A. B. COPP VERY STRONG ON GRAND TRUNK MATTER

Four Reasons For Opposition to The Bill

Morning Sessions of Commons Begin—Many of Opposition Want to Speak—Farmer M.P. Arrives and Proves to be Giant

(Special to Times.) Ottawa, Nov. 4.—A. B. Copp (West-ottawa) made a strong speech of more than an hour and a half against the Grand Trunk bill in parliament yesterday afternoon supporting an amendment introduced a few days ago by Hon. W. S. Fielding asking for a commission to investigate the Grand Trunk question fully before going on with the proposal. He quoted the minister of railways as having said that we must get the best possible men to operate our railways and there must be no political or other interference. If this was done the traffic from the west via Montreal would go to Portland rather than the Maritime ports because it was a shorter haul and cheaper. Therefore our ports would suffer.

The opposition in this matter was acting independently. He held no brief for the C. P. R. and wondered if all the members of the government were acting independently. He thought the most courageous action on the part of the government would be to dissolve the house and leave the matter to the people of Canada. The opposition would be quite satisfied with such a course.

The Drayton-Acworth report had been against government ownership and operation all through. There was also a strong minority report which was not sufficient attention had been paid.

The press of the country of the highest standing had opposed this measure and should be given consideration. In summing up, he opposed the motion and supported the amendment of the member for Queens-Sheburne for the following reasons: (1) Parliament had no authority to take over the Grand Trunk system; (2) The effect on the market value of the stock by which the people of Canada would be paying for the property would be a disaster; (3) Government operation will not be in the best interests of the people of Canada; (4) Canada is not prepared to assume the financial standpoint to go into the undertaking.

O. Turgeon of Gloucester, N. B. also opposed the bill. The house adjourned early last night. Morning sessions will begin on Tuesday at eleven. The Liberal whip announces that he is crowded with applications for the Grand Trunk bill. He is not speaking in opposition to the Grand Trunk bill, so that there is not much likelihood of an early end to the debate. It now begins to be a question of payment would be here for another fortnight.

T. W. Caldwell, the newly elected farmer representative from Carleton Place, will take his seat some time this morning. He is a giant in size, as Sinclair of P. E. I. another farmer giant, remarked when he was introduced to him. "You are not a bad size yourself," said the new member. Mr. Caldwell gave some particulars of his campaign. He said he had no campaign fund, no cigars, no promises, nothing in the way of ordinary election munitions and he had informed his workers that if he found out that a vote had been bought he would resign. The election will be held on the polling day by a collection in the crowd and will be audited and returns made. "I am very anxious to meet Mr. McEwen," said Mr. Caldwell, "as I calculate he added about 1,000 to my majority." When Mr. McEwen was informed of this he said that at the two places where he had spoken the polls had been very favorable to the government candidate. The explanation may be as given by Mr. Caldwell, that the farmers resented the presence of cabinet members in the constituency, he estimates that he got about half of the soldier vote and the farmers were practically solid. When he takes his seat it will be on the cross benches.

DID NOT SEE HIM FALL OVER

WHIARF. Mrs. Michael Blair called at the Times office today to deny a report published last Saturday that her husband, who died of influenza last winter, had seen J. D. Pike fall over the wharf on the West Side. She said that her husband and Pike were cousins and that while Pike was on sentry duty on the West Side her husband was with the military police doing duty in the city. She said that Pike's disappearance was as great a mystery to her husband as it was to the rest of the public, and the statement that he had sent this information to Pike's relatives is not correct.

A new bridge is being built across the creek leading from Bayswater to Somerville and Chapel Grove. The bride and groom were waiting until this morning in the marriage which took place on the other side of the ocean a little while before they left for Canada.

DOUGLAS AVENUE.

HOPE DEFERRED. According to the officials of the public works department the work in Douglas avenue is not progressing as rapidly as it might. The street car company is now putting in new rails and sleepers and the city men are waiting until this work is completed to finish the surface. The city engineer said this morning that he had hoped to have the work done today, but the delay in placing the new rails will hold up the city work and it frost sets in before it is done, it will cause much loss of time and unnecessary labor.

ORDER RELATIVE

MANICTON GAS

Public Utilities Commission Ruling on Quantity Which May Be Used for Power Purposes

Recently the Public Utilities Commission had a hearing on Manicton gas matters. An order of the board in the matter has now been drawn up.

The board has limited the consumption of gas for power purposes during the coming winter as follows: The use of gas under boilers or for operating illuminating signs and advertisements is prohibited.

