OPENING SUPPER IN Y. M. C. A. SEMI-CENTENNIAL CAMPAIGN

First Gun in Drive For $45,000 Objective Fired Last Night—G. A. Warburton of Toronto a Speaker—Massey-Harris Co. Gives $5000

If last night's stirring and inspiring banquet of the workers who will conduct the membership and financial campaigns in the interests of the Y.M.C.A. held in that building, was any criterion of the manner in which the balance of the canvass will be conducted, there need be no doubt regarding the ultimate result. The speakers of the evening, which were George A. Warburton of Toronto, emphasized the value that the institution is at the present day, and the immense amount of work that is being accomplished by its officers among the troops of the allies on the battlefields of Europe.

Two hundred campaigners, some seasoned veterans, and others raw novices, but all setting out with a determination to achieve the desired mark, sat down to the tastefully decorated tables laden with dainty refreshments. Regret was expressed that the Board of Directors, and President Findlay of the Massey-Harris Company, stating the inability of these gentlemen to be present. It was announced at this juncture that a great honor had been conferred upon Brantford, and especially upon the chairman of the campaign, Mr. Harry Cockshutt, who yesterday was appointed the director of the Bank of Montreal. The Bank of Montreal, stated Mr. Cook, had been in existence for over a hundred years, and for the first time in its history, an Ontario man had been included in the Board of Directors. On the head of this announcement the banquet-ters applauded heartily and enthusiastically, taking it for a sign of the success of the campaign.

The first milestone has already been passed in the campaign for the Y.M.C.A. in this city. The Massey-Harris Company, including the Verity Plow Company, had made the initial contribution among the manufacturers of the city, and had given the Y.M.C.A. a sum of $5000 toward removing the debt.

Chairman Harry Cockshutt. "This is the fiftieth anniversary of the foundation of the Y.M.C.A. in Brantford," said Mr. Cockshutt in his opening words of a brief chairman's address, "and my father was president of the first Y.M.C.A. in this city, therefore I consider it an honor to have been requested to assume the chairmanship of this campaign. I will be more proud if I can deliver the goods, and my father would say $50,000, one thousand for every year of the history of the institution in Brantford."

"The campaign should be vigorously prosecuted for the honor of this city. Brantford is largely a manufacturing city, and the Y.M.C.A. has filled a want in the community where trained men are essential. It is a long pull, a strong pull, and we'll go over the ridge."

Sec. G. H. Williamson explained the procedure that would be followed in canvassing for the financial campaign, and concluded by stating: "Brantford has a national reputation for the campaigns that have been conducted here, and no campaign has ever failed in this city, and I am sure this one will be successful."

E. A. Danby, chairman of the membership committee, outlined the methods that were to be adopted by his workers in their efforts for the next few days, their efforts for the assistance of a team of war veterans, that the success of the campaign was assured.

George A. Warburton, Toronto, who has become famous through his energetic endeavors toward accomplishing province wide prohibition, delivered an inspiring address that radiated his own energy and stirred the workers to a zeal for their three day campaign. He reviewed his trip around the world a year ago, and related his experiences of coming into contact with the Y. M. C. A. in the Orient, and of the influential position there occupied by them. He told of the work that was being accomplished on the firing line among the troops of the Allies, and how, in general, the cause of Christianity and civilization was being propagated throughout the world by this institution.

"Some of the Associations in the Dominion have made use of the excuse that the war has hampered their efficiency, and some boards of directors have allowed the finances to lapse. However, I congratulate you, gentlemen, that you have seen in the war an opportunity to serve, and have taken the steps necessary to remove the debt from your building. Personally, I think you have done right."

The potent influence that is exerted in the nations of the Orient, many of them avowedly non-Christian, from Japan to India, was marvellous, declared Mr. Warburton. In Japan, the institution is at the center of the life of the nation. In Korea it is to be found in the heart of the country in the midst of a people non-Christian, and under the control of a heathen officialdom, yet at the same time the government officials are willing to discuss the Y. M. C. A., and will willingly admit the good influence that is being brought to bear on the young life of the nation.

The same conditions were true in China, that new yet old republic of the East, where the changes of the past ten years young men have come into their own and are realizing the benefit to be derived from coming in contact with the Y. M. C. A. In Ceylon and India, there was a marvellous adaptation of the Y. M. C. A. On every vessel that leaves India for the front carrying rough, uneducated, uncouth men to the battle front, there are representatives of the Y. M. C. A. to cheer them, and these "men of the triangle" continued with them until the front line was reached. There is not single city in the world, again I saw the Y.M.C.A. busily and faithfully engaged in work among the soldiers. Wherever there was a hospital there was the Y.M.C.A. and wherever there were rooms there would be found the hut with the red triangle over the entrance. The same conditions prevail in England.

