YANKEE FISHERS GET RICH HERE.

St. John Harbor a Bonanza For Strangers.

Thousands of Dollars Worth of Sardines Sold Here During Last Few Weeks.

People of St. John are not, perhaps, aware of the fact, yet under their very eyes, in their own town, strangers come in, without paying anything for the privilege, and take away from under their very eyes thousands of dollars worth that might be theirs.

For the past two or three weeks fishermen from down the bay; Grand Manan, St. Andrews and other places, have sent their boats into St. John harbor to capture the small herring and then dispose of them at advantageous prices in that Maine home of sardines, Eastport.

The young herring, or as the older fishermen and citizens would call them "sprats," have made the harbor of St. John their home during the past month. The fishermen along the shore route, usually alive to that fact, like the Indian in New Brunswick, have followed on the trail of these members of the finny tribe. Their efforts have been rewarded as the schools have been located here in St. John harbor and many successful hauls or catches made.

The labor is all done at night. Then small boats put out from the fishing vessels, surround the school, drop their seine nets, pull in their catch, and make arrangements for future disposal. At present there are about thirty of such fishing crafts in the waters of St. John harbor, above Partridge Island. These range all the way from 4 to 100 tons. They send out small boats with what is called the seine net; these nets are cast around the beach approaches and perhaps as many, if not more, than ten hogsheads of sprats are landed at one setting.

Operations are sometimes difficult at night. It is then that the light (a torch) is strung around the boats to aid the fishermen in their quest after the "sprats" and the dollars.

When a big catch is obtained and the vessels are filled, the master proceeds on his way to sell his cargo, presumably to Eastport, Me., where such prices as $14 a hogshead for fresh fish are given and $15 a hogshead for the salted ones.

These "sprats" so purchased are supposed to be used for sardine purposes, but failing in that, the fishermen have left as a last resource, the selling of their stock as bait to the men that ply in deep sea fishing off the banks of Newfoundland. For "bait" they get $4 a hogshead.

Even as late as last evening the fishermen from other ports piled their trade. Their operations were not confined to the Carleton side alone; this time they were hard at work in "Kennedy's" Lower Cove. One of the small boats pulled in as many as ten hogsheads, if not more, in one seine.

A steamer from Eastport came in yesterday and bought up a cargo. Many of the fishing boats also departed yesterday on their journey to the coast land with full cargoes of the young herring.

The view point taken by the local fishermen is that it is a shame to destroy these "sprats" or infant herring. Maturity of the fish should be allowed and the government should see that measures were taken in this direction. In the meantime the stranger from other shores comes in with his seine and torch, working by night while our fishermen look on with open-mouthed surprise at the capture of the "schools" of baby herring in the harbor of St. John. It is a chance that St. John fishermen are missing and that their acute brethren along the shores from here to Eastport are taking advantage of.

DIES TO SAVE WOMAN.

Railroad Gateman Rescues Stranger from Peril Before a Rushing Train.

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—To save a woman from death at the Van Wyck avenue railroad crossing, Jamaica, last evening, Edward G. Roscoe, a gateman, sacrificed his own life. As he pushed her out of the way of an express train he was himself picked up on the cowcatcher, hurled to one side thirty feet away, and instantly killed. The woman disappeared in the excitement and her identity has not been learned.

A few minutes after eight o'clock Roscoe, warned of the approach of a Long Island train, lowered the gates. An instant later he saw a young woman inside the gates, crossing the street directly in front of the rapidly approaching train. She had just alighted at a rapid transit station on the opposite side of the street and was picking her way across when Roscoe spied her.

Shouting a warning which she did not seem to hear, Roscoe ran under the gate and reached her where she stood in the middle of the tracks only an instant before the train rushed by. He had just time to push her out of danger. He sprang to one side himself, but tripping on a rail fell and was hurled to his death.

When Dr. Rink, of the Jamaica Hospital, arrived with an ambulance, he said that the gateman must have been killed instantly. Capt. Richard Hickman, of the Jamaica police station, ordered an investigation.

Roscoe lived with his wife and family on Oakley avenue, Ozone Park. He was forty-five years old. While his body was being placed in the casket in Rourke's morgue, in Jamaica, the box fell upon Frank Seaman, an undertaker, who was taken to St. Mary's Hospital, Jamaica, with a broken knee.

BALFOUR CRITICIZED

Times Declares His Attitude Means Destruction and Disaster to the Colonies.

LONDON, Oct. 3.—The Times this morning gives prominence to an article purporting to represent the colonial view, strongly criticizing Mr. Balfour's attitude on the fiscal question, showing that he cares nothing for the colonies to whom his attitude means not only disappointment, but disaster. The article asks whether some convulsion, such as the secession of Australia, is needed before the colonies can get their requests considered, and accuses the premier of sacrificing colonial feeling to the desire to keep his own party in power.

CHAMBERLAIN'S KEYNOTE.

LONDON, Oct. 3.—"Every other nation and all our own self-governing colonies have refused to accept the gospel of Cobden, and yet, although they ought, according to its dogmas, to be in the last stage of depression and decay, they have prospered, during the last twenty years in wealth, population and trade, and in everything that goes to make up the greatness of a nation."