The use of gas for domestic purposes is permitted as heretofore. Factories with an average monthly consumption of 4,000,000 cubic feet of gas or upwards last year are limited to 60 per cent of their monthly consumption during 1918-19 not in any case to exceed 8,000,000 cubic feet in any one month.

The Canadian National Railway shops and all factories with an average consumption of over 300,000 cubic feet and less than 4,000,000 cubic feet a month last year are limited to 75 per cent of their consumption for the corresponding month of 1918-19 in no case to exceed 1,000,000 cubic feet in any one month; provided, however, that the Humphreys glass works may consume sufficient gas to keep the contents of their glass tanks in a molten condition, such consumption not to exceed 1,000,000 cubic feet in any one month.

Factories with an average monthly consumption of 500,000 cubic feet or less during last year may use the same quantity a month as they used during the corresponding month of 1918-19, not in any case to exceed 500,000 cubic feet in any one month.

Bakeries and bake-shops with an average monthly consumption of not more than 250,000 cubic feet a month last year are permitted the same consumption as they used during the corresponding month of 1918-19, not in any case to exceed 250,000 cubic feet in any one month.

The rules here referred to do not apply to the use of gas for lighting purposes, as was attended by Miss Sue McKie and R. W. Handren was groomsmen. After the ceremony the party drove to the home of the bride's parents, 373 Wentworth street, where a delightful wedding supper was served. Many handsome presents were received. Mr. and Mrs. Hopper will reside in the city.

CENTENARY WEDDING

A wedding of interest took place this afternoon at 4 o'clock in Centenary Methodist church when Miss Margaret Jean Rolston, daughter of Mrs. and the late J. D. Rolston, 82 Elliott row, was united in marriage to William John Dalsiel of Wapella, Saskatchewan, by the pastor of the church, Rev. H. A. Goodwin. The bride, who was given away by her uncle, in Rolston, was becomingly attired in a wedding gown of white georgette over white satin with pearl trimmings, wore a bride veil and carried American beauty roses. Her travelling suit was navy blue with tailored hat to match and she wore a beautiful pair of beaver gloves of pink rose. The groom was supported by John H. Rivington of this city.

Lohengrin's wedding march was played by Harry Dunlop, and Mrs. Louis LeLachar sang "O Promise Me." Albert Rolston and Clarence Wetmore were ushers. After the ceremony the party adjourned to the home of the bride where a reception was held and a delightful luncheon served, after which Mr. and Mrs. Dalsiel left on the Montreal train on a short wedding tour, through the province, and they will reside at 85 Elliott Row. Besides the relatives and about thirty invited guests the church was filled with friends.

Many beautiful presents were received, including a silver service from Haley Bros., Limited, with whom the bride was married, a gift from the groom, a lamp from the officers and teachers of Centenary Methodist Sunday School, where the bride was a teacher in the primary department. A substantial check was the gift of the groom's parents. The groom is a commercial traveller with the Willard Chocolate Company.

COMBERS CRITICIZES PROHIBITION

New York, Nov. 4.—Fostering of prohibition on the United States was a blunder charged with danger and loaded with disastrous probabilities, declared Samuel Combers, president of the American Federation of Labor, in discussing last night its probable relation to unrest among working men in some parts of the country.

"By adopting prohibition," he said, "we have changed the wrecking of the social and economic fabric of the nation through the habits of the workingman, and this is what has happened."

He has upset that man, unsettled him. Uprooting one habit uproots others."

Combers asserted the man who formerly was satisfied to go home at night to converse and read has become discontented and restive. He now goes into the streets and meets other men, restless and unsettled like himself.

"They rub together their mutual grievances and there are sparks and sometimes fire. I believe Bolshevism in Russian began in prohibition."

THE SENATE AND PROHIBITION.

Montreal, Nov. 4.—A despatch to the Gazette from Ottawa says: "Several senators have declared that they will no longer defeat prohibitory measures that the commons do not want and yet fear to oppose. Twice the senate has earned the applause of the commons by coming to their rescue. It is doubtful if they will continue to do so. It has been denied by some of the government supporters that new senators are to be appointed to carry the unpopular 'Prohibition' measure. The appointments are all agreed upon and ready to be made except in the case of one of the Ontario vacancies and a decision will be reached on this one tomorrow."

