PRIZE-FIGHTING.

During the past few years the taste for this brutal sport has increased to an alarming extent. This is especially the case in the neighboring Republic, and there is no denying the fact that it is gradually spreading over the Dominion.

The Thrilling Story of a Lady Missionary in Turkey.

Miss Anna Melton, the young American missionary who was the victim of a cruel and murderous attack by hired thugs in the village of Deree, in the Koolish Mountains, last summer, and who barely escaped with her life, arrived in New York on Tuesday last by the steamer Werra from Genoa, Italy. She immediately made her way to the Presbyterian Board of Foreign Missions, No. 53 Fifth Avenue, under whose auspices she went to the Mosul (West Persia) station six years ago, from her home in the west.

Lord Roseberry celebrated Lada's Derby's victory by feasting three hundred and forty-five inmates of the Epsom poor house.

Fred Harmon, the great New Brunswick sprinter and jumper, is entered in the American 100 yard sprinting championship to take place in August.

The Rev. Mr. Fischer, pastor of the American Methodist Episcopal church in Rome, has become a Catholic, and has been daily baptized in that faith.

The coinage of the United States mint, in Philadelphia, for the fiscal year ending June 30th, shows according to Coiner's statement, a total of $78,554,254.00.

Advice from Japan state that over 8,000 houses were damaged, 30 persons killed and 277 injured in the earthquake at Yokohama and Tokio on June 20. Fire at Yokohama on June 17 destroyed over 1,800 houses.

In the United States Senate the Tariff bill being under consideration, Mr. Peffer offered an amendment, which was passed, levying a tax of 800 per head on all aliens landing in the United States to engage in any industrial occupation.

The richest man in Prussia is Albert Hoech, who owes his wealth to his manufacturing establishment (iron and paper). His income is about $2,000,000 a year and his taxes last year when his wealth was rated half a million more, were $106,000.

A placard was found Sunday at Marche St. Honoré, Paris, saying, "Carnot-Perier, you shall go the way of Carnot. We shall shortly give you a date." A similar placard was found at the same spot a few days before the murder of M. Carnot, saying, "France will mourn on June 25." Carnot, the murderer of President Carnot, is becoming uneasy and depressed.

Both Europe and America suffered from the heat during the latter part of last month. Hundreds of people were stricken in France on the day of the late president's funeral, and in New York, Philadelphia, and other American cities, the mortality, especially among the children, was excessive. In New York there were 97 deaths last week, 523 of the victims being children.

Santo, the murderer of President Carnot, has addressed a letter to the printer Casimir-Perier asking for money with which to migrate the rigor of the treatment he receives in Lyons prison. Madame Carnot states that from the moment of his election scarcely a single day passed that her husband did not receive a menacing letter or other notice of his life conveyed in some other way.

The gigantic wheel at the Earl's Court Exhibition, England, which will be thirty feet larger than the Ferris wheel at the World's Fair, is expected to be completed some time next week. The tower, when finished, will be 170 feet high and the wheel itself 280 feet in diameter. There are to be forty cars—thirty ordinary and ten special for the former to accommodate forty and the latter thirty people in each car.

The Irish newspapers publish a statement to the effect that a sailor named Kennedy, now in Belfast, has made a declaration that while serving on the barque Trafalgar in the Indian Ocean, the cook, Dan Sheehan, a native of Cork, died of fever. Before he expired, according to Kennedy, he said that he and his brother, who is in prison, attempted to blow up the House of Parliament in 1885. Kennedy adds that Sheehan refused to give any details of the affair with the exception of saying that he and his brother were then in America, travelled from Chicago to London on purpose to commit the outrage.

France's new president is by no means the tall, stately man that one would imagine him to be from his pictures. On the contrary, he is quite as short, if not even more so, as his predecessor, M. Sadi-Carnot, and just as dapper, carefully brushed, pomaded and groomed as was that lamented Chief Magistrate. He enjoys the distinction of having acquired his Legion of Honor not by reason of his office, but by an act of conspicuous gallantry during the Franco-Prussian war when he was decorated for rescuing under a storm of bullets his mortally wounded commanding officer. Although not a comrade, as was M. Carnot, whose correct style was Comte de Fallières, yet he is allied to the aristocracy by his marriage, his wife being a Comtesse de Segur by birth.

General Coxy has a bright idea—that he generally lacks in the article, but this particular idea is perhaps a bit more interesting than the ones that have gone before, and he is entitled to the credit of building into something new in this independence weather. Now that prolegger is running short and the means for supporting his army in Washington are getting beautifully less, he proposes to march his troops on the grass of the Capitol grounds, so that they can all be arrested, fed and lodged at public expense. This may be part of the Coxy movement that will provide some excitement in the far future of Washington life, and distractions of some kind are necessary to keep the Capitol City from utter collapse during the summer season. But while the army is preparing to charge on the grass, General Coxy has a risk to explain why he pays his laborers in the sand business in Ohio only 90 cents a day, and employs Indians at that. The explanation will be the more brilliant thing of the two and there is some prospect that Coxy will have his hands full, as his campaign for Congress from the Eighteenth Ohio District has just begun, and the voters are asking questions.

