Peace Treaty Near; Councils Speed Up

Disposition Monroe Doctrine and Repatriation Main Obstacles, But Progress Made--- Preparations to Receive German Commissioners.

Paris, March 30.—Persistent efforts of sentiment by the council of ten, to speed up the work of the various councils and commissions preparing the details of the peace treaty resulted fore the law of all nationals in the councils and commissions preparing the details of the peace treaty resulted in better progress during the closing days of the past week. That most important results will be attained during the present week is predicted by those who are in a position to speak, including the disposition of the Monroe Doctrine and reparations, the two subjects which have been the main obstacles in the completion of the treaty been a revival of certain propositions and arguments, which has tried the patience of some of the participants in the deliberations. But apparently new ideas have been exhausted and there are signs of the rapid approach of the end of the discussions.

The most stubbornly contested question was that of representations and the second terms of the second terms.

tion was that of reparations and it is suggested the delay in this case cannot be charged up to the Americans, but rather to the pre-election promises of Premier Lloyd George and Premier Clempes and Premier Clemenceau to make the Germans pay the whole cost of the war, which have led to some embarrassment because of the patent inability

RE-ESTABLISHMENT AND WHAT IT MEANS

Prof. H. E. Haultain Speaks on "Disabled Soldiers in Industry."

Thru the medium of the open fire of a million years ago was established he basis of our present social life, and thru the medium of the bedside where the country's wounded and disabled soldiers are started on the upward path of vocational training is set the superstructure for our moral life. Thus argued Prof. H. E. Haultain of the faculty of engineering and mining in Toronto University, before an appreciative audience, who had gathered to hear him speak on the "Disabled Soldier in Industry" in the interests of the disabled soldiers' civil re-establishment in the physics building on Saturday evening. When the men come back from the front they are in a plastic state, whether they are convalescent of in perfect health. They have been dealing with the elementary things of life. It has been left to the medical men and nurses to go back and deal with the souls of men. Besides re-educating the nerves and muscles, there must be re-education of the soul. thru the medium of the bedside where the conference look for the early com-pletion of the first peace treaty are found in the preparations now going on at Versailles for a meeting of the on at Versailles for a meeting of the peace conference or its representatives with the German commissioners. Telegraph and telephone lines are being installed and accommodations have been provided for the large secretariat which must handle the details of the treaty making.

Privately, confidence is expressed by the leading delegates that the Germans will sign the treaty, tho not, of course, without strenuous objection

It is realized that, unless handled discreetly, out of such an incident as an attempt to land Polish troops at Danzig, a serious rupture might follow. But it is understood that the Germans are to be given assurance that these troops will be landed in small detachments only, and will be immediately transferred into Poland, and that there will be no attempt to seize the city itself under the armistice, nor at all, unless the peace treaty to which the Germans subscribe deprives them of that port.

immediately transferred into Poland, and that there will be no attempt to make the progress Made.

However, real progress has been made in bringing about an agreement on the total amount of the indemnity and the terms of payment, on a basis of painstaking studies of the exact state of German industries and resources at the present time and prospects for the future made by the financial commissions of the conference.

Altho President Wilson has stated that the league of nations covenant did not delay the progress of the treaty because the work of other commissions was equally essential to its completion, the subject has been the cause of much anxiety, and close study during the past week. The desire of the American delegates to meet home regard, has tempered their desire for haste.

It has been decided to avoid controversy over the guarantee of religious freedom by remitting the subject to special treaties, which must be made with all new years and provinced the province of the landing of Polish troops. The department was formed by the landing of Polish troops.

The special problem of the department is dealing with the disabled man, physically and morally. Co-operating with the department in Ontario is the Soldiers' Aid Association, which has charge of the vocational education. Ontario is the only province where such an association exists.

Ontario is the only province where such an association exists.

There are two functions performed by the department—the one men not discharged in the hospitals, and the other men discharged and out of the hospitals. Vocational training is carried on in the hospitals by men supplied by the civil reestablishment department, but under the direction of the officer commanding, who is always a medical man, and who is responsible to the militia department.

Thus, if the medical officer prescribes a certain line of treatment, the representative of the civil re-establishment department must prescribe work which will bring into play those muscles needing exercise. This, of course, refers to men while undergoing treatment in the hospitals.

PROFESSOR WM. SMITH,

Prof. William Smith of Victoria University, Toronto, gave an address to the nen of Earlscourt Methodist Church men of Earlscourt Methodist Church Men's Owh Brotherhood on Sunday aftermoon, on what he called making figures talk, which, he said, could be done by subtraction. The speaker contrasted the condition of Canada today to what it was a hundred, fifty, yed ten years ago. He mentioned the disparity between Canada and the countries of the old world, with their teeming populations, size of territory and people to square mile. In British Columbia alone are 25,000,000 acres of speaked land, and only 1,000,000 cultivated.

ish Columbia alone are $2,000,000 acres of arable land, and only 1,000,000 cultivated, he said.

When the government looked out for land upon which to settle the returned soldier, out of $25,000,000 acres, only $2,000,000 were available, the remainder having been taken and vested in private ownership; thus the government had to go to work to buy back the land. The future of Canada lies in its population, and the great need is the right class of immigrants, said the speaker. Our national resources or labor must not be exploited, and the only way to avoid this was to use the ballot in the proper manner. Referring to the need of better educational facilities, Mr. Smith said he was in favor of children being kept at sohool until fifteen, for "God can do little with ignorance, but a great deal when citizens are properly educated."

Prof, Smith is in favor of one national language—the English—except in the home. Religion, he contended sapuid be exercised as a man thought best. If a man cannot pray in the language of his adopted country, then let him pray in his own tongue, so long as he did pray, he said.

He joined up on July 16, 1916, and took part in the battles of Vimy Ridge, Passchendaele, Hill 70 and Amiens. Southworth was with the allied army of occupation, crossed the Rhine with his battalion, and says that for hundreds of miles he never saw a German—they were scared of the Canadians, as they heard afterwards that these Germans had been told that the that the told to make use of national resources for his own comfort and convenience and for the benefit of living beings." "Such is man's destiny," said the preacher and he ought to be free and not as at the present time a slave to other men. The unrest springs from the few treating men like machines.

After a very brief illness from pneumonia, there passed away in Toronto yesterday morning one of the oldest residents in the person of Mrs. Bridget O'Reilly, who came Toronto from Tipperary, Ireland, over 70 years ago.

The late Mrs. O'Reilly was one of the few pioneers left who resided in Toronto before there were any steam or electric railways—or even cars for conveyance, and she could recall many steps in the building of this city to its present greatness. There were only two Catholic churches in the city when she came here. During her long residence Mrs. O'Reilly and late of the family, at St. Patrick's meant will take place at St. Michael's
