American Produce Markets.

Chicago, Oct. 27.—Wheat prices suffered serious depression today, and the dollar mark so confidently predicted 10 days ago seemed more visionary than at any time in a month. The weakness was a gift from the foreign market, and the decline brought forth large quantities of long wheat, although it is claimed that several big lines have not as yet been dislodged. First Liverpool cables were weak at unchanged to 4d higher prices, our gain of yesterday apparently having no effect. Late ones were 4d, 1d to 4d lower. This unwelcome news caused much selling, and Bradstreet's report of 5,920,000 bu increase in the world's available supply crushed out every semblance of strength. Continental markets were generally lower. December wheat opened from 70% to 60%, sold between 684c opened f were generally lower. December wheat opened from 70½c to 69½c, sold between 68½c and 70½c, closing at 68½c, 2 to 2½c under yesterday. Cash wheat was weak, and 2c to ½c weaker. Corn declined ½c to ½c and oats ½c to ½c. Provisions were lower.

Mrs. Wilcox, a Feeble Old Woman,

at the Police Court.

An Object of Pity, Without Home or Friends.

A sad case of neglect was the only one before Magistrate Parke this morning. It was that of Mrs. Wilcox, 81 years of age. She was clad in a man's black worsted coat, which was tucked in under her old blue skirt. In her hands she held a dirty cloud which had seen its best days, and with which the woman wiped the tears from her blood-shot eyes that were sunken and bleared. Her face was pinched and wrinkled, and her headgear, an old fur-trimmed bonnet, did anything else but enhance her appearance. Over her shoulders was thrown a shawl, faded and tattered from its many years of service. On one foot was a tan-colored shoe, much too big, while the other was thrust into a rubber, tied up with a string. She pleaded to be let go about her business in a most pathetic way. The charge against her was vag-rancy. Chief Williams said she had taken possession of a vacant house on St. James street belonging to Mr. Alfred Luard. She had taken her things there, consisting of several ness, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Coated Tongue; pails, baskets, bags, etc., which she and her husband carried. She was put out of the house, and word was Regulate the Bowels. Purely Vegetable. sent to the police station. She was arrested near the corner of St. James and Richmond streets last evening. Her husband left her in charge of the chattels, while he went to Canon meeting yesterday was not so large Richardson for work. It is said also that she was as determined and resowith Mr. W. S. B. Barkwell, druggist, lute at times as she was cheerful and genial at others, and was never given to despondency. She was the idol of her loving and indulgent parents. Her father is a man who has seen during his career as a police officer many understood the ways of the world, and tried at all times to advise his daughter, for whom he would have laid down his life, as to what was best for her to do. About a month ago the young lady took a situation in a millinery establishment on Dundas street, with the object of serving her apprenticeship. She stayed there three weeks, but for the last few days, she was advised against going to work, on account of her health, which was not
