FREE

It is not every day that housekeepers can get a Cook Book free of charge. Next THURSDAY, FRIDAY and SATURDAY I will be able to give everyone who buys a three pound can of COTTOLENE at my store a Cook Book FREE. It contains 600 receipts and is said to be one of the very best books of this kind published. On those particular days the Cottoleone Exhibition will be at my store, and as it is the final exhibition in this city, no one should lose an opportunity to see it. In this connection I may say that COTTOLENE was first imported to this city and sold at my store, having been recommended to me by one of our most reputable manufacturers, then resident in the States. Since then the article has secured a firm hold upon the public and a large sale.
