No Abrogation of Treaty.
Ottawa, Sept. 19.—The request of the Dominion Trades and Labor Congress for the abrogation of the treaty between Canada and Japan has not yet been transmitted to Sir Wilfrid Laurier, but when it is there can be but one answer.
The desire of the Dominion Cabinet is an understanding not only with Japan, but with India, too, which will prevent the flooding of the labor market in British Columbia with Japanese or Hindoos.
There is good ground for believing that through the exercise of a little patience this object will be shortly accomplished.

GROWING OLD BEFORE YOUR TIME.

Broken in spirit, weak in body, nervous and discouraged. Something is wrong and each day sees you fading away. Just one thing to do—build up. To do this, use Ferrozone. What a tonic it is! Appetite, why it makes you eat tremendously. Digest, instead you will. Rich, red blood will carry nourishment to every corner of the body, tired organs take new life, color, spirit and ambition are restored. Perfect manhood and abundant health is the unfailing product of Ferrozone—try it, 50c. a box everywhere.

Boy Injured in Runaway.

Barton, Ont., Sept. 19.—Tuesday evening Robert Henderson, aged 14, was driving from his home in the city to Westminster, when his horse was frightened by an automobile, and ran away.
Henderson was thrown out and got entangled in the reins and was dragged 30 yards, sustaining a fracture of the leg.

Sign Arbitration Treaty.

The Hague, Sept. 19.—The general treaty of arbitration negotiated here by the delegates of Italy and Argentina to the Peace Conference, was signed in the Hall of Knights here yesterday by the delegations of the two countries.

ALMOST DEAD OF BRONCHITIS.

Few people have suffered more than John P. Taylor, of Dymont, P.
O., Ont. To-day he is well and writes, "I must tell you how much Catarrh-hose has been to me. I was so bad with bronchitis sometimes that I thought it would soon be over with me. A spell of choking would come on that left me prostrated and weak.
Since using Catarrhose I have had no trouble at all. It strengthened my throat, stopped the cough, gave me free breathing and entirely cured." Just the usual experience. Catarrh-hose invariably cures whether bronchitis, asthma or Catarrh. Two sizes, 25c and $1.00, at all dealers.

"WANDA," A HUMAN BOMB.

Planned to Blow Up Secret Police by Smothering Hereof.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 18.—The girl yesterday arrested young girl, nicknamed Wanda, who is accused of participation in a plot to blow up the headquarters of the secret police, situated on the Moika Canal, whose torture chambers have aroused most bitter feelings on the part of the revolutionaries.
The police claim that Wanda planned to become a "walking bomb" and enter the headquarters building in the middle of the day, when it is generally full of police, wearing the uniform of a gendarme officer, lined with wads of gunpowder and carrying powerful bombs.

Wanda, the police add, hoped by blowing herself up to reduce the entire building to ruins and kill all the officers composing the staff of the political police. The plot was betrayed and the police, in addition to taking Wanda into custody, arrested a Jewish tailor, in whose shop they seized a half ready uniform, which was intended for the female prisoner.
In consequence of the murderous designs of the revolutionists, the secret police have decided to give up their present headquarters, removing to an isolated stone building on Kam-enny Island, where an elaborate electric signal system will be installed in order to prevent undermining.

OVERTAKEN BY NAUSEA.

You don't know if it's going to stop down or come up. You feel like thirty cents and look even worse. If one thing is quicker than another, it's "Nerviline." Ten drops in sweetened water gives relief instantly. Almost like magic is the change you experience. The cause of the nausea is removed, every symptom of vomiting and indigestion is cured within ten minutes. When Pol-son's Nerviline is so trustworthy and economical, a bottle at home wouldn't be amiss. Large ones for a quarter at all dealers.

FAMOUS JUDGE AND JESTER.

Wit of Scottish Bench Who Lived in Five Reigns.

