Down in the Sea. A BRILLIANT STORY OF THE ONLY MAN SAVED FROM THE U. S. SHIPWOOD.

One of the saddest of sea stories, more thrilling, more tragic than the most startling to be found in sea novels...

The brigantine was commanded by Captain R. D. Taylor, and as it was with Marline Province crafts he had a share in her...

On the 4th of June, the Sherwood got out to sea from between the coasts of Maryland and Philadelphia...

When he got to the surface after a long struggle he looked around and saw the captain's nephew, a boy named Robinson, Mike Gilvery and two others...

The two survivors managed to get to the boat, but it was not till six o'clock so the two were progress. They managed to catch the sail a little and the sea righted her for them...

WHAT A MAINS FARMER FEELS HIS COWS.—Good English hay and corn meal is good enough for my cows, and is what I feed the dairy stock...

WHAT THE MEN ARE TO WEAR.—What are men going to wear this year? There is very little change in the fashions...

Agricultural.

Choking of Animals.

Turnips, potatoes and apples, bits of carrots, of best root, etc., given to our large domestic animals, sometimes stick in the gullet...

When an animal shows the symptoms before described, passing the hand down along the left side of the neck, immediately behind the windpipe, will ascertain whether a foreign body is present...

These measures fail, recourse should be had to the probang, to push the obstructing body down into the stomach. In using this instrument, it will be necessary to have the head and neck held in a straight line by one or two assistants...

BRAN AND OTHER DRY FOOD IS sometimes impacted in the gullet, but the treatment is the same as for the obstruction of the esophagus...

PUMPKIN.—By many farmers pumpkins are considered to be of so little importance among farm crops that little notice is taken of them...

WHAT A MAINS FARMER FEELS HIS COWS.—Good English hay and corn meal is good enough for my cows, and is what I feed the dairy stock...

SWEET CORN.—To ensure a succession of sweet corn, either for use as green corn or for fodder, it should be planted every two weeks until July...

BLACK KNOT IN PLUMS.—The only cure is the free use of the knife in cutting away the affected parts and then burning them.

HAVING been compelled to withdraw from the contest for the presidency, I would like to say to my friends that I am still a true friend to the cause of the Republic...

Beauty of Red Hair. One of the handsomest beads of hair I ever saw was golden hair. Very red hair is orange, and orange hair is far from beautiful; but the abundant tresses to which I refer were of the color of perfectly ripe corn, with that reddish tinge that makes the waving harvest so beautiful. Red hair, even if unlovely, has its advantages in a practical age, when a girl or woman dares not be insignificant, 'invisible,' on penalty of being nobody.

A beautiful carful with that pig. He's a daisy—a new breed just from Scotland. We've sold him to a farmer out here for $50 and we don't want anything to happen to him.

The landlord looked the pig up and then began to cogitate and suspect. When the stangers had gone to bed, he called in some of the boys and said: 'I've twigged the racket; that's two fellows are sharper, and that's a guinea pig. To-morrow they will give you a chance to guess at his weight at ten cents a guess, and you'll be cleaned out—only you won't be. At the following we will weigh the pig and beat their game.'

Next morning the pig was led around in front, and before starting out on his journey, one of the owners remarked to the assembled crowd: 'The pig is going to weigh the pig directly. Maybe some of you would like to guess on his weight? I like all guesses at ten cents each, and whoever hits it, gets fifty cents.'

This provoked a large and selected stock of winks and smiles, but no one walked up until the pig man said that any one person could guess the weight of the pig as he cared to provide a dime accompanies each guess. Then a rush set in. Three or four merchants put up fifty guesses each. A justice of the Peace took thirty. A lawyer said about twenty would do him. Before there was an end to the guessing, 600 had been registered and paid for. Every soul of them guessed at 170 lbs. It was curious what unanimity there was in the guessing, but the pig man didn't seem to notice it. When all had been given a chance, the pig was led to the scales, and to his weight was exactly 174 pounds!

'You see, gentlemen,' exclaimed the spokesman, 'while this animal only weighs 170 pounds along about 11 o'clock at night, we feed him about 5 pounds of corn meal in the morning before breakfast. You forgot to take this matter into consideration. The pig is not a pig, but a pig with a pig's accompaniment each guess. Then a rush set in. Three or four merchants put up fifty guesses each.
