The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

A "MERE" man has taken sufficient interest in feminine complexions and the treatments suggested for them in these columns to send in the following receipt for a good complexion:

Take a rough towel and, stirring at the shoulders, vigorously and thoroughly, with a circular movement, rub the skin of the face and neck and face until the last. Rub until a feeling of warmth is induced and the entire body glows. If sufficient vigor is exercised a feeling of mild exhilaration relatively akin to the galvanic energy incarnate in the energy of the sun should result. Bathe the face and neck without soap, then apply the friction to the neck. The cheeks will then feel flushed and tingling. A few careful strokes over the face will convert the tingling sensation into a glowing feeling of warmth. Use due discretion in the application of the friction, as a severe rubbing will wring the skin, while mild rubbing will be ineffective.

When finished it would be well to go lightly over the entire body with a camel's hair brush, to eliminate any accumulation of dust from the towel.

"This massage friction treatment has the advantage of being constitutional, local and NATURAL, as it produces an enhanced circulation, enlivens inert and clogged pores, and if persisted in, will make the complexion clear and soft and smooth as velvet. A little cold cream, in case the neck and face are tender, may be applied."

That certainly sounds reasonable, doesn't it? Of course, it implies that the person in search of a good complexion is willing to employ much time and energy. But isn't such a blessing as a good complexion decidedly worth that?

We have young married women's club and young girls' club and mothers' clubs, why not have grandmother's club?—is the suggestion of one of my readers.

When a woman reaches the grandmother stage that usually means that her child-bearing and most of her child-rearing period is past and that she will apt to have more leisure than she has ever had before in the course of her married life.

It also means that as her children with their exclaiming and overflowing young lives pass out of the home she will be in much need of greater inward resources and of more intellectual and impersonal interests to keep her happy.

Seems to me that in every town there ought to be a Grandmother's Improvement Club, a sort of secret society of grandmothers in which the peculiar trials and joys of grandmotherhood might be talked over and through which opportunities for interests and activities outside the home suitable for women of grandmotherly age might be supplied.

"Are you a grandmother?" might be the password. And "Grandmotherhood the happiest time of life" the watchword.

How about it? Don't you think it sounds like an interesting idea?

SAVED FROM AN OPERATION

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Bellevue, Que.—"Without Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I would not be alive. For five months I had painful and irregular periods, and inflammation of the uterus. I suffered like a martyr and thought often of death. I consulted two doctors who could do nothing for me, and then I went to a hospital, and the best doctors said I must submit to an operation, because I had a tumor. I had heard of your compound, and one of my cousins advised me to take your compound, and it had cured her. I did so, and soon commenced feeling better, and my appetite came back with it. Now I feel like a new woman, and I am cured. Your remedy is deserving of praise."—MRS. EMILY CHATFIELD, Bellevue, Quebec.

Another Operation Avoided. Adrian, Ga.—"I suffered untold misery from female troubles, and I thought an operation was my only chance, and I dreaded it almost as much as death. Thirty years of unparalleled success confirms the power of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to cure female diseases.

Discusses Causes of Thinness and Gives New Method of Increasing Weight and Rounding Out the Form.

Prescription Accomplishes Wonders

A treatment which anyone can prepare cheaply at home has been found to increase the weight, improve the health, brighten the eyes and put new color into the cheeks and lips of anyone who is too thin and bloodless. It puts flesh on those who have always been thin, whether from disease or natural tendency, on those who by heavy eating and diet have in vain tried to increase on those who feel well but can't get fat, and on those who have tried every known method in vain. ### ANNUAL MEETING OF EVERY DAY CLUB

Officers Chosen Yesterday—Effort to Increase the Building Fund—Some Plans

The annual meeting of the Every Day Club was held yesterday afternoon. The annual reports showed a successful year.

The playgrounds had been conducted with much more satisfactory results than in the previous year, and the season closed with a surplus. This, with the profits from the fall fair, had been placed in the bank, to the credit of the trustees of the club, to form the nucleus of a building fund.