The death is announced of Lord Young, who passed away in a private nursing home in the West End of London. His Lordship, who was in his 88th year, met with an accident when walking through the Temple, and the shock hastened his end.
The cause of death is certified as cerebral hemorrhage and old age.
His remains were removed to Edinburgh for interment. Born when George III. was still on the throne, his title was purely honorary—lived in five reigns. He was still at Edinburgh University when Lord John Russell was fighting on behalf of his Reform Bill, and before Queen Victoria had been three years on the throne he was making a name at the Scottish Bar. For over 30 years he was a judge of the Court of Session, Edinburgh, retiring only two years ago, and his long association was pleasantly seasoned with the salt of a ready wit. Before his nomination to the judgeship by Mr. Gladstone he made his mark in the House of Commons, where he represented the Wig-town Burghs in the Scotch constituency. He was twice elected Scottish General to Scotland and Lord Advocate.
It has been said of Lord Young that he was the only judicial bench-man of whom Scotland could boast.
One of the shrews attributed to him was that there are three degrees of those who bear the name of Scotchmen: the first, the second, and the third.
In the case of a Scotchman, the philanthropist, an advocate, a judge who gave to the poor last of the Lord.

Lord Young, I'm afraid we can-na cash your name's post office in this court."

A Heavy Premium.

Another of his sayings was that the gift of half a million to the Church of Scotland by the late Mr.
James Baird, the brewmaster, was the heaviest free insurance premium ever paid. "He was giving the money when some one told Lord Walmer had been returned by three votes for West Edinburgh. The next arrival explained that the figures should have been 300, and that two Lords of Session, whom he named, had voted for Lord Walmer. "They were right for the two ciphers," said Lord Young.
Going on as usual with the late Lord Deas, when it was the custom to open the court with prayer, Lord Young remarked at luncheon afterwards, "Very long prayer that fellow gave us to-day, but, after all, I suppose it's quite right when Deas goes in an circuit that the attention of the Almighty should be specially called to the fact." When one of the Lords Ordinary in the outer House of the Court of Session, Young had a somewhat heavy roll of business, sometimes owing to a vacancy. "The Bench having been kept open longer than usual. One of his colleagues at the time was Lord Craighill, and the new judge, when at last he was appointed, took the title of Lord Curriehill. On the appointment being announced Lord Young gratefully accepted the first two lines of the 131st Psalm:

I to the "hills" will lift mine eyes, From whence doth come mine aid.

Lord Young's speeches and stories were always good. At the banquet which followed the ceremony of conferring upon him the freedom of Dumfries, four years ago, he told the company a story about his father who in the old days owned some very fine apple trees.

Raids Upon Fruit.

There were many raids made upon the fruit, and Lord Young's father laid hold of a likely youth one day and offered him half-a-crown if he would give a hint as to who was responsible. The boy accepted the money on the condition that when the culprit's name was disclosed he would not be punished. In telling this story Lord Young caused much merriment by turning to the Provost of the town, who was in the chair, and asking him what he did with the half-a-crown. His Lordship was one of the last links with Robert Burns. He knew Jean Armour, Burns' widow, and frequently partook of hospitality in the house in which the poet had lived, and in which Burn's children and the poet's grand-nephew, who lived with Jean Armour, regularly visited his father's house.
Lord Young was one of the benchers of the Middle Temple, and though his visits were rare, he was one of the most popular of the Masters. He excepting only the King, who from the time of his election when Prince of Wales of course took priority.

British Heroes' Rewards.

Gold medals and $30,000 has been presented by the Carnegie Hero Fund Commission to eight British heroes as tributes to their splendid pluck. The recipients are the captain and crew of seven of the British schooner Elsie, the award being made for their heroic attempt to save those aboard the steamer Larchmont, which was sunk in Long Island Sound, New York, on February 11. During a terrific gale, when the thermometer was nearly at zero, the Larchmont collided with a three-masted schooner Harry Knowlton and sank in a few minutes. The Elsie stood by, and the crew, at great personal risk, picked up as many survivors as possible. The Larchmont, says the "Express," was an old-fashioned, wooden, three-decked paddle steamer plying between Providence (Rhode Island) and New York. A number of passengers who managed to leave the sinking steamer in boats or on rafts were afterwards swept away by the mountainous seas or frozen to death. Between 175 and 200 persons were lost, and a number of those rescued afterwards died from exposure.

