A DRUG ON THE MARKET

Receipts of live stock at the Union Stock Yards on Wednesday were 91 carloads, comprising 650 cattle, 2327 hogs, 405 sheep and lambs, 140 calves and 399 horses, the latter being fed and rested in transit for the British army. There were 650 fresh arrivals of cattle which, with 450 held over from the two which, with 450 held over from the two previous days, made a total of 1100, which was more than the demand call-ed for in some classes. Consequently trade was inclined to be slow, with very little life exhibited after the dealers had picked up the few lots of desirable light butchens, as well as cows and bulls, which have been good sale lately. Heavy cattle were still a drug on the market at the high prices asked for them, and it looks as thor they would continue to be slow sale, as there seems to be no demand at values asked. And there are said to be a considerable number still to be marketed, and quite a percentage of the distillery fed cattle still unsold. Many farmens and dealers are much

A porcentage of the distinctly fed cattly still unsold. Many farmers and dealers are much disappointed over the present state of the market for what used to be called export cattle, because they were led to believe that values this season would be higher than at any time in the past. Farmers were told to fill their stables with cattle, and not to wait when rough, coarse feeding steers were selling over $7 per cwt. last fall. Many of them did, and these are the cattle that are now being offered, many of them having been bought by drovers at values too high for them to sell at present prices without taking heavy losses, which some of them have already done, and unless the unexpected happens, many more will of them have already done, and unless the unexpected happens, many more will have to do the same. Prices were about the same in all classes of fat cattle, as on Tuesday with quite a few again unsold at the close of the market. Outside of a light cemand for the American market there were few stock-ers and feeders wanted, but values re-mained the same. Milkers and springers were in steady demand at unchangec values. Veai calves were in excellent demand for the good to choice classes at firm quotations.
