The Treasurer wishes to say that if Societies desire the names of individual contributors to appear in the printed Minutes, it will be necessary to furnish her with full lists. It was intended to publish them this year, but so few lists were sent in that it has been thought better not to publish anything but the full amount sent by each Society. Names that do appear are those of persons who contributed directly, and not through an auxiliary. Will the Officers of Auxiliaries please be careful next year to send all the names?
