

Reconstruction, of course! When the great war is over, shattered Europe must be rebuilt. Mediaeval architecture, crumbled by cannon, will be replaced by well-lighted, well-ventilated, convenient and sanitary buildings of the present day. In this tremendous rebuilding,

Certain-teed Roofing

will play a leading role; for CERTAIN-TEED is the twentieth century answer to the demand for roofing that is economical to buy, easy to lay and inexpensive to maintain.

CERTAIN-TEED Roofing is made in rolls; also in slate-surfaced shingles. There is a type of CERTAIN-TEED for every kind of building, with flat or pitched roof, from the largest sky-scraper down to the smallest residence or out-building.

It makes a clean, sanitary, attractive roof, with a very low cost per year of life. It is guaranteed for 5, 10 or 15 years, according to ply (1, 2 or 3). Experience proves that it outlasts the period of guarantee.

If you are interested in roofs, investigate CERTAIN-TEED before you decide upon the type to buy. You will find CERTAIN-TEED for sale by responsible dealers all over the world.

The long life of CERTAIN-TEED is due to the quality of the roofing felt and the character of the asphalt saturation. This is a blend of soft asphalt prepared by the General's board of expert chemists. The highest quality roofing felt is thoroughly saturated with this soft blend, and is then coated with a blend of harder asphalt, which prevents the drying-out process so destructive to ordinary roofing.

Reception to Mr. and Mrs. Sutherland.

The congregation of St. Paul's Church, Fredericton, tendered a reception to their new minister and his wife, Rev. and Mrs. J. S. Sutherland, on Wednesday evening, of this week. The people of the congregation were present in large numbers besides a good sprinkling of others in the community generally. Several good vocal and instrumental musical selections were rendered. Addresses were made appropriate to the occasion by the Chairman, W. M. Burns; Rev. J. H. A. Anderson, of St. John, who acted as interim moderator of session during the vacancy; Rev. J. E. Wilson, Baptist; Rev. Thomas Marshall, Methodist; Rev. Canon Cowie, Anglican; Dr. A. S. Carter, superintendent of education; Principal Bridges, of the Normal school; Chancellor Jones and Prof. Kierstead, of the University of New Brunswick. Rev. Mr. Sutherland replied. The ladies served refreshments. In view of the St. Paul's people being at present without a hall, due to the erection of a new building, the officers of Brunswick Street Baptist Church very generously placed the school room of their church at the disposal of the Presbyterians for the evening.—St. John Daily Telegraph.

Sudden Death of Jos. Fitzgibbon

Shortly after midnight Saturday, at the residence of Mr. J. McManus, 12 Sebastian Street, an unfortunate man named Jos. Fitzgibbon died suddenly. He has no relatives and for some time was accustomed to spend from Saturday night to Monday morning at the home of Mr. McManus. The deceased arrived at the place mentioned late Saturday night and after partaking of a meal was taken suddenly ill and shortly after passed away. Mr. McManus, accompanied by Wm. Callaghan, reported the matter to the police and Sergt. Savage was sent to investigate and had the remains removed to the Morgue.

SLUMP IN READING.

We haven't time for magazines, nor patience for romances, for touring cars and limousines have altered circumstances. We used to sit before the fire, and read the story papers; the genius who puns is a sounding lyres, and all that bunch of fellers. We read up Homer, Milton, Bill—old Bill, the Bard of Avon, and strained our intellects until we had to rub some salve on. The bookstores got our extra change, when we went forth shopping; but now, alas—'tis sad and strange—old customs we are dropping. Ere I went duff on gasoline, and tires and clutch and starter, I bought the works of Anna Green and Bertha Clay and Carter. I read all kinds of helpful tomes, I read the tales of Sherlock Holmes, and stored my mind with knowledge. But now my books have vanished clean with all their buckram facings; they had to go for gasoline and inner tubes and castings. I gave John Milton for a tire, and Pope to fix a puncture; I go to soak my priceless lyre, to buy gas, at this juncture.

Rod and Gun.

November Rod and Gun contains a list of good things for the Sportsman reader. "Budd" by Jean Stevinson, tells of a narrow escape from a pack of pursuing wolves. "Moose Meat for Morrison's Mine" describes an adventure with a too zealous informer. "Highways of the North" pictures the beauties of some of our most northern rivers and describes their methods of transportation. "Hunting Big Game in the Selkirk" is a story of billy goats and bear in B. C. "Bear Hunting Where Old Louis Lives" is a tale of Northern Quebec. "The Creech in 'The Barn'" is a story of the adventures of a weasel family. There are besides other stories and articles just as interesting as those mentioned, and in addition the regular departments. The magazine is published by W. J. Taylor, Limited, Woodstock, Ont. and is a worthy exponent of Canadian outdoor life.

Early Shopping.

If compliance with the wishes of the Importers' Association, the majority of the general public, we hear, who had any shopping to do, visited the stores early on Saturday. The result was that the various business houses did as much, if not more, trade than under the old system, besides the clerks did not get their usual Saturday night jading, to avoid the rush system suits all concerned best.

"Pastor" Russel, Brooklyn, Dead.

Unique Figure Among the Ministers of All Creeds And Sects.

New York, N. Y., Nov. 1.—"Pastor" Charles T. Russell who died yesterday in Texas on a train that was bringing him back to his work in New York, stood for more than a quarter of a century an unique figure among the ministers of all creeds and sects. He belonged to no denomination and attracted widespread attention through his varied activities and methods of publicity. He was pastor of churches all over the country and travelled nearly 20,000 miles each year in pursuance of his duties; but made his headquarters at his Tabernacle in Brooklyn. He always disclaimed being the founder of a new religion and said he based his preachings only on the Bible. In 1915 his sermons were printed in 1900 newspapers throughout the country. He was the author of a series of books on Scripture study of which it was said several hundred thousand copies were printed each year. Pastor Russell started his career as manager of a chain of furnishing stores in Allegheny, Pa., but in 1878 he left this business and began to preach. He was president of the Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society of Pennsylvania, the International Bible Students' Association of London and the People's Pulpit Association of New York and editor of the Watch Tower and Herald a semi-monthly journal.
