The London Rowing Club met at the Tecumseh House Monday night, quite a number of gentlemen being present, The Secretary's report showed that the liabilities of the club were $50, and the assets comprised one boat house at Clark's Bridge; one four-oared out-rigged shell racing boat; one four-oared out-rigged lap streak practice boat; two pair-oared out-rigged lap streak practice boats, and sundries, valued at $25; showing a very handsome surplus in favor of the club.

The club will this season remove to their new course on the main branch of the river, where they will have probably the best course in the province. It is the intention of the club, should liberal support be accorded them, to get up a first-class regatta The London Rowing Club met at the Tecumseh

YARMOUTH TOWNSHIP COUNCIL.

On Sunday last a villanous attempt to cause in jury or death to a whole family had been perpetrated in the village of Caledonia. It seems that in the village there lives a family named Galligan, who all became seriously ill, immediately after partaking of water drawn from a cistern on the premises. As the water was usually pure, and all the symptoms pointed strongly to poison, medical advice was sent for, the recovery of several of those attacked being for a time doubtful. At last accounts, our informant says, they were regarded as out of danger. There seems little doubt that poison of a most virulent character had been put in the water, and it is said to be the belief of the family and neighbors. The township council of Yarmouth met at the a communication from the township of South Dorchester, respecting a grant for gravel on the town line. It was resolved that road division
No. 72 be added to division No. 92 and that Nathan Jones be pathmaster. Albert Couse was reappointed collector of Yarmouth at a salary of $50 for the current year, provided he furnish satisfactory security to the reeve. The petition of Chas. Saywell and others for a grant of money for gravel on the west town line was laid over for futther consideration. By-law 361 to establish a road between lots 27 and 28 in the 4th concession in lieu of the town line was read and passed. road between lots 27 and 28 in the 4th concession in lieu of the town line was read and passed. Messrs. White and Doyle were appointed a comittee to investigate the grievance complained of by Mr. Meek respecting a road leading to lot No. 1 in the 2nd concession, and to report at the next meeting of the council. The reeve and Mr. White were appointed a computing to examine Dayls street, near natives in these hills, and when some of his men were struck by the poisoned arrows, he, Berenice like, sucked the poison from their wounds, with the result that none of his men died of the wounds thus inflicted, but m doing this heroic act he laid the seeds of a disease that brought the hero to a pre-mature death, for he never recovered from the inmature death, for he never recovered from the in-jury his system sustained by the imbibing of the poison, and from the wounds he also received durpoison, and from the wounds he also received during that long and terrible mutiny. After the mutiny was supressed, Commodore Davies returned to Mallow, with a shattered constitution, to spend the remainder of his days amongst his family—one of remainder of his days amongst his family—one of the old stock of the country. Commodore Davies was very reticent about telling the dangers he had been in, or of his hairbreadth escapes. In one instance in taking a stockade his clothes were pierced by five arrows; three of them entering his body, carrying the insidious poison. He received several wounds from bullets and swords, and was the owner of four medals for his bravery and services. He never in public wore any of those decorations earned by him on the battle-field. His charity to the poor of his native town was very great, and his loss to them will be sorely felt. to them will be sorely felt.

NAVIGATION ON LAKE HURON.—The tug Dispatch NAVIGATION ON LAKE HURON.—The tug Dispatch left Goderich, Saturday night with a cargo of supplies for Tolsmas Landing, Cockburn Island. There is considerable ice in the lake, but it is expected she will get through without any difficulty. The ice in the habor is still firm, but a few days of warm weather will disperse it. Vessel men are moving, and it is expected navigation will be open within a week or ten days.

Fire at Ridgetown.—The large saw-mill and sash and door factory belonging to Geo. Watson of Ridgetown, was totally destroyed by fire Saturday night at 12 o'clock. At one time the town, which has not the slightest protection against fire, was in great danger. It escaped alore by Providence than anything else. The loss is $8,000 and insurance $4,000—Phenix $2,000 and Canada Mutual $2,000.

It is hoped the insurance companies will help us in the enterprise.

The Grosse Isle Tunnel.—Writing of this project in the Detroit Free Press, W. K. Muir says nature seems to have intended this point for such a grand international crossing. It is the shortest and cheapest place in the river for a tunnel. The Canada Southern Railway was built to there on the account. Detroit has appointed eight different committees to look after the proposed bridge or committees to look after the proposed bridge or tunnel at that city. The city council has passed a resolution asking the Legislature to amend the city charter so as to enable it to appropriate $700,000 to purchase Belle Isle and build a bridge over the American channel (between the city and island.) This will not prevent the Grosse Isle and Amherstburg tunnel, however, being built. James J. Joy, the Detroit Railway king, was interviewed on Monday last and spoke as follows:—"It may be considered certain, I think, that the construction of a tunnel at Grosse Isle will be undertaken, and in my judgment it will be successful. It is of no use for tunnel at Grosse Isle will be undertaken, and in my judgment it will be successful. It is of no use for us to try to shut our eyes to this fact. The purchase of the Canada Southern and Michigan Central Railroads by Mr. Vanderbilt is enough to remove any doubt we might desire to retain on the subject. His interest in having the crossing there has become. immense. There the business of south-western roads can best cross the river. A tunnel or bridge can not be immense. There the business of south-western roads can best cross the river. A tunnel or bridge can not be made cheaper than at this point. He commands the great thoroughfare, the Michigan Central road, whose business is necessary to give value to a bridge here as there. Add to these considerations that a road constructed from Ypsilanti to Trenton will shorten the line by that road twenty miles, and the weight on the side against ushere is a hard one for us to overcome."
