SPARKLES

A good tea sparkles as it pours, creams as it cooks. That's typical of the youngest tea on the market.

Melon-Growing in the Okanagan

There is a certain market-gardener at Summerland, a little settlement on the shores of the Okanagan Lake in British Columbia, who has made his ten acres famous for cantaloupes, egg plants and peppers. He has five acres of can-taloupes from which last season he shipped 1,200 crates averaging $3.00 gross per crate.

They are grown on the usual
"hill" system 5 x 8 ft. apart and well watered and fertilized. Mr. A.
McLachlan in his winter lettuce house, Summerland, B.C.

From 1/2 acre of early seedling-cumbers the grower makes at least 3 pickings in the season, taking from 110-125 boxes at each picking.
These average a clear profit of 70 cents per box, the prices varying from 60 cents up to $2.00 according to the market.

DALHOUSIE

Albert Savoy died at his home here on Wednesday, the funeral being held on Friday morning. The Rev. Fr.
Hart was the officiating priest. The late Mr. Savoy was thirty years of age, leaves to mourn his loss a wife and two young children. Much sympathy is expressed for the bereaved ones.

Crows were seen last week for the first time since last fall.

Eddie Williams met with a serious and painful accident on Monday, when he sustained a fractured pelvis and internal injuries, by being thrown off a load of logs. He was working as a teamster in the employ of the P. Q.
Lumber Company, when the load upset while going down a steep and dangerous hill. The unfortunate young man was quickly extricated from his perilous position beneath the logs, placed in a light sled and driven twenty miles to his home, where Dr. W.
W. Fleck administered what aid was possible. The doctor then drove with his patient, to Campbellton, a distance of sixteen miles. An operation was immediately performed, in the newly constructed Soldiers' Memorial Hospital. Last reports were favorable.

no attempt is made to commence work.
It would have been the same with the Memorial Hospital.

The managers had all kinds of discouragement to contend with. "The Wise men" shook their head and said it couldn't be done. But they (the managers), with a shrug replied that maybe it could not, but we are the men who will not say so till we have tried.

So they buckled in with the trace of a grin.

If they felt anxious or worry they hid it.

They started to sing and they tackled the thing.

That could not be done, and they did it.

"And they did it well. It is a triumph of architectural skill and a credit to themselves and their lady assistants.

Another objection is the reckless expenditure of money. A building of half the cost and furnished much cheaper would have been just as good.
The patients would have recovered as died just the same in a cheaper outfit.

Mr. Chairman, this argument has no place in the realm of common sense. Our boys did not give us a cheap, shabby service at the front, they gave us their best and many have their all. Then why in the name of goodness should we build a cheap shabby monument to their memory.

And that is not all, it is a thank-offering to Him who doth all things blissful we enjoy. Then why should it be cheap or shabby.

The first thankoffering we have any account of were brought by Cain and Abel. Abel brought his best and it was accepted, Cain brought a cheap, shabby offering and the result was disastrous. This hospital is the best that can be got up at the present time and dedicated to His Glory with all reverence and don't worry about it's acceptance. "They never sought in

was accepted, Cain brought a cheap,

cheaper would have been just as good.
died just the same in a cheaper outfit.

Mr. Chairman, this argument has
cheap, shabby service at the front,
they gave us their best and many
shabby monument to their memory.

blissful we enjoy. Then why should it be cheap or shabby.
