Sunday Cars in Hamilton.

Rev. C. E. Whitcombe, Rector of St. Matthew's Church, is in Favor of Them—Says the City is Better Off Since Sunday Cars Have Been Run.

HAMILTON, May 11.—(Special to The World.) "Do you wish to pick my bones or my mind?" laughingly asked Rev. C. E. Whitcombe, Rector of St. Matthew's Church, as he admitted a World reporter into his study this morning.

"Then you don't regard Sunday cars as a religious question?" "No, I certainly do not," was the emphatic reply. "I look upon it as the greatest good to the greatest number, and especially to the working man of our country."

"What do you say about the objection that Sunday cars disturb the worship of a congregation?" "I should say," replied Mr. Whitcombe, with a twinkle in his eye, "that a man who was disturbed in his prayer by the cars was thinking more of the cars than of his God."

Asked if he didn't hold a military chaplaincy, the Rector produced a photo of a group of Grens at Batoche, and pointing to a weather-beaten cleric in their midst modestly remarked, "There I am."

MR. FOSTER: I'm not saying a word against the tariff these days. Don't have to.

THE DARD OF REGINA

AN ENCORE WAS DEMANDED

And the Member from Pile o' Bones Graciously Responded.

The Object of Mr. Davin Was to Show the Incompetency of the Government and Secure Justice for the Farmers of the West—Some Pretty Sharp Scolding in Committee of Supply—Deputy-Speaker Leavens His Poetic Work in Quebec Aroused Conservative Indignation—Fair Progress Made.

Ottawa, May 11.—In the House to-day Mr. Davin, on motion to go into the Committee of Supply, rose to call attention to the profound dissatisfaction and disappointment of the farmers of Canada with the new tariff.

One thing the Government could not do, and that was to stifle public opinion. He pointed out that Manitoba and the Northwest had on five articles paid the greater portion of the duty.

Mr. Davin observed to the effect that possibly, in case of a cutting down of the report, it might be charged that to throw light upon the doings of the present Government than on those of their predecessors.

To this Mr. Foster replied that he had no doubt whatever of the Auditor-General's fairness in dealing with the present Government as with the last.

On the suggestion of Mr. Davies it was decided to have the matter brought up in the Public Accounts Committee, when the Auditor-General could be heard on the matter.

Discussion on the Government's principle of denying statutory increases to the civil service was resumed on the item of $170 for customs clerks, the Controller explaining that it was required by the tariff.

THE BALLAD OF FLYNN

And up spoke Flynn, With triumphant grin: "Why, I'm Flynn, Watch me stay in! By the great tall stepple, We are the people, And when Mr. Farnie Plays his little part He'll find he's met Flynn, Who intends to get in."

Why, where's Mr. Flynn, The man who was let Away up on a perch He looked at the church, And defied Mr. Farnie With the marble heart. He pulled all the wires, And built up the fires: But a keen, cold blast Swept up from the past, And from out of the din, A voice said: "I'm him, But I don't think I'm in, And though they still call me Flynn, My first name is— Danils."

KILLED ANGUS McLEOD

Troy, the Convict, Found Guilty at Napanee

ON HIS OWN CONFESSION.

Prisoner Had No Counsel and the Judge Appointed Mr. W. H. Perry.

Detective Rogers was the Principal Witness, and the Only Evidence He Could Give Was Contained in Troy's Confession. Made Some Months Ago—Penitentiary Officials Gave Corroborative Testimony, and the Jury Soon Reached a Verdict—Sentence Decried by His Lordship Mr. Justice Robertson.

Napanee, May 11.—(Special.)—The first civil case on the docket, that of McCloskey v. Stewart, for assault, was concluded at yesterday's sitting of the court. Verdict for plaintiff for $275.

At the opening of court to-day Everett Williams of Tamworth was put on trial on a charge of manslaughter. On D. C. 25, 1895, a party was held at the residence of John Tyner of Sheffield. During the evening liquor was given to one Frank Tyner, an orphan in the employ of John Tyner. In this liquor was mixed a drug, either condition powder or jalap, for the purpose of playing a joke on Tyner. The liquor was given by one James Caughlin, who says he was told to do so by Everett Williams, for whom he was working. A few days after the dose was administered the boy Tyner died. A coroner's inquest was held and, as a result, Caughlin was arrested and tried at the last session, when Chief Justice Armour discharged the boy, holding him to be merely an agent in the hands of Williams, and ordered that a true bill be brought against the prisoner on a charge of manslaughter. The case lasted nearly all day. His Lordship charged rather strongly against the prisoner, and, after about half an hour's deliberation, the jury returned with a verdict of guilty.

