

our place in
at any rate
e knowledge
the present,
re, but may tter than we

SELECTED BOOKS, &c.

PHYSICAL AND DESCRIPTIVE ANTHROPOLOGY :—

- Waitz, Anthropologie der Naturvölker.
Topinard, Anthropology.
Darwin, Descent of Man.
Huxley, Man's Place in Nature ; Geographical Distribution of Mankind (in Journal of Ethnological Society, Vol. II. 1870).
Vogt, Lectures on Man.
Prichard, Natural History of Man.
Wood, Natural History : Man.
Ratzel, Völkerekunde.
Robert Brown, Peoples of the World.
Peschel, Races of Man.
Quatrefages, Human Species.
Flower, Hunterian Lectures on "The Comparative Anatomy of Man." Nature, July 1879, and May and June 1880.
Broca, Instructions Craniologiques.
F. Galton, Human Faculty, etc.
Beddoe, Races of Britain.
Anthropological Notes and Queries for Travellers, etc. (British Association).
Journal of the Anthropological Institute (London).
Revue d'Anthropologie (Paris).
Zeitschrift für Ethnologie (Berlin).
Monographs of races, as, Dalton, Ethnology of Bengal ; Fritsch, Eingeborenen Süd-Afrika's ; R. Brough Smyth, Aborigines
of Victoria, etc. Accounts by travellers and missionaries, such as Cook's Voyages ; Mariner's Tonga Islands ; Catlin, North American Indians ; Ellis, Polynesian Researches ;
Wallace, Travels on the Amazon, and Malay Archipelago ;
Burton, Lake Regions of Central Africa ; J. L. Wilson,
Western Africa ; Grey, Travels in Australia ; Im Thurn, Indians of Guiana, etc., etc.

GEOLOGY AND ARCHÆOLOGY OF MAN :—

- Lubbock, Prehistoric Times.
Lyell, Antiquity of Man.
Dawkins, Cave-hunting ; Early Man in Britain.
Evans, Ancient Stone Implements of Great Britain ; Ancient Bronze Implements of Great Britain.