Indigestion & Dyspepsia

In all its forms can be cured.

It is quite a daily occurrence to hear persons say: Oh, what a feeling of distress I have after meals, fullness of the stomach, heaviness and headache, I feel too tired to do anything. I have no heart to exert myself and at times I care for nothing. I often have a pain in the pit of my stomach, no appetite, my heart beats rapidly on the slightest exertion. I feel just as tired when rising in the morning as when retiring to bed. My sleep is often disturbed, and I often awake with a sense of suffocation and a difficulty of again going to sleep. I have to be careful of what I eat, and my life seems a veritable burden.

Now, it seems a shame and a pity for persons to be suffering like that when it is in their power to get cured by taking a Bottle of Dr. Stafford's Prescription A. A sure cure for persons afflicted with stomach troubles. It can be obtained of

DR. F. STAFFORD & SON, Duckworth Street and Theatre Hill.

RECIPROCITY.

Editor Evening Telegram.

Sir.—It is pleasing to see an occasional letter and editorial on this subject, even if we cannot agree on all points. I cannot understand how it is that our newspapers and politicians do not take a firmer grip of this most important matter.

I do not believe that they recognize one-tenth of the advantages that Newfoundland would gain if we had the free entry of our fish and fishery products into the United States, with its ninety millions of people.

Neither do they recognize the crisis that will be quickly brought to Newfoundland merchants if Canada gets the advantage of Reciprocity and Newfoundland is excluded.

Mr. John Harvey dwells on the great advantage that Canada will gain by the free entry of salt codfish to the Porto Rican market as well as the demand for boneless codfish to the United States. He is right; but there is more to be said.

When Reciprocity is confirmed the Nova Scotians look for the greatest expansion of their fish trade in supplying fresh codfish from their four great centres of cold storage—Canso, Halifax, Lunenburg and Lockport.

With two fast steamers fitted with cold storage compartments visiting these centres bi-weekly, they would reach regularly, within two days, the cities of Boston, New York, Baltimore and Philadelphia, with a supply of choice fresh fish that would create an instantaneous demand at remunerative prices.

The fish merchants of Nova Scotia know that no fisherman will take the trouble, expense or risk to cure his codfish if he can get an equal price (cash down) for all the fresh fish he can land on the wharves of these big cold storage warehouses. Neither will the consumer buy salt codfish when he can get it fresh in a choice state.

This will meet one of the great cries of the United States to-day—a larger supply of cheaper food for the masses. This will be the first big expansion of the fish trade for Canada as soon as Reciprocity is confirmed.

The heavy duty and antagonistic laws enforced against Canada in the past has prevented the expansion of this business, but with the decline of the Gloucester fishing fleet and the high prices of food, the Government, at Washington have been forced to take a different view of this matter; hence their attitude towards Canada to-day.

This demand for fresh fish will curtail the supply of salt codfish caught annually from the inshore fishery of Nova Scotia. It will create a greater demand for the salt hank fish and increase the Lunenburg fishery at our expense, as Mr. Harvey has so clearly pointed out.

It would also make Nova Scotia the headquarters for salt fish, as we would have to work through them to get the best prices.

I need only point to the fact that the best brands of boneless codfish were worth 15 cents per pound in Gloucester the past winter, equal to $1.00 per quintal for salt codfish, to show what can be done with codfish when suitably cured and packed for markets that appreciate it.

Our politicians will receive a rude awakening one of these days when our fishermen see that those in power are not doing their utmost to develop a trade that will enhance the price of our great staple from six dollars per quintal to double that price.

The truth of the matter is that we have not caught on to the fact that the United States has entered on a new policy as regards fishery matters; that Gloucester is now a thing of the past; if we will only play our cards right, in a very short time the whole of Gloucester and its trade will be transferred to our shores.

Sir Edward Morris and his gallant lieutenant, Hon. Donald Morrison, have "built better than they knew" when they won from the Hague Tribunal such a satisfactory settlement last year. They rang the death-bell of Gloucester and gave the old fighter the knock-out blow.

This was the first time that Washington was made to mark the mark. Washington found that International questions cannot be treated like parish politics and that the "views" of Gloucester were untenable.

If the United States intends to take a place as a world power she must settle these questions rightly and justly, not selfishly as she has done in the past.

In conclusion I would say we have listened long enough to this talk by our newspapers about Loyalty, Confederation, Annexation etc., etc.

Cannot they recognize that the "storm in a tea-pot" which has been raging in Canada about annexation is nothing else but our hardy fishermen's Confederation bugbear.

The manufacturers in Canada have made immense fortunes by the protective tariff. They are now working over-time on this bugbear "Annexation" to stave off Reciprocity, and secure to themselves for another few years, the immense profits to be had by their protective tariff.

The Canadians are getting over their fright. If their loyalty is worth anything it cannot be influenced by the market or the price of wheat, pulp or fish.

In Newfoundland we all recognize, in our business to produce our fish as cheap as we can and sell it in the nearest market. Does the British Government complain because so little of our codfish goes to England now as compared with other years?

Do they think there is any danger of us changing our Nationality to Spaniards, Italians or Greeks because we get better prices in Spain, Italy or Greece than we get in England to-day? It is the very same thing with the American markets if we can get better prices for our fish there, we will sell in those markets but still remain British subjects.

Yours truly,
W. A. MUNN.

Sensational Charges.

Special to Evening Telegram.

OTTAWA, To-day.

Charges of a sensational character have been made by Sir Sandford Fleming, alleging an extraordinary misappropriation of capital in connection with the Cement Mergers.

