

Alex Lough, above, a director with the Lions Club, takes cover behind the club's flower booth

Of the 25 exhibitors, Ken Cooper was top artist selling more than $2,000, and Dorothy Dillabough was top exhibitor with sales totalling $1,800.

The Winchester Press Wed., Dec. 6, 1989

The Annual Mountain Township Lions Club Christmas Arts and Crafts Sale drew a large number of exhibitors to the Mountain Township Agricultural Hall in South Mountain over the weekend, much to the delight of the many customers who turned out for the event. The sale ran for three days, Friday, Saturday and Sunday and featured many unique gift items made by local artisans.

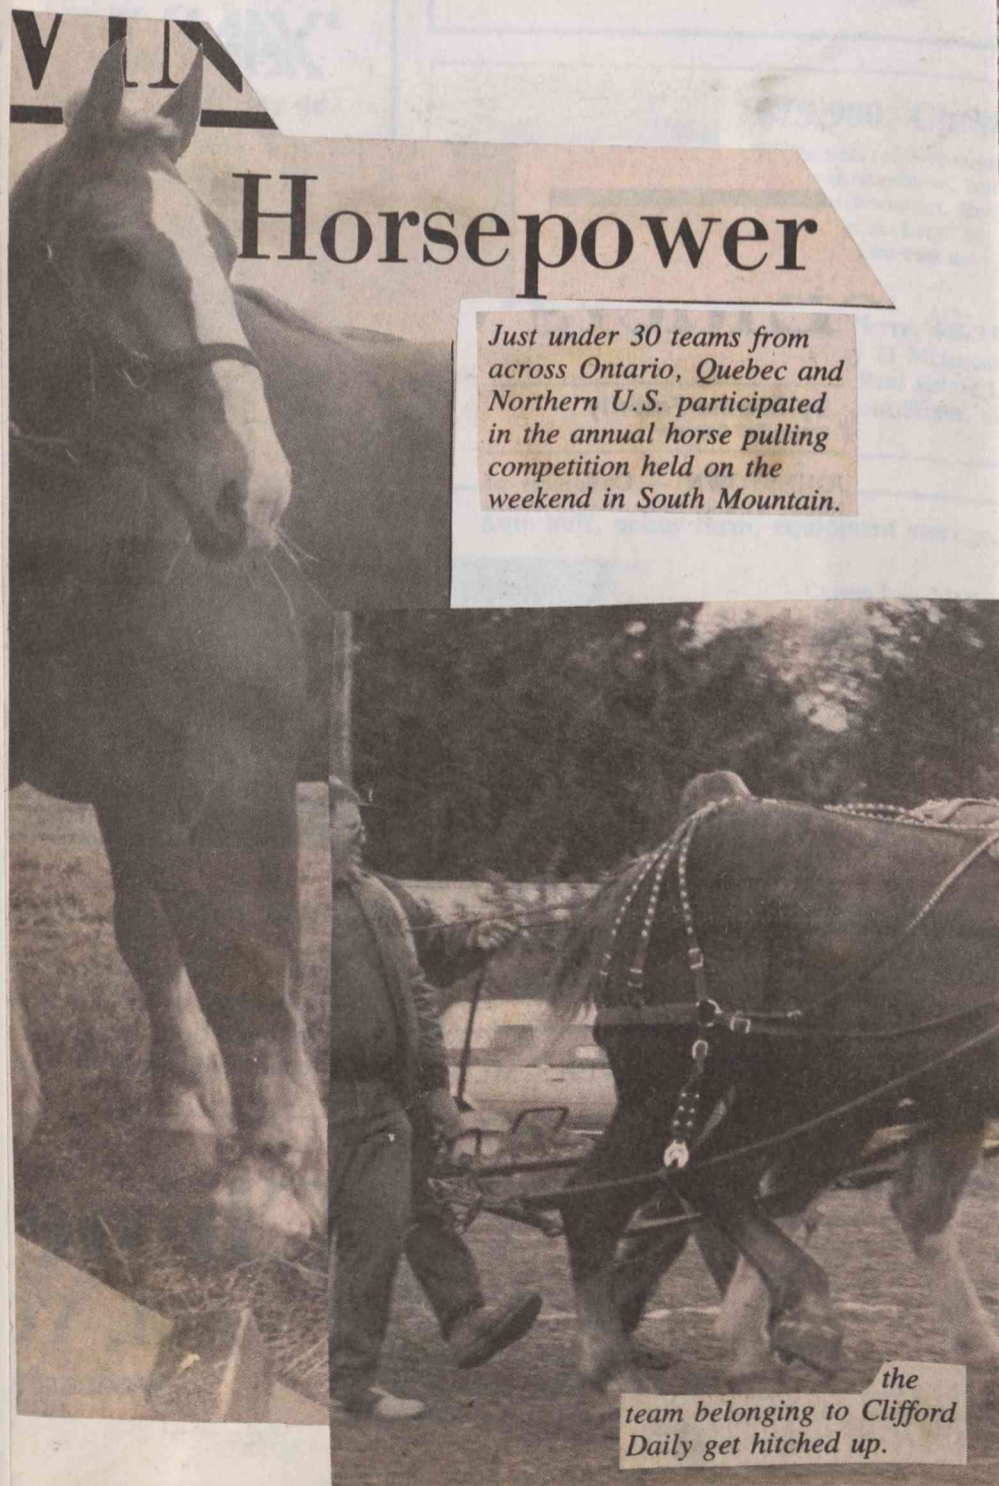

Crafty looks

Left, Maxwell Hollands, 2, of South Mountain takes in the teddy bear display at the Mountain Township and District Lions Club annual arts and crafts sale.

