The first of a series of mass temperance meetings under the auspices of the W. C. T. U., held today at the Opera House, attracted a large audience. Rev. Dr. McLeod was the principal speaker and entered a strong protest against what he termed the loose and vicious manner in which the Scott act is enforced here. He claimed that those who violated the law were treated more leniently and were only fined in their regular turn once a month. He said from three to five liquor dealers waited on the police magistrate at his office and acknowledged an offence under the Canada Temperance Act. A fine of $50 was imposed and the police magistrate very considerately gave the offenders until the end of the month to pay up.

The reverend doctor claimed that the Scott act was mal-administered in this city and that funds derived from fines were not used to enforce the act as the law stipulated but went to support the police force. He was inclined to lay the blame for this condition of affairs upon Police Magistrate Marsh and the city council He thought the time had arrived when citizens should demand the more rigid enforcement of the law.