His Lordship, after giving the prisoner a few words of advice, discharged him. W. H. Biggill, Toronto, for the Crown; Frank Carleton and H. M. Derocoe for the prisoner.

The Master of Angus McLeod.

The case against John F. Troy, for the murder of Angus McLeod in September, 1893, was taken up.

His Lordship asked the prisoner if he had counsel, and upon his desire for counsel, Mr. W. H. Perry, of the firm of English & Perry, to conduct the case in the prisoner's behalf.

The following is a summary of some days previous to the murder of Angus McLeod in the town of Napanee on or about Sept. 13, 1893. I was in Port Hope. There was a party of three of us together, Hughes, Four and myself. I met the other two in Port Hope. We had been drinking; Hughes gave me $7. I knew Hughes before; I went up to the Grove we cooked a meal; I had a quarrel with some Port Hope people and fired some shots; we went to Cobourg.

Detective Rogers' Evidence.

The first witness called was Joseph Rogers of the Government Detective Bureau. He told of his conversation with the case from the time the murder was committed up to the time the statement of confession was made by Troy in the Kingston Penitentiary on Feb. 3, 1897. On Feb. 11 he visited the Penitentiary, where Troy made a second statement, of which the following is a summary:

THROWN DOWN.

Is There Anything Left for Liberals to Take?

AN AVALANCHE IN QUEBEC.

The Conservative Premier Laid Low on the Field of Battle.

Mr. Charles Marcell Gets the Seat for Gaspe by a Majority of 6—Hon. Louis Beaudin Beaten in Beauharnois by 300—This Latest Disaster to the Conservative Party Was Not Indicated Yesterday Morning—The New Quebec Legislature Will Stand Liberals 35, Conservatives 50.

Montreal, May 11.—(Special.)—The people of this Province have again spoken, and this time the Liberal Government has been the victor. There was nothing in the air up to the opening of the polls this morning that indicated anything like the disaster that has come to the Quebec administration. The figures are most surprising and stand 35 Liberals to 20 Conservatives, with the election in Magdalen Island yet to be held. The report from Gaspe is to the effect that the Premier has been defeated by Mr. Charles Marcell by the narrow majority of six, although later returns may change the result.

Hon. Louis Beaudin is defeated in Beauharnois by 300, and the figures early in the day gave Beaudin to Mr. Archer, defeating Hon. Mr. Nantel, but it is now learned that the Commissioner of Crown Lands has pulled through with about 80 votes to spare. The other Liberal members, Messrs. Hackett, Pelletier and Alvarado, were elected, the latter being the only Conservative returned on the island of Montreal.

The Counties of Montreal and Compton have gone Liberal for the first time in their history, and Bonville and North County Liberal strongholds, have returned supporters of the late regime.

Kostly all of the men who supported the Premier regime are back in the House again, and the English-speaking electors have begun to put them there.

Just What They Expected.

Ottawa, May 11.—(Special.)—The Liberal sweep in Quebec astonished nobody here; who has been watching the trend of affairs in that Province. It was felt that the same influences which contributed to Mr. Laurier's victory in Lower Canada last June would be material factors in helping Mr. Marcell.

Although Mr. Flynn is partly of French extraction, he is regarded as more Irish than French; hence French-Canadian preference for a competitor. Then, again, there is a strong under current of feeling running in Quebec against clerical interference, and this was strongly demonstrated to-day. Mr. Turie said to-night that abundant evidence of attempted clerical intimidation.

When the returns of the Quebec electors showed the Liberal victory Mr. Turie said that he had donated a beautiful red rose to all the members of the Liberal party, as well as Liberal members of the press gallery.

HIS HEAD SAWN OFF.

Robert Brady Met With a Horrible Death in the Hunterville Lumber Company's Mill.

Huntsville, Ont., May 11.—A horrible accident opened about 9 o'clock this evening in the Hunterville Lumber Company's Mill, when Robert Brady of this place met with instant death. He was working on the block saw and had evidently gone from the usual side to the wrong side of the saw, and was engaged in hauling a shingle block, when he stepped with a hook not generally used in the mill, and fell directly under the saw, which sawed his head from his body and opened both the thorax and abdomen.

Mr. Ross of the general store, who called and pronounced life extinct. The body was allowed to remain in the same position as when found until the coroner, Mr. Reece, arrived, who deputed an inquest unnecessary.