This is the keynote of Joseph Chamberlain's manifesto, which will be published Oct. 5 in the form of a preface to a shilling pamphlet entitled: Mr. Chamberlain's proposals: what they mean and what we shall gain by them," by C. A. Vince, secretary to Mr. Chamberlain's tariff organization.

BUSY DAY ON 'CHANGE.

This was a busy day on St. John's exchange, Chubb's corner. The leasehold property, two story dwelling, at Nos. 53 and 55 Queen street, was withdrawn at $780.

The freehold property, belonging to the estate of the late H. B. Crosby, situated on the corner of Union and Coburg street, was sold to J. King Kelly for $18,225.

The property of Clement A. Rutherford, on the corner of German and St. James streets, was sold to W. A. Munro for $1,000.

A heavy dust was raised in the I. C. R. yard this morning by the upsetting of an old locomotive (junk) from a large flat car. Junkman Garson, who is the owner of the old locomotive, took this as the cheapest and quickest way of ridding the car of its burden.

The Boston express was an hour late this morning.

Three Young Friends Commit Brutal Assault and Then Cut Victim's Throat.

GUTHRIE, Okla., Oct. 3.—Half buried in the weeds by the roadside, her throat cut from ear to ear, the body of Mary Prokosh, a Bohemian girl, fifteen years old, was yesterday discovered near her home in Pine county. Iay Rogers, a seventeen year old white boy, has made a full confession of assaulting the girl and afterwards to helping murder her because she declared that she would reveal to her parents the story of the assault. Rogers has also implicated with himself Frank Guinness, and a youth named Malley, now in jail at Stillwater. Rogers is in jail at Perry in the Bohemian settlement where the murdered girl lived, there is strong talk of lynching.

BASE BALL NEXT WEEK.

The Franklins and Waterlilies may come together in a series of base ball games next week. Arrangements are now being perfected to bring about these games. The present weather is good for base ball. The Franklins have been anxious during the past two or three weeks to arrange games, but have found no foes worthy of their steel. It is altogether probable that some definite action will be arranged the first part of the week between these teams.

STEEVES-MURPHY.

A quiet wedding took place this afternoon at Duck Cove, when Dr. James Steeves, of Wellington Row, married Miss Kate Murphy. The marriage ceremony was performed by Rev. W. H. Sampson, of St. George's church, at the home of the bride. Mr. and Mrs. Steeves left on this afternoon's train for an extensive tour in the south.

NINE YEAR-OLD HERO

Rescues Mother and Five Little Ones From Burning Building in New York.

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—Little George Serr, nine years old, was caring for his baby sister, Ida, who has diphtheria, baby sister, Ida, who has diphtheria, last night, while his mother, exhausted by her vigils, was sleeping in the rear top tenement at No. 444 West Thirty-ninth street.

George heard cries of "Fire!" and sounds of alarm in the tenements below. He aroused his mother and the other children—there are six little ones in the family—and, wrapping blankets about them so they would not see the flames, led them all down the winding stairs to safety.

The fire was in the front tenement on the top floor. It was discovered by people living in the rooms immediately below, and Mrs. Earl, wife of the occupant, said she saw Carmine Malanka, the janitor, come out of the burning rooms.

All the tenants succeeded in reaching the street in safety. When the firemen arrived they got the fire under control before it spread to other parts of the building.

On the sidewalk Earl recognized Malanka and pointed him out to Policeman Meyer, who took the janitor to the West Thirty-seventh street station house. Fire Marshall Frell was notified and a rigid investigation will be made. There were twenty families in the house.

CANADA - LED.

LONDON, Oct. 3.—Referring to Mr. Balfour's remarks regarding the denunciation of the German-Belgian treaties, the Spectator says that the result of Canada's attempt to give us preferential treatment made us realize our helplessness. This was the keynote of the whole speech. The Saturday Review says Balfour made it clear that the threat against Canada had forced on reform.

RECENT MARRIAGES.

At Petite Riviere, N. S., on Sept. 30, the Methodist church presented a handsome appearance in its dress of flowers for the marriage of Miss Mary M. Hale, only daughter of Rev. Joseph and Mrs. Hale, to Ernest N. Bottenshaw, of H. M. Civil Service, St. Albans, England.

Rev. Joseph Hale, father of the bride, performed the ceremony, assisted by Dr. A. D. Morton, of Bridgewater.

One of the prettiest weddings Hartford has ever known took place Thursday, Oct. 1, at the residence of Geo. R. Burr, Hartland, when his daughter, Elizabeth Mary, and Paul Miller Taylor, of Norfolk, Virginia, were united in marriage.

The ceremony took place at two o'clock and was performed by Rev. S. A. Baker, assisted by Rev. W. B. Wiggin, in the presence of about 20 guests. The Presbyterian church at Moose Brook, Minasville, Hants county, N. S., was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Wednesday evening, Sept. 23rd, the contracting parties being Capt. Gremio Scott, of the schooner Lena, and Miss Lottie Wright, both of Minasville. Rev. William Forbes performed the ceremony.
