Mother's Thoughts

and father's too, are always with the boy who is away at school.

What is he doing?

Where does he spend his evenings, and what company does he keep?

We know what that means. There are five heads of families on our staff.

Our specialty is manly boys. A boy can work in our classrooms because everyone is working. We plan his evenings for him, too. He learns to work at his own bidding.

And a working boy never causes trouble.

If you would learn more of a dependable school, a better-than-usual school, write for the "Story of a Business School." It's free.