"It is because the association has so commended itself to the people of the world that we now have this opportunity. It does not mean that we have not made mistakes, but it means that wherever the allies are fighting to-night the Y.M.C.A. is ministering to their needs, making their lives purer, better, and stronger, and upholding among our boys those principles for which we are fighting in Europe to-day."

"Was there in the history of the nation that so many people were living an unselfish life. It is one of the compensations of the war that more are living less for themselves and more for others. We are learning as the result of the war, and God help us if we are not, that there is nothing too good to give up. Christianity challenges men to service for others, just as Christ served men, and I think the Y.M.C.A. would be unworthy of its name if it failed to live up to that ideal. I believe that what we need to-day is a more practical interpretation of Christianity that what were the Master on earth to-night he would be seeking out the men who had caught some of this vision, he had caught and he would be overseas to-night, looking after the boys."

"We believe that this institution is a means of helping men to better spiritual, physical, intellectual, and social life, let us increase its efficiency by rendering a service of debt and allow it to render its service unhampered to the community."

Rev. G. A. Woodside hoped that the canvassers would adopt that ideal propounded by Mr. Warburton. The work was not to be regarded as a local measure, but as a service to the kingdom of God. He briefly referred to the situation fifty years ago, when the institution was first established in Brantford. The men who had ventured into the undertaking then must have been of a gigantic faith, thought the speaker, to confront the odds that were piled up at that early day, when thousands were more difficult to secure than millions are to-day. As a result of the efforts of our predecessors we were living more comfortable and happier lives to-day. He said: "We are not worthy of the mantle of our fathers if we fail to measure up to our opportunities."

Speaking of the work at the front and in the training camps, the speaker declared: "We are fighting to-day for the overthrow of materialism, the curse of this century, and the men who are standing to-day for the ascendancy of spiritual things, and we should be willing to sacrifice ourselves to some extent, or at least our Great Brother died to redeem man, spiritually and physically."

His parting message was a strong appeal to the men who were going forth on the morrow, to extend themselves to the greatest of their ability to reach the mark set as an objective. "Brantford people have never failed in any campaign into which they have entered and many times they have overshoot the mark, and I am sure they are going to accomplish their object and are not going to fall in this crisis," he concluded.

Rev. Dr. Henderson thought that if ever there was a day when the value of the Y. M. C. A. was recognized that time was the present. Never before had it accomplished such marvellous work for mankind. His hope was that every success would wait upon the effort to remove the debt from the building. W. F. Cockshutt, M.P., received an ovation when he rose to speak, for his father it was who was the first president of the local institution. "I was a Y. M. C. A. worker for many years, and stood by it during its darkest days," he said. "I can remember when I was a small child earning my own living, as some of you may think I never honestly subscribed a third of my income to the first building, and the spirit that actuated our forefathers, is actuating our sons."

A. has pretty nearly revolutionized my feeling regarding it. Not a few letters from my boys and relatives at the front have been written on the paper of Y. M. C. A. Their words of appreciation have reconvinced me, if that were necessary, to my old appreciation of the institution.

The price of the institution is a crucible and fire of the war, and has stood out as a shining light on the boys at the front. It deserves our warmest and most sincere appreciation.

Going further into the particulars of the work at the front, Mr. Cockshutt paid a glowing tribute to Capt. Best, a former Y. M. C. A. worker here, when he said: "Mr. Best is one of the outstanding religious figures of this war. He has taken religion up to the cannon's mouth, and any religion that can stand up to the mouth of the guns is a good enough religion for me."

In conclusion, Mr. Cockshutt said, "I am glad to see that the word of the institution in the city, and related the prominent part that had been taken by the late Mr. I. Cockshutt in establishing the Association here. He felt sure that the present campaign would prove successful."

George Wedlake, Hon. Pres., who was president of the board of directors of the institution, was elected stated that at first the estimated cost of the structure was $90,000 but it was later found that it would cost $100,000. The population of the city had reached 40,000 people. He also felt sure that a city of 27,000 could clear up a debt of $45,000 without very great effort.

The banquet was brought to a close by the singing of the national anthem, and when the speakers dispersed carrying with them the concluding appeal of the chairman.

"I ask you in the name of the Y. M. C. A. and for the honor of Brantford to see that we do our duty to secure the forty-five thousand dollars."