Women have more wit than humor.
They are more sensitive than men.
Their minds are nimble. Their ened that I could hardly move about, and a little work caused me great agony. The pain of this grand pain, and I am thankful to Zam-Buk who has cured me." Zam-Buk also cures hemorrhoids, piles, stiffness, itching, smarting, chafing, sore feet, rough red skin patches, and all skin diseases and diseases. Druggists everywhere. A box, of Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, 5 cents.

Illness, Worry, Suicide.

Woodstock, Sept. 19.—Catherine Sarah Howell, aged 54 years, the wife of George H. Treffry, who lives two miles east of Hawtry, committed suicide by swallowing the contents of a four-ounce bottle of carbolic acid. The rash deed was the result of worry, as the deceased's husband had been ill for a long time. An inquest is deemed unnecessary.

What a splendid type of tireless activity is the sun as the psalmist describes it issuing like a bride- groom from his chamber and rejoic- ing like a strong man to run a race." Every man ought to rise in the morning refreshed by alumber and renewed by rest, eager for the struggle of the day. But how rarely this is so. Most people rise still unrefreshed, and dread the strain of the day's labor. The cause of this is deficient vitality and be- hind this lies a deficient supply of pure, rich blood, and an inadequate nourishment of the body. There is nothing that will give a man en- ergy and strength, as will Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, discovered by increasing the quan- tity and quality of the blood sup- ply. This nourishes the nerves, feeds the brain, builds up enfeebled organs and gives sense of strength and power which makes the strug- gle of life a joy. The "good feel- ing" which follows the use of "Gold- en Medical Discovery" is not due to stimulation, as it contains no stim- ulant. The ingredients are plainly stated on the bottle-wrappers. It does not "brace-up" the body, but it puts it into a condition of sound and vigorous health.

WIPE OUT MONTE CARLO

ENGLISH WRITER CALLS IT HOME OF SUICIDE AND CRIME.

Suggestion in London Times That Nations Obliterate It—Received With Widespread Approval—Plague Spot of Europe—Thousands Are Ruined Every Year—Haunt of All Kinds of Adventurers.

An interesting letter in The Times, signed "Indicus," suggests that it is time an end should be put to Monte Carlo, the plague spot of Europe.

"Before this hideous Monte Carlo tragedy ceases to be a nine-days' wonder," writes "Indicus," "I would suggest that it is time attention should be drawn to the fons et origo mali, the gambling rooms of that too notorious place.

"I speak as one who knows, having lived in the town of Monte Carlo, near the villa which the Countess de Montecarlo owned. How long are the numbers of Europe going to be the continuance of this plague spot in their midst?

"That is the question three should be asked in the press and chambers of every European country, where gambling is so much a part of the life, that they should either be overcoming numbers, or be made more subservient to the interests of the state, the gambling tables, made more subservient to the interests of the state,
servient to the interests of the state,

"The profits, I may state, coming from the tables, which average $1, 000,000 a year, are divided between the shareholders, the municipality, and the Prince of Monaco. On the game day the Countess de Montecarlo is the only one who is not a gambler, and she is the only one who is not a gambler, and she is the only one who is not a gambler, and she is the only one who is not a gambler,

Max Pemberton's Views.

Max Pemberton, the loyalist, who is an authority on Monte Carlo, has recently said that the diplomatic situation would make any such action difficult. "I cannot pronounce an opinion on a crime that is still untried," he said, "but one thing is clear—Monte Carlo is the home of every adventurer and adventurer in the world. It is therefore how many big swindlers and thieves have been planned at Monte Carlo.

The obvious cure of the place is that fools go there to make money out of the tables, and rogues go there to make money out of the fools. The atmosphere is most demoralizing to young people, who lose their heads, and also all sense of the value of money.

"Another great evil is that of pure English girls succumbing to the atmosphere. They are often bought in contact at the tables with undesirable persons, with whom they actually converse.

"The Government of every country is perfectly aware that Monte Carlo should be suppressed, but the diplomatic situation makes action impossible, and France, under whose protection Monte Carlo exists, is placed in a most difficult position.

"The authorities at Monte Carlo do their best to preserve order in the rooms, but it is perfectly impossible to keep out rogues of both sexes.
Wherever you have unrestricted gambling you will have attendant crime.

