KORNILOFF'S MEN ON MARCH TO THE CAPITAL

ATTEMPT TO WIN BACK KORNILOFF

Petrograd, Sept. 11.—The conferences of the ministers are being continued in the hope of finding a solution of the situation which will prevent internal war. Simultaneously the council of workmen and soldiers' deputies is in session. It is said that the Bolsheviks intend declaring for the government and appealing to all the parties of the left to rally against the counter-revolution. The Attaman of the Cossacks, Karauloff, a member of the Duma, who came immediately to Petrograd upon news of the conspiracy, declared that the Cossacks had resolved to do everything to prevent a fratricidal turn in the war which would ruin the revolution. Karauloff, with a detachment of Cossacks will leave for the front to attempt negotiations with General Korniloff.