They were made at a hearing before the Private Bills Committee of the House of Commons into the bill of the Company which seeks to create eleven millions debenture stock to be exchanged for debenture shares.

In addition to this measure, Sir Sandford forwarded correspondence to the Committee, objecting to the measure, and alleging that certain gentlemen, his associates, should account for thirteen million of watered stock obtained improperly, and by artifices he alleges. He asks for a parliamentary inquiry. Papers show that it is Mr. W. M. Allen, now manager of the Imperial House of Commons, who is hit at Mr. Orde, K.C., told the Committee he had investigated the matter and found it perfectly legal. There had been opposition to the bill on its general principle, but Sir Sandford's charges came as a bolt from the blue. A Parliamentary enquiry may be held.

Governor Visits Wood Factory.

His Excellency the Governor and Lady Williams paid a visit, yesterday to the Factory of the Johnston Wood Co., at Mount Seig, Long Pond Road.

Their Excellencies were shown over the plant by the capable and energetic manager, Mr. Leverman, who explained the working of the machinery in the different departments.

Both Sir Ralph and Lady Williams were very much pleased with their visit and expressed their approval of the excellent work being done, and the enterprise shown by the company. The management were delighted at the visit of their Excellencies and for the opportunity it afforded of demonstrating the excellence of the work being done by their staff of competent workmen.

Rod and Gun

THE MAY ROD AND GUN.

"In the land of Moose Bird" (the story of a trip eleven hundred miles by canoe and portage from the north shore of Lake Superior to Hudson's Bay, via the Albany river, forms the attractive feature of the May issue of Rod and Gun in Canada, published by W. J. Taylor Limited, Woodstock, Ontario.

The narrator is Mr. W. J. Malone, one of the most successful of the States who finds in the wilds of Canada advantages, from a holiday point of view, impossible to obtain elsewhere. Mr. Malone's writing is full of life and vigor and his narration is brightened by accounts of incidents by no means usual—even in exploratory trips to the north.

The route taken was one few white men, apart from Hudson's Bay employees, have followed and the story is the more interesting on that account. With such a good opening the reader is led on to the other articles and stories and in particular should attention be directed to the paper on Big Game Problems and the destructiveness of Wolves. Accounts of western hunts are also good and should interest hunters in eastern and central Canada.

Why Queen Mary Chose Carnations

AS CORONATION FLOWER.

The pink carnation is the official Coronation flower, so Queen Mary has decreed. Immediately this decree was heard, pink began to flood from London shops, until the whole world of clothes began to take on a tinge of rose.

Some lady of the court, knowing the Queen to be quite fond of violets, asked her how she came to select the carnation.

"Because it is within the reach of the common people," was the reply. "I want every loyal subject to wear the Coronation flower as often as he can. Another reason for my choice is the gayety of the bright light flower. We have been in mourning so long that we must go to the other extreme in order to dispel the shadows of our bereavement."

Having in remembrance the avidity with which Dame Fashion adopted the black and white of the English court during the past winter and the prevalence of those colors in clothes, it is safe to say pink will be the rage, and we may look for Coronation visitors to return with their trunks a medley of this refreshing color.

Added to the present popular fancy for Helen pink, there seems to be no limit to the pink season. The vivid shade named in compliment to Miss Helen Taft, daughter of the President, is seen on a majority of the smart millinery and dress creations. With two first ladies of two powerful countries declaring their preference for the shade of happiness, buyers feel perfectly safe in crowding their shops with pink; and as the color is almost universally becoming, it is apt to have a long vogue.—Washington Star.

Not Unfriendly.

Special to Evening Telegram.

ST. PETERSBURG, To-day.

A semi-official denial of rumours that Russia and Japan are negotiating a common plan of action inimical to China has been issued here.

The statement declares that the principal task of Russia in the East is to maintain friendly relations with China.

Is It True?

Rumour had it yesterday about the city that Mr. John Bennett, member for St. John's West, will be slated for appointment as Postmaster General, and that Hon. H. J. B. Woods is to be retired on a pension.

We do not vouch for the accuracy of the report, but give it for what it is worth. If the appointment is made none will begrudge the job to Mr. Bennett who is a popular man, but the taxpayers will strenuously resent the change as they see now the extravagance going on in the creation of new charges to the revenue.

Port de Grave Notes.

Now that spring has opened and the warm weather has set in, the fishermen are busy making preparations, some for the Labrador, others for the home fishery.

Herring have been plentiful here during the past fortnight and some of the men have secured good catches. Most of the herring are sold fresh.

The schr. Alexander, A. Bussey, master, sailed from Bay Roberts on Tuesday for Trinity Bay to purchase a load of firewood, which article has now become very scarce around Conception Bay. The schr. Constance, J. Morgan, master, also sailed from Port de Grave on the same trip.

Skipper John Butler, of the schr. Pilot, arrived from St. John's yesterday with a load of freight for merchants around the bay.

Mr. Ben Bishop and family have gone to St. John's, where they will reside in future, he having secured a position as watchman at the Rope-walk.

Mr. Abraham Tucker, who has been ill for a long time, was ordered to Hospital by Dr. Tait of Brigus. He left yesterday accompanied by Rev. F. Severn and two others.

Mr. P. McCarthy, who had been employed here as telegraph operator, left for his home, Carbonear, yesterday. Since coming here he has taught the business to Mr. Wm. Christopher, who took charge of the office yesterday, after receiving an appointment by the P. M. G. Congratulations!