"I am convinced that the suppression of Monte Carlo would prove a more practical and nobler work for humanity than the advancement of impossible propositions at The Hague Peace Conference."

Suicides Hushed Up.

"The Monte Carlo Casino has been responsible for more suicides than any other institution of any kind in the world," a frequent visitor to the Riviera told a press representative recently.

"It is scarcely an exaggeration to say that thousands of people have committed suicide through being ruined at Monte Carlo. As a rule, the world hears little or nothing of such suicides, for it is not to the interest of the town to say much about them.
"Ruined players are continually jumping into the sea and getting drowned, or going to Paris or elsewhere, there to shoot themselves.

"But the suicides do not represent a tenth of the misery due to the Casino. So many people are broken by the loss of their money that it has been necessary to establish a relieving department, in order to get rid of the ruined players, who might otherwise commit suicide.

Fares Home Paid.

"Every day in the season a score or more of men and women apply to the Casino offices for a dote to pay their hotel bills and their fares home.
Some time ago a British officer, who had lost every penny, was given a free P. & O. ticket to Calcutta and $200. The sums paid out by the Casino range from $25 to $2,500.

"But in spite of this toll on its profits the Casino has made millions since the outbreak of the gambling war to break the bank. Last year its total receipts came to $7,540,400, an increase of $759,400 on the year before.
"After every expense had been defrayed there was close on $5,000,000 for distribution among the shareholders, at the rate of $70 a share. This was equal to 70 per cent on the original value of the shares.

"The curse of Monte Carlo is not merely that it is responsible for the ruin of hundreds of men and women," he concluded, "but that it entails undeserved wretchedness on their families, who often have to suffer, not only privation, but great mental anguish, directly due to the evil influence of the gambling tables.

"It is a forcing bed for crime.
"The spot is the most beautiful one on the Riviera, and has the finest climate for invalids. It is time that such a place was rid of the curse of the gambling den."

SOME REASONS WHY

the confidence of the Canadian public in was never so great as at present—

- (1) Because the Company's record has been clean throughout the 37 years it has been in operation.
- (2) Because its plans of insurance are up-to-date and just what the insuring public requires.
- (3) Because its policy-holders are eminently well satisfied with the results realized under their policies.
- (4) Because the general public is beginning to find out the good things the Company has in store for its policy-holders, and
- (5) Because, being purely mutual, its policy-holders are more than customers—they are co-partners in the Company—sharing equitably in all its benefits.

COLD STORAGE IS NEEDED.

Why Canadian Produce Does Not

James Reach Merchants, Manchester, England, addressing the Canadian Association, suggested that the cause of the decline in exports of Canadian butter and cheese to Manchester is lack of a reliable butter cold storage plant at Manchester. He suggested that arrangements be made for the storage of butter and cheese in cold storage plants at Manchester and New Zealand and thought similar arrangements might be made for the preservation of Canadian produce. The Canadian authorities appreciated the validity of the suggestion regarding Canadian cheese that had been shipped in "green" state, and were doing their best to remove all cause of dissatisfaction.

J. B. Dodds said he desired to assure Canadians of English sympathy in these efforts to extend trade, but pointed out that in business circles sentiment was of no avail. R. Graham wished to know if the Canadian authorities were disposed to assist in the provision of a cold storage place on this side as the Australian people had, and was it true that Canadian farmers continued to restrict supplies and so keep up prices? Mr. Rudick said it was not the policy of the Canadian Government to establish storage outside the Dominion. Regarding farmers complaining, there was no truth in Mr. Graham's suggestion.

Stomach troubles, Heart and Kid- ney ailments, can be quickly cor- rected with a prescription known to druggists everywhere as Dr. Shoop's Restorative. The prompt and sur- prising relief which this remedy immediately brings is entirely due to its Restorative action upon the controlling nerves of the Stomach, etc.

A weak Stomach, causing dyspepsia, a weak Heart with palpitation or intermittent pulse, always means weak Stomach nerves or weak Heart nerves. Strengthen these inside or controlling nerves with Dr. Shoop's Restorative and see how quickly these