SOLDIERS OUT OF

WORK IN LONDON AREA, 86,000

Total Unemployed Registration Reaches 143,646—British Employers' Opinions on American Labor Situation

(Special Cable to Times.) P. A. McKenzie, Copyright. London, Nov. 4.—The unemployed registered at the labor exchanges in the London area alone total 143,646. Of these 86,000 are ex-soldiers, many apparently waiting—as they have been waiting months—for the promised government vocational training, and in the meantime living upon government doles. There is still a lack in the supply of skilled men, and the employment situation has been aggravated by the throwing of a million untrained young men into the market of large numbers of young men, untrained, owing to their service with the army.

Prominent British employers regard the American labor situation as being mainly due to the arrogance, despotism and paternalism of the large employers. "The American labor situation," said one of the biggest business men here to-day, "really resembles medieval English life. The employers apparently are living in the twelfth, instead of twentieth century. They believe it possible to dominate their workers as they did the British land proprietors believed it possible to dominate their tenants 800 years ago."

"American capitalists' opposition to trades union seems to us with our British experience unexplainable and unjustifiable. It has caused American trades unionism to be weak and ineffective. The following grand jury was sworn in the county court for this week in the case of the King vs. Godsoe for breaking, entering and theft, were set for speedy trial on Nov. 10 at 10 o'clock.

In the case of the King vs. Godsoe for breaking, entering and stealing, the grand jury found a bill on the first count and a true bill on the second.

ROTARY CLUB

At a meeting of the Rotary Club yesterday, Robert Reid in the chair, J. F. Gregory gave an address upon industrial unrest, in which he spoke of labor conditions and contentions matters between employer and employed. He said he believed in collective bargaining with certain limitations, so far as single industry was concerned, but he objected to outsiders unfamiliar with the inside workings of that industry dictating what should be done. He told the club of the recent conference in Ottawa and said that the leaders of labor there had shown much good judgment on many subjects. He said he was a high tribute to the conference and said that the labor men at the conference were for the most part better speakers than those who represented capital.

R. D. Paterson brought up the question of the tearing down of the old inart house, W. F. Burdett moved that the municipal council be asked to reconsider its action. F. A. Dykeman argued in favor of a new building. Other speakers were heard on the question, which was left until next week's meeting.

KING WHERE ST. PETER TROD.

Pisa, Italy, Nov. 4.—(Associated Press.)—King Victor Emanuel, at the invitation of Cardinal Maffi, Archbishop of Pisa, recently visited the ancient Basilica of St. Peter, near here, where excavations are being made which seem to prove that the site was actually visited by St. Peter, in whose memory the original church was erected. CASE IN NEW YORK

OVER SUGAR OWNED BY CANADIAN REFINERY

New York, Nov. 4.—Federal Food Administrator Williams announced last night he had discovered 134,400 pounds of raw sugar on ships in the harbor, 1,000 tons of which had been offered for sale by a Wall street broker at an illegal profit of more than four cents a pound.

The sugar is said to be owned by a Canadian refining company. When the food administrator accused the broker of profiteering, he contended that the sugar could be sold here at any price, as it did not come under control of the United States sugar equalization board.

Mr. Williams informed the broker that under the Lever law a conviction with two years' imprisonment or a fine of $5,000, or both, could be brought. He advised him to notify the Canadian company of the serious shortage here and urge sale of the sugar at a reasonable profit. Soon after Mr. Williams was told by the broker that the company's officials had instructed him to ship the sugar back to Canada if he could not get the price they wanted for it.

Mr. Williams promptly communicated with Ben A. Matthews, assistant United States attorney, who said he would summon the broker before him tomorrow.

Cold Reception for "One Big Union" Man At Meeting in Boston

(Special to Times.) Boston, Nov. 4.—Joseph Panener, an I. W. W. organizer, delivered the first public speech in Boston in favor of the "one big union" at Faneuil Hall on Sunday afternoon and it proved a dead failure. Few opportunities came to the radical sympathizers for applause, since the presence of two police sergeants prevented the usual revolutionary utterances voiced at "red" meetings. No converts were made to the cause of the "O. B. U." so far as could be observed in the response to Panener's invitation to join. The few who remained after the meeting were I. W. W. It was said that the "Reds" will celebrate the "triumph" of Trotsky.

TRIUMPH FOR

LOYD GEORGE

IN COMMONS

Premier "Has Put it Over Again" — Outrage, However, The Story Changes

(Special Cable to Times.) London, Nov. 3.—Lloyd George has put it over again," this is typical comment here of everyone concerning his marvelous parliamentary performance on Thursday. London is still gasping at his triumphant gasping but admiringly, half despairingly. Descriptive writers exhaust their adjectives to picture the
