Hornblow Meets Sunbury Members

Dave Could Not Give H
Any Information Rega
ing That Mysterious M
Job—It Might Be Spent
Roads.

"I missed Hon. Mr. Veniot as but I ran across Mr. Mercurson, senior member from Sunbury who supports the Foster government cause he has to, but plays the role candle friend when the party is not cracking," said Mr. H.
Hornblow. "I asked Dave if he give me any information about mysterious million."

"That is what I am searching myself," said Dave, who is a eight more consistent than the ma ity of the members of Parliament Ottawa, and has not much use titles of any kind.

"To think," said Dave, "that Foster wouldn't give me that $200 crisis in indemnity I asked for, then as soon as we got home he $1,000,000, and nobody seems to what for. I never had much faith these smooth talking politicians, now I am more disappointed in grand old party than ever."

"Perhaps you should have asked a million," said I. "Former folk always too modest."

"I reckon you are right," said D.
"the big grafters usually get they want, but the little grafters it in the back. But I could have with that extra $200 I asked for. sidering the high cost of living, ridiculous to expect legislators, take to their task so much in guise and energy as myself, to for a paltry $200. Why we put in much as 25 hours per week for weeks. That is only $4.00 per h and there are ordinary mechanics don't know anything about politics they wouldn't have elected a gov ment too mean to pay its support properly, ordinary mechanics ge as high as $4.00 per day."

"Considering you're a farmer I know that $4.00 an hour is such pay," said I. "But I suppose it's strain on your intellect trying to low the speaking of all those men."

"It's not that," said Dave. "It's strain on the patience. If you to sit through a speech by the P ter or Hon. Mr. Tweeddale, and expected to applaud every once while, you'd want more than $400 the session. And I make it a of sticking to my seat, except I take a nap on the lounge, wh have to do now and then, bec everybody knows that if I was awake I would never support su much as they have on the b benches now."

"But that does not get us any er the mysterious million," said "Do you think Mr. Veniot will it on his permanent roads?"

"I should worry," said Dave. spent more than a million air but I haven't met anybody who k the whereabouts of his permi roads. They're not in Sunbury."

The Educational System of Provin

Citizen Points Out
Something is Radica
Wrong With the Way
Administered—Reports
Re-establishment Com
tee Show it.

That something is radically with the way the educational of the province is being admini was pointed out yesterday by a minent citizen who is connected with vocational training and th turning soldier.

"Glancing idly through several dred individual reports which passed through the civil re-estab ment committee," he stated, "I across 225 names of men who their education was below third These were just picked at random.
I had gone thoroughly over the plete file of six thousand names, very sure that I would find well a thousand who have placed selves on record as having rec less than third grade education."

"Those who were familiar with personnel of the Depot Battalio bair me out in the statement fourty large percentage of the were absolutely illiterate; man them could not even write names, but had to make a ma their registration papers, which taken for a signature."

"It is safely assumed that the who were the khaki were the citizens of the country. Taking for a fact, it is a rather sad nary on the educational of the province, or rather the stration of that system, which mits these citizens to grow to estate with an education no than that secured by a child second year in school."

"Through the northern sects the province the proportion of ary is alarmingly great. Teach hard to secure, owing to the wages paid, but even at that t partment of education is pos with sufficient funds to make a showing than this possible."

"The United States, awakes conditions through the disclosure by the draft proceedings of t markedly high rate of illiter taking rapid steps to have th lessened if not eradicated. It is Canada and the province of Brunswick to do the same."

"From reports published learned that in 1917 246 of pupils registered in the provin in the first grade. Only 28 pe get beyond the fifth grade, an 2.2 per cent. get to high school ly this should provide a mass consideration for all who have terests of the province and i sons at heart."
