freely previous to the game.

New York Sun:—"The Jersey City had Bauswein in yesterday, for his first game he did good work. His only fault is that he ties himself up in a knot before he pitches the ball, thereby giving base stealers an easy chance to purloin bases."

S. McMillan, of Philadelphia, has a fast four-year-old in the Electioneer colt Governor Stanford, and he also has a jewel in the black colt Director's Jug by Director out of the dam of Little Brown Jug and Brown Hall.

The match at Toronto between the Toronto and Kingston cricket clubs yesterday was won by Toronto. Kingston went to bat first and made 47 runs. Toronto responded with 97. Kingston in the second innings made 97. Toronto, winning 48 only to win, sent four to bat and got them.

It is rumored that the New York club is negotiating for Andrews, of the Philadelphia team. Manager Mutrie and Andrews held a long conference yesterday. Mutrie, when interrogated, looked wise and opined that Andrews was a good man. He refused to say that New York did not want him.

W. P. Batch has put up the $10,000 for the National stallion stake to be trotted for at Beacon Park, Boston, September 19. More horses are entered than there ever were before in any stallion race, and it promises to eclipse the famous race trotted in Rochester on July 4, 1881, when Robert McGregor and Francis Alexander had such a fierce battle, which the latter won.

The Watford Driving Park Association will hold a summer meeting on Wednesday, August 7th, 1889, when $500 in purses will be hung up. The programme is 2:35 trot, open to trotters and pacers; purse $150, divided as follows: $85, $40, $25. Three minute trot, open to trotters and pacers; purse $125, divided as follows: $65, $35, $25. Half mile run; purse $100, divided: $60, $25, $15. Five furlongs run; purse $125, divided: $65, $35, $25.

The Detroit Free Press says:—"On Monday the Peninsulars start on a short Canadian tour, playing Chatham, London, the London Asylum Club and probably Galt. Hamilton was to be included in the tour, but cricket is at such a low ebb in that town that, although early in the season they talked of a tour, they can no longer raise a team to play on their own grounds, although the Peninsulars owe them a match."

Rochester Herald:—"Catcher Miah Murray, of the Tecumsehs, who was called to Boston on Monday evening by the serious illness of his wife, has telegraphed his friends here that his new-born child is dead. Murray had been notified to report here Thursday, to catch the afternoon game, as Catcher Kinslow, who was injured, will be laid up for several days. Murray, of course, cannot come, and the Londoners are left without a catcher."

When Farrell, the Chicago catcher, went to Anson a few days ago, and asked for a leave of absence so that he could bury his mother-in-law, the "old man," according to ex-Umpire George Washington Barnum, almost laughed himself into a fit. As soon as he could catch his breath again, after the extraordinary request was made, old Anson called his players around him, and pointing to Farrell said: "Boys, look at him! There's a man who actually wants to attend his mother-in-law's funeral, when he has a chance to play base ball. Who ever heard of the like? Nixy, Farrell, you can't come it over Anse. Mother-in-law funerals don't go. Then the old man wandered away alone and laughed until his red face became purple."

THE LONDON CRICKET CLUB.

The long-talked-of match between the First eleven and Second twenty-two came off yesterday afternoon, and contrary to general expectation, resulted in a win for the twenty-two, after a closely-contested game.

The eleven were weakened by the absence of Mr. H. C. Pope, who has not yet returned to town, and Britten, who was loaned by the eleven to the twenty-two for the sake of his bowling, the places of these two players on the eleven being well filled by Messrs. Becher and Charles Wood.

The twenty-two went to the wickets, and at first looked all over the winners, having lost only four men for 35 runs, but after that a "rot" set in, the whole twenty-two being disposed of for only 74 runs. The only stand was made by Mr. Watson and Britten (one of the eleven, by the way) for 13 and 11 respectively. The "cracks" did not make much of a stand against the capital bowing of Britten and Grew, backed up by the cluster of fielders, who were evidently determined to win, as the score will show—

The twenty-two winning by 13 runs. This ended the most exciting and enjoyable match of the season, the only wonder being that the eleven got any runs with such a capital twenty-two in the field.

To-day's match—L. C. C. vs. Military—will no doubt be a good one. Captain Young has strengthened his team amongst the "volunteers," while his "regulars" are too good to be easily disposed of.

The L. C. C. will put her best foot forward, with the assistance of as many of the first eleven as can be upon the ground at 2:30 p. m. sharp, and the rest picked from the all-comers who may be present.

NO. 1 COMMITTEE.

The Sale of Central School Lots Arranged for Last Night.

A meeting of No. 1 Committee was held last night, the members present being Ald. Callard (Chairman), Skinner, Taylor and the Mayor and Treasurer Pope.

The sale of the Central School Lots was discussed. The Engineer was instructed to prepare plans of the lots for sale on August 15, and it was decided to sell the Waterloo South and Horton street properties on the same day. Mr. J. W. Jones taking the contract for 3 of 1 per cent.

The petition of E. Leonard & Sons for a uniform rate of taxation was laid over. Petitions for remission were received from Sarah Tweedy (filed); Ann Ryan, James Raftery (Inspector); Mrs. Anderson on property expropriated as part of Lyle street (granted); Jane Tibbs, vacant property (Court of Revision); F. H. Wright, income assessment (filed, no power).

