STEAMBOAT NEWS.

The Whitehorse the most palatial of the B. V. N. line, arrived this morning at 5 o'clock with 35 passengers and a heavy consignment of freight. She will not leave on her up-river trip until some time tomorrow.
Steamer Zealandian escorting some scows is hourly expected. She should have arrived yesterday evening had not one of her charges ran foul on a bar yesterday.
The Crimmins with a scow in tow will be in some time today.
The little steamer Quick arrived yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock from a trip up the Stewart as far as McQueenten creek. A great deal of activity is reported in that vicinity and the contiguous country to the headwaters of the Stewart will be more thoroughly prospected this season than ever before.
Quite a number of rafts of logs are being constructed on the Stewart for transportation to Dawson.
Two carriage horses and a saddle animal, the private property of Superintendent of Public Works Tache, were brought down on the Whitehorse.

Warmest of the Bunch.

There was a grand go at the Savoy last night but it was mild compared with the meet between Vincent White and Curly Carr at the same place tonight at 10:30. White fought a draw with Slavin and Carr with Dick Case and neither man is easy. They will go at it tonight for a finish but as to who will win is the question which will be then and there decided. Bets are even on the outcome. Secure tickets early. Contest begins promptly at 10:30 at the Savoy.

"AMERICA"

My country, 'tis of thee, sweet land of liberty, of thee I sing; Land where my fathers died, land of the pilgrim's pride, From every mountain side—let freedom ring—My native country thee, land of the noble free, thy name I love—I love thy rocks and rills, thy woods and templed hills, My heart with rapture thrills, like that above.

Let music swell the breeze, and ring from all the trees, sweet freedom's song; Let mortal tongues awake, let all that breathe partake, While rocks their silence break, the song prolong.
Our father's God, to Thee, author of liberty, to Thee we sing Long may our land be bright, with freedom's holy light; Protect us by thy might—Great God—our King.

Wall From Sitka.

Sitka, Alaska, June 17.—The long existing feud between Juneau and this city over the question of the location of the capital has broken out again with increased animosity. By reason of progressive hustle, Juneau stole a march on Sitka and had the location of the United States court changed from Sitka to that city. Every effort has been made by Juneau citizens to have the capital changed and, failing in that, an appeal has been made to move the United States land office for this district to Juneau. The matter has been taken up by the land department at Washington, and while no decision has been made, it can be safely predicted that the land office will remain where it is for the present, and that when a change of location is made it will be undoubtedly to the westward rather than to the eastward.
The correspondence between headquarters and Sitka has been voluminous. On a suggestion from the main office, the local office submitted recommendations relative to the location of the land office for this district. The recommendations consist of many sheets of closely type written matter containing the opinions of representative men of Skagway, Juneau, Sitka, Valdez and other places. All except those from Juneau and Skagway including Special Agent C. C. Georgeson, of the agricultural department, and Messrs. Dudley and Apperson, of the land office, concur in recommending a point to the westward when a change is to be made.
Prof. Georgeson does not hesitate to recommend Valdez, although he says the office should stay in its present location for the time being, and adds that the mining and railroad interests at that place point to Valdez as the capital of Alaska in the not distant future.
Roll Bros., of this city, who have large interests in the country to the westward, strongly advocate that the office remain in Sitka, as this city is the natural distributing port for mails to all parts of Alaska.
Mr. Apperson, receiver of the land office, was outspoken in his opinion that the office should remain where it is for the present and should never be removed to the eastward. He says the business of the office shows that more mineral surveys are made west of Sitka than east of it. Nearly all the agricultural land lies west of here. In addition there has been so material increase in the business from the eastward during the past year, while the west has shown tremendous gains.

To Hunt for Treasure.

Those having an aptitude for searching for lost treasure are likely to have their attention directed shortly to a new field of investigation. The failure of the Cocon Island expedition a few years ago is not going to deter other Victorians from conducting operations of a similar character, and next week will see at least one if not two parties away for the north on missions of this kind. And all hinges on the dying confession of a man in Seattle a year or two ago, which was republished in the local papers from the Seattle Post-Int-elligencer.
According to this story the man shortly after his arrival in Seattle took violently ill and when on his death bed told of having fallen into possession of the wealth which is exciting the minds of those now about to set out in search of it. There is $160,000 of the money, and it is buried on an islet no larger than a few newspapers spread out are square. It is situated on the northern coast of British Columbia, and as it does not appear on the chart and as entire ignorance appears to have prevailed heretofore regarding its location or identity, the man's story could never be verified.
It appears to have been quite forgotten until a few weeks ago, when a couple of mariners became interested and began consulting some of the local authorities on nautical affairs. But they have never found definitely the location of the island, and according to the statements of a Vancouver gentleman to a Times representative they are a long way off the proper scent. This party, who is the manager of a Fraser river cannery, says that he knows the island well and since his attention has been drawn to the matter he has determined to make a personal search for the money.
He is going north any way next week, having business of a different nature to transact in connection with the same trip. On the way he will drop off at the island and with pick and shovel examine the earth or rock where the treasure is supposed to be hidden.

His name he does not wish to have divulged at present, for he does not know what amount of credence can be placed on the dying testimony of the man who claims to have secreted the treasure.—

GLORIOUS FOURTH

Day Began at Midnight With Mighty Din From Small Artillery.

STREETS WERE CROWDED ALL NIGHT

With a Jostling, Good Natured Crowd From the Creeks.

DAY IS MOST PERFECT ONE.

City Appropriately and Handsomely Decorated for Occasion—My Country, 'Tis of Thee.

Strictly in accordance with time honored custom, America's greatest holiday, the glorious Fourth of July, celebrating today the 125th anniversary of the severance of the ties from the mother country, was ushered, in last night at midnight with a fusillade of fire arms, big and little. All night long the streets were filled with a good natured, elbowing, jostling crowd of humanity, a great many of whom have come in from the creeks to enjoy the sports and celebrate the day. The theaters and other public places of amusement were taxed to the utmost.
This morning the sun rose upon as perfect a day as could be wished for; warm and pleasant yet not swelteringly hot as is so often the case this time of the year in less favored climes. The last detail necessary in the arrangements was completed yesterday evening and nothing remains wanting to make the day one long to be remembered.
Until late in the evening workmen were engaged in the construction of the grandstand adjoining the Yukon dock from which all the sports can be seen.
The only event transpiring in the forenoon was the ball game played on the barracks grounds. The Dawson Military band under the direction of Edwin Bates Lyons discoursed music throughout the day.

His Raft Departed.
Wm. J. Onstett who is running a chicken ranch in the Indian river district recently cut a large raft of wood on the bank of the river intending to take the logs to his ranch for the purpose of making chicken coops and other necessary improvements on his ranch with them. He had the raft all nicely tied together ready for towing to his ranch to which he returned for assistance.
As he had cut the logs several miles below his ranch the trip occupied three or four days and when he returned to the place on the 21st of May where he left the raft he found nothing but a piece of the rope which had held it to the tree to which it had been tied.
He was very much surprised to discover the absence of the raft, and thinking that perhaps it had met with foul play he immediately commenced a search and found it securely buoyed in the slough above Dawson. He demanded its return from the party who had possession but the demand was refused and yesterday he issued a complaint against C. Henness charging him with stealing loose and taking possession of his raft and refusing to give same back to rightful owner. The case will be heard before the magistrate in the police court tomorrow.