A York County Man who has Made his Name in the West.

Among the recent visitors to Fredricton was Hon. Isaac Stevenson of Wisconsin, who claims York as his native county. Mr. Stevenson went a youth, and thence drifted to Wisconsin where he has become one of the States' most prominent men, and immensely wealthy. He has been a member of Congress and handles more lumber than goes down the St. John river in a year.

In the first place, he is president and manager of the Stevenson Co. of Escanaba, Michigan, which in its big yard in Chicago, retained last year 60,000,000 feet of lumber. He owns the majority of stock of the N. Ludington Co., a 40,000,000 concern. He owns five-eighths of the stock of the Stevenson Manufacturing Co., which has an output of 15,000,000 feet of lumber. He is president of the J. P. Postigo, 2500 miles from York, Stevenson's home, which is a magnificent, a city of some 15,000 souls, there is a large water mill. He is president of these two companies, which manufactured 56,000,000 feet of lumber last year. He is also president of the Stevenson transportation company, and the boom company of which he is president employ 700 men. The river on which they work has the largest output of any river in the world. Three years ago they put through the boom 676,000,000 feet of lumber.

He is interested in three very large paper mills, and he owns a good deal of stock in, and is a director of, the sulphide pulp mill which puts out forty tons of paper a day. He is president of the Stevenson National Bank in Montreal, a concern that stood solid during the serious panic last year. He is also interested in the National Bank of America, Chicago, owning about a twentieth part of the capital stock. He has one of the best farms in Wisconsin, comprising 900 acres of good land as there is on the planet. He keeps 125 cows, 125 hogs and mules, 1200 or more sheep. The farm is thirty miles from Milwaukee, on the railroad to Chicago. In connection with others he is running a creamery where they manufacture over 300 pounds of butter a day.—Herald.

Antelope Preserve in Africa.

An effort is being made in England to form a society with the object of preserving many of the species of African antelopes, which are in danger of soon becoming extinct. The scheme, which is being promoted and supported by a number of well-known sportsmen and scientists, is to include a suitable tract of country in the district near Fort Salisbury with a wire fence of, say, forty-five miles in circumference, and drive living into it a number of antelopes, which are to be preserved. At certain seasons of the year, to prevent overcrowding, a number of specimens would be let loose or exported to other parts of the world.

Infernal Machine in Vienna.

A dispatch from Vienna says that a little containing a pint of powerful liquid explosive was recently found in the Volks Garden, adjacent to the Asperg, one of the Imperial residences.

The explosive was of the safety character, as that which recently caused the death of the Anarchist Bourdin while engaged in an attempt to blow up the Greenwich Observatory in England.

The bomb also had a leaden ball inside of it, but it did not contain a hint of sulphuric acid, such as was used in Bourdin's infernal machine.

A Delicious Cake.

Miss Pariba has a recipe for gingerbread, which is so delicious that it should be passed in every cook book, to make it, cream one cupful of good butter, add to it gradually two cupfuls of granulated sugar. When as light as possible, add one teaspoonful of ginger, a cupful of milk, and mix the quarters of a teaspoonful of soda has been dissolved, and then four cupfuls of sifted flour, adding it gradually, spread the batter very thin, and bake brown in a moderate oven. Cut while hot in squares, and tuck from the pan. When cold put away in a tin box.

Pardoned by the Kaiser.

Paris, July 1.—Count von Munster, the German Ambassador, informed Prime Minister Dupuy and M. Hanault, the Minister of Foreign Affairs, that upon the occasion of M. Carnot's obsequies, Emperor William had granted a pardon to Lieutenant Dagny and Lieutenant Malove, the two French officers who were convicted in December last at Leipzig of being spies.

M. Dupuy at once informed President Casimir-Perier, who begged Count von Munster to thank Emperor William for his noble thought, and two assure him that his grateful act would go to the hearts of the two great nations.

Proven by Photography.

A recent Ohio lawsuit, involving the ownership of 1500 acres of valuable timber land, was settled by the aid of a photograph. The turning point of the suit was as to whether an old deed, executed seventy-five years ago, had five signatures or only four. There were spaces for five, but only traces of four were visible. The clerk of the court was ordered to have the deed photographed by an expert. He took it to Washington for that purpose. The negative developed some evidence of the missing signature, but on enlarging it ten times the name came forth distinctly.