B. G. Clappitt's application for remission or refund of Police Court fine of $1 was granted.

William Medland for extension of time, (filed, no power); C. H. Thorn for transfer of exemption on Rev. Mr. Bond's house; (granted); F. Love, on behalf of T. E. O'Callaghan's arrears of taxes on warehouse, rear of terrace, and offering evidence to prove that the taxes had been paid.

Mr. Pope said some of Mr. O'Callaghan's statements were wrong, and no doubt Mr. Clare, who had something to do with the collection, could give the facts of the case. Mayor Taylor said every arrears of taxes should be noted on the preceding year's assessment slip.

Referred to Mr. Clare.

The circular of the Provincial Association of High School Trustees was referred to the Board of Education.

It was decided to procure the written opinion of the City Solicitor as to the powers of separate assessment in No. 5 Ward for street improvements, etc.

Accounts amounting to $1,123.19 were passed.

Adjourned.

MUSIC AND DRAMA.

E. A. McDowell is running a successful season at St. John, N. B.

Ida Van Cortlandt is taking a long rest at her summer home on Gibraltar Island, in Muskoka Lake.

"Our Senator's Wife" is the title of a new play from the pen of a son of James G. Blaine, U. S. Secretary of State. It deals with society life at Washington.

It is said that one of the Cleveland-Haverly Japs who played here last spring is the father of the original Little All Right, who created such a sensation about fifteen years ago.

Wilson Barrett has had 800 applications from American actors to join him on his return to New York from England. But he is to bring his own English company, most of whom have been with him for years.

An ambitious but timid amateur was presenting Macduff last season. On his observing "My voice is in my sword," the whole audience heard the stage manager, behind the scenes, say in a hoarse whisper, "I'm glad you told us, Harry; we were just wondering what had become of it."

The Dramatic Mirror laments the decline and scarcity of American plays, whereas the Brooklyn Ensign contends that there are plenty of good American plays; but American managers still worship false gods and will spend $5,000 hunting through Europe for a play, rather than put $1,000 into a native drama.

The North-western Amusement Company, which was supposed to give strong financial backing to comic opera at Indianapolis, has taken wings, and J. T. Dalton, W. J. Herbert, Patti Stone and the rest are left in the lurch. They played three weeks and received one week's salary. The business had been good, but the manager skipped with the funds, and the wealthy people who had promised to aid the enterprise repudiated their obligations.

The third act of Bric-a-Brac, Frank Tannehill's new farce comedy, will open in an unexplored part of Africa where the merry-makers of the first two acts have been carried by a rebellious air ship, which metaphorically kicks the traces and flies heavenward at the curtain of the second act. A supernatural creature named It presides over this weird region, and before her precipitated American party are made to bow lowly. Susceptible to flattery and fond of fun, the actor colony devise ways of entertainment, both unique and reckless, to make themselves the more solid with the strange ruler.

The comedy, and after a diversity of lively amusement, the last party are permitted to wing their way homeward in the restored balloon.

A London correspondent writes that Verdi's new opera Otello is going strong and well on alternate nights at the Lyceum. He also says that the performance at the Empire, in Leicester Square, for his Duskiness the Shah, was the brightest and most brilliant thing of the kind ever attempted on that side of the water, and that is saying a great deal. The performance given on the stage consisted of the two big ballets now running at the Empire, sandwiched with some acrobats (the Craggs), a juggler (Paul Cinqueval), some horizontal bar performers (Walton and Mora) and Mrs. Alice Shaw, the American whistler, the latter of whom proved one of the most popular items in the programme. The Shah seemed both puzzled and delighted with the melody discoursed by her.

A Paris correspondent writes that the new fairy piece, Prince Soleil, just produced at the Chatelet, is a great success. It has twenty-two tableaux, eighteen hundred costumes, two ballets, two fées, a pantomime, etc., etc. Each scene is dazzling and fairytale. M. Léon Vasseur, the writer for the spectacle a score of twenty-three numbers, including ballet music, songs, dances and choruses. The plot of the piece turns upon the love of Prince Soleil, a young Indian prince, for a Swedish girl named Ellena Piperboom, daughter of a botanical professor, whom he meets while on a voyage around the world. As soon as the Maharajah learns of this youthful passion he sends his ambassador, Misaur, to bring the prince back to India. But Sir Thomas Chipp, an English diplomatist who, in the interest of England, protects and encourages Prince Soleil in his love affair, thwarts all of Misaur's plans. This idea permits the authors—Messrs. Raymond and Burain—to imagine a series of extraordinary adventures in various parts of the world, beginning at Stockholm and continuing in Portugal, Spain, Gibraltar, the Indian Ocean, Japan and India. At the end the Prince marries Ellena.

"What D'ye Lack, Gentles?"

"What d'ye lack, Gentles, what d'ye lack?" Long ago that was the cry of the London apprentice as he stood by stall or booth which displayed his master's wares.

THAT WAS BEFORE THE TIME OF ADVERTISING,

When indeed all mercantile occupations were held in contempt as if the handling of goods left a fouler stain than the handling of

The Bloody Sword.

A great change has come over the world. The apprentice with his apprentice cry has disappeared in the limbo of the past. In his place goes forth the advertisement which still echoes the question, What d'ye lack? Geo. Wood & Co. ask that question, knowing that whatever your answer may be, if it includes anything in the dry goods line from a Thimble to a Trouseau, they can supply it. They keep the most extensive stock of goods in London, and pride themselves on their choice selections of seasonable goods in all departments. If you want variety to choose from, if you like to look at handsome goods and buy at close prices, ask for
