IRISH STAMP HERE.

What is probably the first stamp of the new Irish Free State to arrive in St. John came to hand this morning, when B. O'Hara, of 57 Garden street, received a package of Irish newspapers. One of the papers also contained fifteen illustrations of the various over-printed English stamps which are now being used by the state, pending the issue of a free state stamp. Each design of the current English series is surcharged with the words "Irish Free State" and "Eireann, 1922." Collectors are striving to get this series of the transition stage in the history of the new free state.

PROBATE DECISION

Matter of Claim Against the Estate of Walter Leonard Bradley.

In the matter of the claim of Maria Morrissey against the estate of Walter Leonard Bradley judgment was given this morning by His Honor Judge McInerney in the Probate Court. This was a claim for services and compensation alleged to have been promised the claimant by the deceased. Mrs. Morrissey had lived with him on the Duke street for about eight years old and had been responsible for his early upbringing, as the court said "certainly from the time his stepmother died and probably from the time she was a delicate woman. Mrs. Morrissey mothered the boy. She deserved every credit and indeed something more material. If Walter Bradley were here he might very well see that she received it. Indeed anyone knowing the circumstances would expect him to do so. "Whether I am a position, however, to provide her with compensation," said the judge, "depends in my view upon whether there was an agreement for compensation between the claimant and Walter Bradley." Evidence as to certain statements made by the deceased as to caring for Mrs. Morrissey while he lived was given during the hearing. It was found by the court that the evidence did not disclose an intent upon Mr. Bradley's part to provide for the claimant after his death and judgment was given against the claimant against the validity of the claim. The balance of the undistributed estate is $7,000. Mr. B. L. Fairweather as proctor for the estate.

CROWDED COURT

Twelve Prisoners and a Room Full of Spectators This Morning.

The police court this morning presented a very crowded appearance both in the number in the dock and the large audience outside the railing. There were an even dozen men in the dock when court opened at ten o'clock and the magistrate took the opportunity to deliver a ten-minute lecture on the immorality of St. John giving some examples of things which he said he could prove had happened.

George Boachk pleaded not guilty to a charge of being drunk and not guilty of having broken and entered and destroyed a spread in a room of the Asia hotel. Policeman Storey told of going into the Asia hotel last evening and seeing the accused under the influence of alcohol and having an argument with Lee Shue. Lee Shue said he rented a room to Boachk about 10 o'clock on Sunday morning. About 4:30 o'clock he went out but returned at about seven. In the meantime it was discovered that a glass pitcher had been broken and a hole burned in a spread in the room. When the defendant returned he asked for a scarf he left in the room and was accused of having destroyed the property. Just about this time the police arrived and he was arrested.

The defendant went on the stand and said that the spread had been burned when he got the room. He was remanded.

Eight men pleaded guilty to charges of drunkenness and were given their choice of $200 fines or eight months in jail. Capt. J. O. Farrow, of the steamer West Lashaway, bound from New York to Spain and Italy, appeared against Alberto Cecada, an Italian, and Henrique Radriens, Portuguese, charged with being stowaways. He said that the men were on their way from New York to their own countries under orders from the United States immigration authorities. They will be held until the ship sails tomorrow.

Alexander Grant was before the magistrate this morning on a charge of bigamy. The charge was read to him and he was remanded. It is understood that the case against him will be started tomorrow morning.

In a case against William Speight, charged with selling liquor to Brun Lovely, Lovely was recalled to the stand by W. M. Ryan, counsel for the prosecution. He said he had lived in St. John most of the time since 1916 and knew the North End well. He remembered going there with the liquor inspectors. He was not sure that it was Speight's shop he had been in. A witness in another shop told him something which led to his going into the shop in which he got his liquor.

In answer to E. S. Ritchie, for the defence, he said that his memory was not good that morning because he was suffering from "that poison." He did not know whether or not he had offered to give the inspectors information if they would let him go. He said they had promised to let him off at four o'clock in the afternoon if he would tell them where he got his liquor.

The case against Archie MacNeill and Walter Sproul, who are out on bail of $3,000 each on a charge of selling more than four addresses in Plymouth Church School, Minneapolis, the subjects being: 1. What is childhood? 2. What are the problems of youth? 3. What should be learned in the family group? 4. What should our children do? The series was a series of talks to parents and teachers on Childhood, Its Charm and Opportunity.

Dr. Hoben was described in the Plymouth church school bulletin as foremost among the sociologists and psychologists of the northwest, and it also said of him:

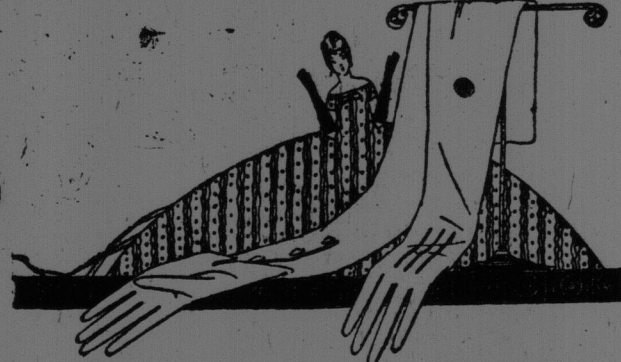

"Dr. Hoben has an A. B. and M. A. degree from New Brunswick University, a B. D. degree from Newton Theological Institute, and a Ph.D. degree from the University of Chicago. For many years he was pastor of the First Baptist church of Detroit, and Professor of Practical Theology in the University of Chicago. As field director for the Juvenile Protective Association and as field director of the Y. M. C. A., Fifth Division American Expeditionary Forces, he secured first hand information on the very problems considered in this series of addresses. Among his writings are 'The Minister and the Boy' and 'A Church School of Citizenship.'"

Last month, also, Dr. Hoben was one of the speakers at the state convention of the Minnesota Y. M. C. A., and he is in great demand as a public speaker on subjects having to do with youth and education. He has also been prominent in the tree-planting movement in the west.