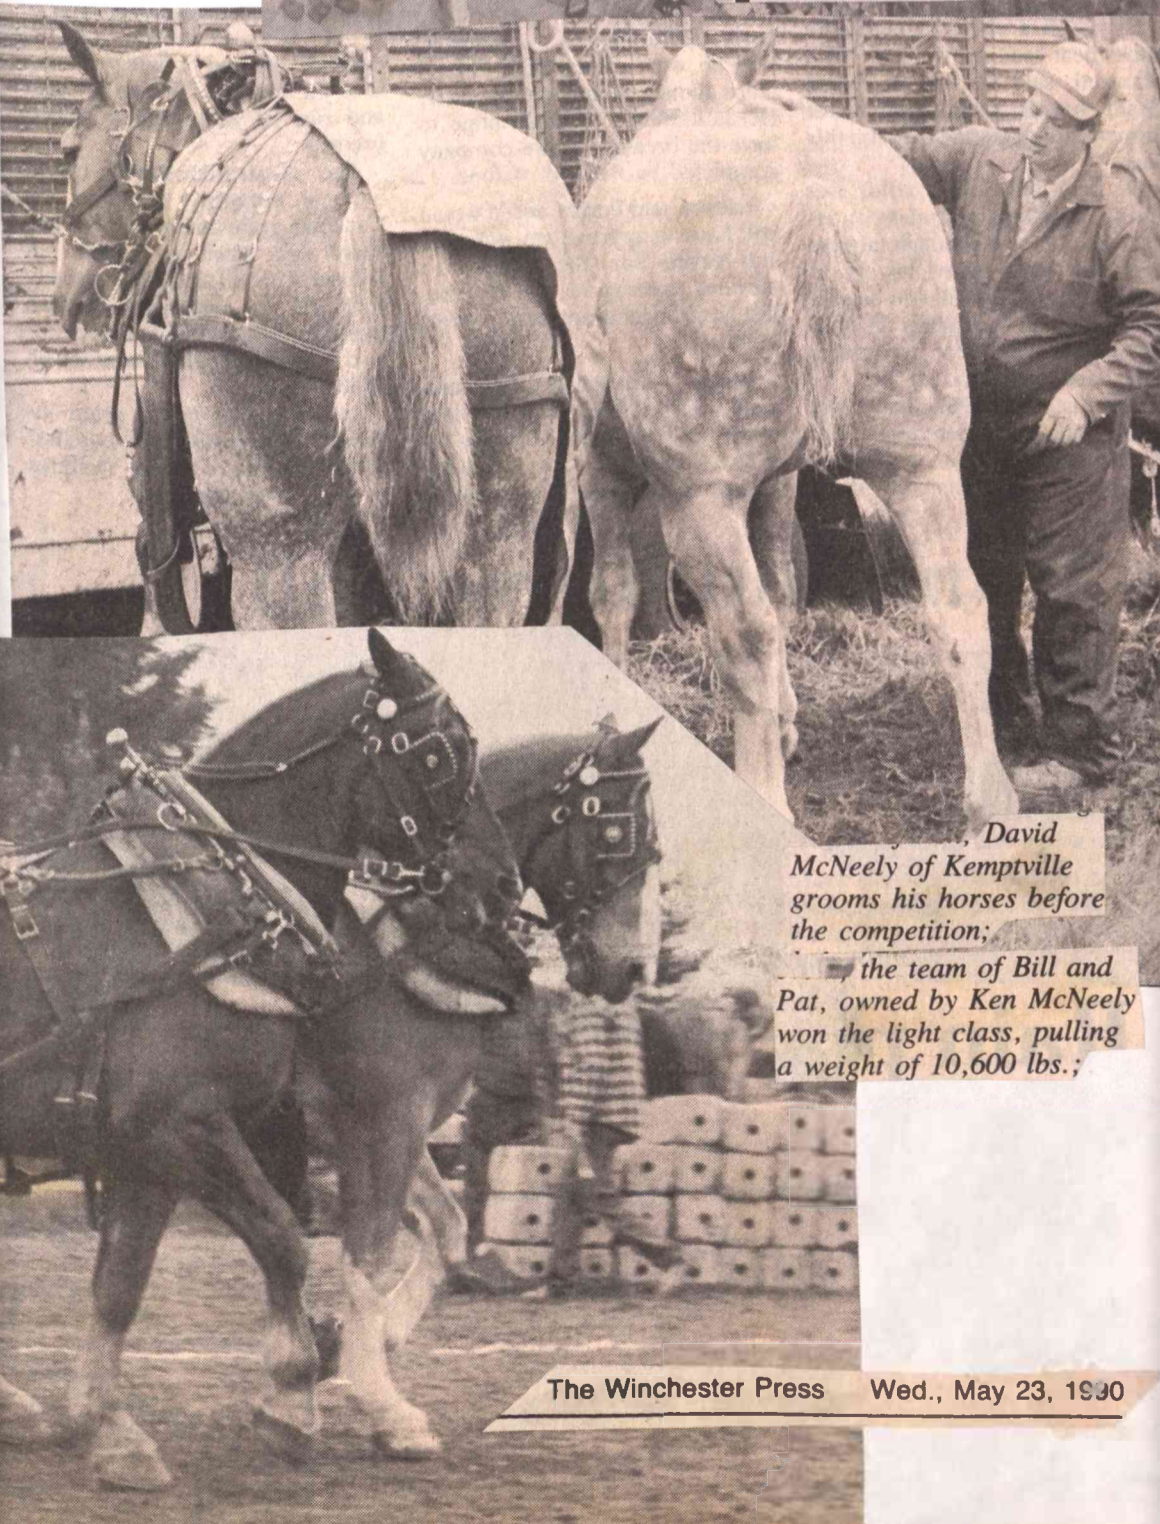

The Weekly Advance, Wednesday, December 5 1990

Horsepower

Just under 30 teams from across Ontario, Quebec and Northern U.S. participated in the annual horse pulling competition held on the weekend in South Mountain.

David McNeely of Kemptville grooms his horses before the competition;

the team of Bill and Pat, owned by Ken McNeely won the light class, pulling a weight of 10,600 lbs.;

the team belonging to Clifford Daily get hitched up.

The Winchester Press Wed., May 23, 1990