Cost Him $280 For Attempt To Influence English Borough Surveyor

Manchester, Eng. March 20—A fine of $25 and $21 costs was imposed by the alderman magistrate on Joseph J. Evans, of Wolverhampton, a traveler for the Robeson Process Company, Free-church Street, London, who was summoned at the instance of the director of public prosecutions for unlawfully and corruptly giving to William A. H. Clarry, borough surveyor of Sutton Coldfield, £10 as an inducement to show favor to the Robeson Process Company and to forbear from complaining of the goods supplied by the company.

Mr. Clarry looked inside, and saw that it contained Bank of England notes, and at once said: "You had better take this back again. You have evidently made a mistake."

When the defendant was about to go he turned round to the honest surveyor and held out an unaddressed envelope. Mr. Clarry said, "What is this?" The defendant replied: "Oh, it is all right. Open it."

The Royal Northwest Mounted Police had made a record trip when a patrol returned to Dawson, Y. T., finishing a 400-mile trip in 17 1/2 days.

It contained Bank of England notes, and at once said: "You had better take this back again. You have evidently made a mistake."

The defendant replied: "Oh, no, I shan't. You keep it; it's all right." Mr. Clarry then said: "If you do not take it I shall pay them into the coroner's account, as in no event could I touch them."

The defendant smiled and went out into the passage, where Mr. Clarry followed him, and again said he would much rather the defendant took the envelope back than that there should be any other about it.

For the defence Mr. Hastings said that at the time of the offer the defendant was under notice to leave the company, and he thought it was quite a testimonial from Mr. Clarry favorable to "Glutrin" the company would take him back again.

Save Your Sight. Don't let them reduce your efficiency and lessen your earning power. Consult us about your eyes. D. BOYANER OPTICIAN 111 Charlotte St. 38 Dock St. HOW TO PREVENT ACID STOMACHS AND FOOD FERMENTATION. By a Stomach Specialist. As a specialist who has spent many years in the study and treatment of stomach troubles, I have been forced to the conclusion that most people who complain of stomach trouble possess stomachs that are absolutely healthy and normal. The real trouble that which causes all the pain and difficulty, is acid in the stomach, usually due to, or aggravated by, food fermentation. Acid irritates the delicate lining of the stomach and food fermentation causes wind which distends the stomach abnormally, causing that full bloated feeling. Thus both acid and fermentation interfere with and retard the process of digestion. The stomach is usually healthy and normal but irritated almost past endurance by these foreign elements—acid and wind. In all such cases—and they comprise over 90 per cent. of all stomach difficulties—the first and only step necessary is to neutralize the acid and stop the fermentation by taking in a little warm or cold water immediately after eating, from one to two teaspoonfuls of bisulphated magnesia, which is doubtless the best and only real effective antacid and food corrective known. The acid will be neutralized and the fermentation stopped almost instantly, and the stomach will at once proceed to digest the food in a healthy, normal manner. Be sure to ask your chemist for the bisulphated magnesia, as I have found other forms utterly lacking in its peculiarly valuable properties.—F. J. G.