It was pointed out, however, that it had been found necessary to draw on this fund during the last month to meet current expenses of the hall, which is open every night, and that entertainments should be held to pay these expenses and if possible increase the building fund.

While the club has lost its former playgrounds, it hopes to be able to make some sort of arrangement for at least a children's playground for next summer, to which its present equipment could be moved. The club is in a better position financially than ever before, and the meeting next Monday evening will be devoted wholly to the discussion of plans to make the hall more attractive to men during the rest of the winter.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, A. M. Bell; 1st vice-president, C. A. Jones; 2nd vice-president, C. A. Hunsbert; secretary, A. W. Covey; trustees, C. A. Jones, N. P. Colwell, Charles Dixon; finance and audit committee, R. S. Edgcombe, E. A. Coupe, Gerald Stanton; hall committee, the officers and Harry Scott, E. A. Coupe, W. P. Colwell, Gerald Stanton, E. A. Sheppard; chairman of music committee, E. N. Edgcombe; chairman of sports committee, A. W. Covey.

A committee consisting of the president, with Messrs. Edgcombe, Jones, Stanton and Covey was appointed to consider the question of future playgrounds and report in two weeks.

Mr. Edgcombe reported that the orchestra had made great progress under Prof. Bowden, and some new members were to be added. It was suggested that any young men desiring to join the orchestra, and having instruments, would be

THE FIRE DEPARTMENT

Annual Report of Chief Kerr—Recommendations for Improvements Urged on the Council

In his annual report to the common council Chief Kerr tells of 177 fire alarms during 1910. There are 137 men in the fire department. He asks for re-establishment of the office of third district engineer on the east side. He suggests that uniforms be furnished to the permanent men as is done for the police. He suggests abolishing the plan of two holidays a month, to each permanent driver and would substitute a larger annual vacation than ten days for the men.

Chief Kerr pays a tribute to Former District Engineer McLeod of Carleton and regrets there is no provision for a suitable superannuation allowance.

The chief's report gives fire insurance losses as $76,719 and total fire loss $101,000.

He recommends procuring a Monitor nozzle to be attached to one of the hose wagons to be used as a water tower; also two more Easman nozzles; 2000 feet of hose; new horses for No. 2 engine and No. 1 hook and ladder truck and improvements in the King street east station. The chief also renews his suggestion of 1000 for enlarged quarters for housing the apparatus, a modern central fire station and more convenient quarters for the Salvage Corps.

He recommends improvements in several of the fire stations, refers to the new Carleton station and suggests another ladder truck there and a company formed to operate it. He renews his recommendation for improved fire protection at Sand Point.

He again suggests appointment of a permanent lieutenant for the fire alarm and a system for Carleton similar to that on the east side. New hydrants in various places were recommended and the report states that orders in reference to certain hydrants have not been carried out by the city officials. There are 334 hydrants and four private ones on the east side and fifty-four in Carleton.

MORNING LOCALS

Anthony Graves, aged 21, was arrested here Sunday evening by Policeman Marshall on a telegram received from Chief Higgins, of Campbellton, charging him with theft.

Rev. W. R. Robinson addressed a meeting in the Temple of Honor hall, Main street, Sunday afternoon. His subject was the Law of Rewards.

It is reported that a retired dry goods merchant, of Sydney street, has purchased several lots in the vicinity of Croucher's, and that he paid about ten times as much for them as was paid a few years ago. It is also rumored that the old Tidale property in Westmorland and Red Head roads, is about to change ownership.

The grocery store of Timothy Collins & Co., in North Market street, was broken into on Saturday night, and a considerable quantity of groceries and tobacco stolen, besides a little cash. Entrance was gained through a skylight.

The firm of Merritt Bros. has made an assignment to H. H. Pickett, for the benefit of creditors. A meeting has been called for January 12.

An enjoyable assembly took place in the O'Regan building last night, when a good programme of dances was enjoyed. Allan's orchestra furnished music.
