EAST KENT.

The East Kent nomination meeting held here on Monday proved a very tame affair, although the preceding days were prolific in rumors.

First it was said that George Johns, of Bothwell, disgusted with the manner of his turn-down at the Liberal convention, would run as an Independent Liberal. Then Dr. McCully, of Harwich, loomed up on the horizon as a disturbing factor in the Liberal camp. The doctor was completely out of time and was determined to run against Mr. Lee. The Harwich nomination went so far as to seek a nomination among the prominent Liberals of Blenheim, and it was not until Saturday night that he was pulled off the track. The brand of soft soap used is not known, but it was evidently effective for the doughty doctor failed to even show up here on Monday.

On Saturday Mr. Johns authorized the statement that he would be an Independent Liberal candidate, and he possessed at least sufficient courage to drive over here on Monday and face the enemy. Mr. Johns, upon his arrival, was met by Mr. Lee and taken for a walk. The Bothwell man returned from the exercise in better humor, and it then only needed the persuasive powers of the officers of the East Kent Liberal Association and Mr. Lee's sponsors to convince Mr. Johns that it was in his interest as well as that of the party to stand aside and be good. For the second time Mr. Johns permitted himself to be jolted into inaction, and the result was the election of Mr. Lee to go to Toronto and Mr. Johns to return to Bothwell thinking things.

In spite of the success which crowned the efforts of the manipulators, the half-hearted cheers which greeted the announcement of Mr. Lee's election by acclamation, and the cold silence of fully one-half of those present bode no good to the future of the Liberal party in East Kent. A great many Liberals are as far as satisfied with the completed job as they were when it was in its half-finished condition, and will vote to reject it when the occasion is offered.—Ridgeway Dominion.

ADMINISTRATION OF JUSTICE.

The defeat of Tammany in New York is the hand-writing on the wall for the Tammany of Ontario. The people of this fair Province will banish the Ross-Mackie aggregation and their methods as emphatically as the good people of the American metropolis have dismissed the regime of corruption. And the Ontario Tammany has done much to earn this designation of disapproval.

One very serious feature of the doings of the present Government of Ontario is its interference with the administration of justice. It is a proud boast of Canadians that never since the country came under British rule has there been a lynching in Canada. That shows the wisdom of those whose duty it has been to see that all the machinery of the law, looking to its proper administration, shall be as nearly perfect as possible.

It is well known that the awful crimes committed by the lynchers in the United States are done in the

WHITE AND RED

Pale blood—pale face—poor health; Scott's Emulsion—red blood—rosy face—good health; that's the order of events.

Our first lines give a condensed history of many cases, chiefly young girls at school. For some reason girls of that age are frequent sufferers from pale blood—a real blood starvation.

Scott's Emulsion, a clean white medicine, makes rich, red blood and rosy faces. It is blood food.

name of justice, and done because the administration of the law is extremely faulty. Were this not the case people would wait patiently for the law to take its course. But, finding that the law is not carried out, and that parties, having influence with those who have the administration of these laws in charge, use this influence to have the course of justice impeded, and seeing many escape punishment for crimes committed, it is any wonder that the people come to view the laws of the land with contempt, and to have no confidence that justice will be dealt out impartially. Then crimes naturally result which have cast so foul a blot on the United States—the awful lynchings.

But it may be asked what has all this to do with Canada, and the province of Ontario in particular? Just this: Crimes have been committed by rascals here which should, by law, be punished with fine or imprisonment. But instead of these scoundrels being dealt with as the laws direct, the government and its appointed officials stand between them and the law, and even destroy the evidence of their crimes in order to protect them.

