

Christ the First Pope;

OR

Notes on the Divine Plan of the Church

ANALYTICAL TABLE.

FIFTH SERIES OF NOTES.

The Synagogue the Historic Basis of the Church.

	Page.
The Church postulates the Synagogue:— The Catholic Church is the Synagogue perfected and universalised	57
The Synagogue and Divine Tradition:
The Synagogue, the Custodian of Divine tradition and of the Old Testament up to the advent of Christ... ..	57
Without Divine Tradition, says the Synagogue, the Law itself would be nothing but "obscurity and blindness"... ..	58
Existence of Divine Tradition in the Synagogue: the witness of Our Lord and of the Fathers... ..	58
The witness of the Old Testament to same effect... ..	58
How to distinguish human from Divine Tradition: accept only such traditions as harmonise with the infallible teaching of the Church... ..	59
"The Hebrew text is even more deeply in harmony with the Gospel and more intensely Catholic than the Latin text of the Vulgate," says the Converted Rabbi Drach... ..	59
Divine Tradition known, in various degrees, in the Synagogue: perfect knowledge among patriarchs, prophets, holy Pontiffs and the saints and lights of the old Dispensation: less eminent, but quite distinct, knowledge among the Doctors of the Law: confused and merely implicit knowledge among the people	59
These notes are not a mere compilation, but a laborious and original task involving sustained mental effort... ..	60
Inspiration, says the Synagogue, extends to the very words of Holy Writ... ..	60

A

The Synagogue and the Dogmatic Basis of the Incarnation, namely, the Trinity 62

1

The Trinity, part of the Angelic and Adamic revelation... ..	62
Our Lord and the Evangelists speak of the Trinity, not as of a new revelation—but as of a truth already known in the Jewish Church... ..	62