MARKET COMMENT

NEWS OF THE EXCHANGES (Written especially for the Brantford Courier.)

New York Exchange Seats—The New York Stock Exchange seat of John W. Corawall, was sold to Robert H. Loeb for $50,000, the same price as realized at the last previous sale of a seat. Herbert C. Taylor's seat on the stock exchange has been sold to Lee-Gasley for $50,000.

Baldwin Locomotive—Baldwin Locomotive Co. is being selected by highly active speculative interests in Wall Street, which are friendly to the equipment issues.

Mexico National Railways—At a meeting of the directors of the National Railways of Mexico in the City of Mexico, Henry Bruner was elected a director and a member of the New York local board in the place of Ramon P. Denegri, resigned.

American Woolen Company—The American Woolen Company, which has been announced by the American Woolen Company Friday, effective to-day.

Russell Munition Order—The Russell Motor Company has just received another large munition order. It is for six-inch shells. It is estimated that the contract will keep the company's plants running for another eight months at least.

Before long now the annual report of the company for the past year will appear. It will show a record, beside which the profits of the previous year will look small.

Admitted to List—The New York Stock Exchange has admitted to the list the Bethlehem Steel Corporation full-paid subscription receipts for a per cent, cumulative convertible preferred stock.

Twin City Strike—Thirty per cent. of the employees of the Twin City Rapid Transit Co. have gone on strike. The company had previously granted a 10 per cent. increase in wages, effective October 1st. The company wished to deal only with the committee of men at whose request the raise had been granted.

He was so young I could not kill him," was the Tommy's explanation. On the ridge north of Broodseinde, the British pushed forward over the ruins of the hamlets of Kerlaarhoek and Nevenolen without much difficulty. Daisy wood, just north of Broodseinde was still holding out at the latest report, but it was virtually surrounded.

A separate attack made by the British south of the main offensive line, on a narrow front embracing Reutel and Polderhoek was reported to be successful. No deep advance was attempted here, the operation being mainly to improve the positions reached last Thursday.

On the whole the Germans made a weak resistance to-day. Their infantry appeared to be demoralized in many sections and their artillery fire was weak and erratic. No estimate of the German losses is possible, but they are believed to have been exceedingly heavy. The British and French losses are reported to have been light. It is estimated that in the attack last Thursday the German losses aggregated twenty thousand.

By the same token, New York supporters argue, the "idleness" did not do the "White Sox" any good. The western team was on edge, playing right on its toes and having twice landed victory, was eager to

WEATHER

Setting on the result of the series has not undergone any change. Two to one and three to one that the American League winners would win the series were the prevailing odds with not many takers. It appeared to be more wagering on the result of to-day's game than on the outcome of the series, even money being offered by both sides.

Some of the New York betting was based on the belief that yesterday's postponement helped the New York team. It was admitted by Giant rooters that the defeats sustained by the National Leaguers in Chicago had severely shaken the team as a whole and had to some extent demoralized the pitching staff. Manager McGraw's pitching plans were shot to pieces by the White Sox batters and the close followers of the game feel that the engine in and finish the Giants. The pitchers were going good. Cleo and Faber by virtue of their wins over the eastern team, were full of confidence and anxious to perform again. Manager Rowland of the Chicago team, says that his men are still up to concert pitch and that to-day's game will demonstrate that fact. He says he feels confident that his men will win in four straight and duplicate the feat of the Boston Braves against the Philadelphia Athletics in 1914. He declares that his team is the best that has ever represented the American League in a world's series.

Manager McGraw of the Giants has little to say regarding the situation his team is in. He has told friends that he is still hopeful that his pitchers and batters will show their true form and even up the series. He banks largely on Schupp and Saltee coming through successfully before a home crowd, it is said. Many guesses are being made on the pitching possibilities for the third game. Yesterday it was that Cleo would again oppose Saltee, but with the rest that Schupp has obtained, there is a possibility that he may be sent to the mound. The general opinion, however, is that it will be Cleo against Saltee. The probable batting order for today is as follows: New York J. Collins, 1. f. Burns, 1. f. McMillen, 3b Herzog, 2b Kauff, c. f. E. Collins, 2b Jackson, r. f. Fletcher, c. f. Gandil, 1b Robertson, r. f. Weaver, s. s. Holke, 1b Shaik, c. Cleo, p. Saltee, p. Unhappy: At plate, Klem, on bases O'Loughlin, Riegler and Evans. Forced lay-off has helped the team to pull itself together and has given the twirlers a chance to get a good rest.
