Elopement of a Farmer with a Youn, Woman-His Wife and Family Left Pen niless. LONDON, Nov. 25 .- A disgraceful case o elopement has been brought to the attention of the public here by a farmer from the township of Metcalfe, who enquired at the Grand Trunk railway city ticket office if a man whom he described had purchased two tickets for San Francisco one day last week. The agent said a person answering the description had procured two tickets. The stranger then stated that the man's name was Mears, and that he had eloped with a young. woman from the townsnip of Metcalfe, and left a wife and five children entirely uppro-vided for. It appears that on Tues-day last Mears sold his farm, having prevailed upon his wife to sign the necessar papers, and came to London with the $1,00 he obtained, in order to invest to advantage After purchasing the tickets he got on board the Great Western railway Windsor accommodation, and left the train at Glencoe, where he hired a horse and buggy, stating that he purposed attending a dance at a certain place in the township of Metcalfe, and would return early in the morning. The rig was given him, and he repaired to the place,

> KINGSTON, Nov. 25.-At the quarterly meeting of the Bay of Quinte Clerical Union held at Napanee, a letter from J. D. Burke, rector of Belleville, was read. It brought the subject of the "Salvation Army" before the Union. This letter was a strong protest against what was termed all such "fahtastic movements," and urging unflinching opposition on three grounds, which were dwelt at length-first, " Because the whole thing is schismatical :" second, " Because it is pro fane, and even blasphemous ;" third, cause it is eminently dangerous to souls." The archdeacon then laid before the members a letter enclosing all the papers connected with the "Church Army," a kind of rival i England to the "Salvation Army," and which is endeavouring to reach the same class of people on the more sober lines of the Church of England. The "Church Army" is under the direction of the Rev. W. Carlyle, an gminent clergyman, lately curate of Kensi

The aldermen rushed from the chamber in a body and failed to return.

A petition was presented yesterday to the Local Government, signed by nearly four hundred residents of the township of Etobicoke and neighbourhood, representing that the continued holding of the lands and premises purchased by the Government for the purpose of a model farm at Mimico, was in many respects detrimental to the interests of the township.

A motion was made on Tuesday before Mr Justice Armour to admit to bail the prisoner Dunn, who is in gaol at Ottawa on a charge The man has been in goal since 1881, his trial having been postponed on different occasions. His Lordship refused the motion, but stated that if Dunn was not tried at the next assizes, he would admit him to bail on his own recognizance.

A petition is being signed in the county of York praying the Dominion Government to release ex-Constable Albert, convicted of praying the Dor shocting the boy Young at High park. The convict was committed to the Provincial pen tentiary for twenty years, and as the unfor tunate man has a wife and large family in poor circumstances his old friends and neigh bours are anxious to secure his release.

About a month ago an application was made by Mr. John Stenhouse for a writ o mandamus to compel the License Commissioners for the district of Cardwell to issue or license to him for use at his hotel at the Forks of the Credit. The motion was refused, and an appeal from that decision was argued on Friday before the Queen's Bench ional Court, and was dismissed with eosts.

Marble tablets to the memory of the Rev. Dr. Topp, Rev. Dr. Burns, Rey. Jas. Harris, and Hon. Jno. McMurrich have been placed in in Knox church, Toronto. South Renfrew Election.

The Chancellor has, we understand, de ivered a final memorandum of his judgment this case on the point as to whether Dr. Dowling should be disqualified or not. He He still holds the opinion formed at the trial, remarking that John Foley alone should be reported for corrupt practices, and saying the evidence shows that Dr. Dowling treated to some extent before the nomination under the impression that he could legally do so, but that after being nominated and until the close of the poll he did no treating whatever. His conduct in drinking at unlicensed places while he was License Inspector was unwarrantable in the extreme, but is no breach of the election law, and should not prejudicially affect his status under sections 161 and 162. The result is that in the opinion of both udges who tried the case, the election is avoided with costs. Judge Cameron going still further and disqualifying the respondent

Sent for Trial for Destroying a Bond, GUELPH, Nov. 23 .- The preliminary exam nation of a somewhat unusual case was held at the Police Coart this morning, John Bunyan, a prominent hotel-keeper of this city, eing charged with destroying a bond valued The history of the document is as follows :- When the city was endeavouring to secure the Provincial Exhibition for 1883. and sent a deputation to Kingston for that parpose, the hotel-keepers of the city gave the Mayor a bond for $650, thirteen of them agreeing to pay the city $50 each in the event of the Provincial being held here in 1883. Only one of the subscribers had paid up, and all endeavours to collect from the having failed, it was moved at the last meeting of the City Council to place the bond in the hands of the City Solicitor, with instructions to take proceedings against thos who had not paid. Mayor Chase was on his way to the city tor's office with the paper in his pocket

fast to Very Rev. Dean Baldwin in the Wind-sor this morning was indeed a demonstration of hearty sympathy and attachment to him which any clergyman or public man in this Dominion might be heartily proud of, as no doubt the distinguished guest was. The ladies and gentlemen who assembled or the occasion were most unmistakably the representatives of all the Protestant ominations in the city, and although it was a cheerful gathering outwardly, vet there were mingled feelings of regret within that the eminent and beloved dean was about to sever his connection with the city, although

The fact is the Road Committee of th corporation has allowed some $200,000 to be squandered this year, with an overdraft o ifteen or twenty thousand more, and have had no scavengers on the streets for week past. The result with the wet weather w have had is a regular sea of mud alternated with ponds of muddy water. An investiga tion has been called for into the road depart ment to ascertain what has become of the noney, or where it has been spent during the later part of the summer ? There was no money to pay for watering the streets, and storekeepers met with heavy losses from the londs of dust. Now that the rain has com the appropriation is exhausted again, and there are no funds to clean away the mud. There are few cities of this size whose inhabitants would submit to the treatment Mont-

Seven Men Buried Alive.

A serious accident happened at Lachine the other day which might have caused the death of forty persons, a portion of the building of the Bridge Company, now in course of erection, having fallen in, burying several men under the runs. During the high wind which prevailed the end of the east building fell in with a tremendous erash. A gang of workmen who were engag ed inside were warned of their peril by shower of bricks, and a moment later the whole end of the wall, which is 21 feet thick