In the election in West Elgin and other places the most dastardly crimes were committed, rascalities, which even the men who by these means had been elected admitted, and yet the law has been prostituted to the protection of these villains. While the present Ontario government holds power it is impossible to punish the men who commit crimes in order to keep its members in office. They are bound to protect these men—bailout switchers, ballot thieves, ballot spoilers, personators and perjurers who help to keep them in office, so far, therefore, as the election laws are concerned, they are a dead letter in Ontario, at least as regards punishing the scoundrels who are engaged in thwarting the will of the people. So far as this law is concerned it is treated with contempt, and if a change is not made the contempt, which is now felt for this law will extend itself to all law, and once the idea becomes general that the government favors the escape of criminals of a certain class, and that they are under the protection of the administration of the law, how long will a contempt for all laws be forming in the minds of the people. The present government is thus responsible for any troubles which may arise in consequence of this loss of confidence in the proper administration of the laws. This is a serious responsibility, but the Ontario government seems to be concerned principally in keeping in power. Law breaking is quite pardonable if it conduces to that end. It is time that the men who act on this principle are relegated to private life.

HOW LONG?

Mr. Average Ratepayer—Dear Sir—Part of your white man's burden this year is $100,000 of taxes which Premier Ross' scrap iron bluff lifted off the shoulders of his friends the corporations, and dumped on to you. You have been carrying that burden ever since the iniquitous scrap iron assessment act was passed by the provincial government eight years ago. Meanwhile the grateful corporations contribute to the Machine fund, while the Machine undertakes the criminal work of switching your votes so long as to keep you in bondage. How long are you going to stand it—Ottawa Citizen.

Be on the look-out for The Planet's new and splendid serial story. It's a daisy.

"Tone" is the title of the delightful serial story to be published in The Planet. Be sure and read it.

That London bank clerk, Couche, who tackled the armed bank robber though himself unarmed, deserves something resembling the Victoria Cross if such a decoration existed for civilian acts of bravery. Anyway, Couche is all right, all right.

Extravagances are creeping into the conventional world of evening parties. A new rule, as announced by a young society lady of Pennsylvania, will allow the young men to appear in the heated ball-room in shirt waists. The mid-winter shirt-waist party will be the name of the new function. But this modern move has been out-heroded by the young lady who has recently invented the Trilby pink-toe social. In this social extravaganzas each man present is required to make a guess at the identity of the owner of a bare foot shown beneath the curtain. If successful he takes the lady who owns the foot to supper, but if the guess fails he is fined heavily, the proceeds going to a local charity. O charity, what foolishness is committed in thy name!

The Detroit Free Press pays the following tribute to Colonel Benson, the heroic Ontario boy who has just gone to a soldier's death in South Africa: "American sympathy goes out to those whose loss was more direct in the death of Col. Frederick William Benson, of St. Catharines, Ont., who was killed in the engagement with the Boers. He was a brave and seasoned soldier, winning his laurels in numerous campaigns and doing as much as any other one man to establish the military prowess of Canada in the esteem of the empire and the world. In the record of such a man admiration sets aside the prejudices of partisanship and pays the honest tribute of the heart." It turns out that the Col. Benson was not the St. Catharines man of that name, and not a Canadian, but the intention of the Free Press was all right.

Lord Rosebery has been telling a British audience some unpalatable truths. "The nation which is satisfied is lost. The nation which is not progressing is retrograding. Rest and be thankful is a motto which spells decay." No man sees clearer than Lord Rosebery the peril that threatens England owing to her sluggishness and indifference to the doings and alertness of the wide world. The return of Lord Rosebery to politics is the best thing that could happen drowsy England, where the people are so dull that "when they are told that their house is on fire are apt to fall asleep again directly it arrives." When Lord Rosebery comes back to his own again and pulls the Liberal party out of the ditch it is to be hoped that he will acquaint England with the resources and greatness of the colonies as home lands across the seas for the surplus population of the British Isles.

GEN. HAMILTON'S SPECTACLES.

New York Commercial.

A singular story is told concerning Gen. Sir Ian Hamilton's spectacles. It is said that the officer, then a subaltern, lost a pair of spectacles in the battle of Majuba Hill. They were picked up by a Boer whom they suited, and who kept them for twenty years. In the early part of the present year the spectacles were found on the body of a dead Boer. The case had Gen. Hamilton's name on it.
